MUNICIPAL TREE IS FOR THE POOR TOTS

Commissioner Butler Says There Will Be Plenty of Candy for All Who Visit Auditorium.

FOOD FOR FIFTY FAMILIES This is to be Distributed by Autos to Families Authorized by the Associated Charities and Visiting Nurses.

City Commissioner Dan E. Butler has announced the musical program for the Christmas services at the Auditorium Thursday evening, when candy will be distributed from a municipal Christmas tree to all the poor little children of the city.

Commissioner Butler said: "Fifty families will be given big Christmas dinners Thursday. All the food and clothing and money will be distributed in the afternoon and nothing will be given out Thursday night at the Auditorium except candy for the children. There will be enough candy for all the poor children of the city. We have secured a list of fifty needy families from the Associated Charities and the Visiting Nurse association."

Distribute Food Thursday. Automobiles have been secured by "Transportation Chief" Claude F. Bossard and the distribution of the donations will be done quickly.

Manufacturers Slow Furnishing Totals for Year's Business

Stop Boys Learn Through The Bee Mother Back Home

As a result of the publicity given their case by The Bee Lowell and Avar Stopf, aged 13 and 14, respectively, who beat their way from Denver to Omaha in an effort to be with their mother, who arrived here the week before, have ascertained the whereabouts of the parent and will return to her at Denver at the earliest convenience.

It develops that the mother came to Omaha with her married daughter, Mrs. Mary Herberger, and the latter's infant child a week ago last Saturday with a view to locating here. Upon arrival Mrs. Herberger appealed to the Helping Hand mission, 1319 Leavenworth street, and lodging was provided for herself, her child and her mother. They were sent back to Denver three days later, the county furnishing the transportation and the Associated Charities a Pullman berth, when it was learned from the county physician that Mrs. Stopf was seriously ill and would have to be taken to a higher altitude or she might die at any time.

It was through this series of incidents that the Helping Hand mission connected the case of the boys and got in touch with the youngsters and informed them that word had been received from their mother and that she was at their old home in Denver.

WOULD ALTER SCHOOL LAWS

Two Commissions Preparing Reports Work Along Same Lines. ONE NAMED BY THE GOVERNOR

Second Was Appointed by the Nebraska Farmers' Congress and Made its Report Here Two Weeks Ago.

With two commissions preparing reports and making recommendations for legislation to improve rural school conditions in the state, the educators of the rural communities are expecting some definite results this year along practical lines. One commission is that appointed by the governor, which has prepared a long report, now in the hands of the printer and soon to go to the governor and, eventually, to the legislature.

County Unit Plan. While one provides for a county unit plan of handling the schools of a county, the other provides for a commissioner system, which is said to be in effect the same thing.
