

Society

By MELLIFICIA. Tuesday, December 29, 1914.

SOCIETY maidens devised ingenious modes of according their respects to the Cornell musical clubs at the concert last evening at the American theater.

Several of the young girls in the Dr. B. B. Davis and J. J. Hanlifen boxes wore three circlets of crimson ribbons about the left wrist, while white costumes, with crimson girdles and crimson tulle butterfly bows, were much in evidence.

All members of the glee and mandolin clubs, as well as a number of Cornell men in the audience, favored white carnations with tiny crimson centers.

The ushers for the evening, who were local Cornell alumni, wore broad crimson satin ribbons across their gleaming white shirt fronts, like unto the manner in which the mock count in a musical comedy or stock company production wears his royal decoration.

For Cornell Men.

Mr. George B. Thummet entertained at dinner last evening in honor of several Cornell Glee club members. Those present were:

- Misses—Mary Burkley, Eugene Peters, Stella Thummet, Messrs—R. A. Joyce, Edgar, E. G. Sperry,

Lobeck Tells the City Dads About Nation's Capital

Congressman Charles O. Lobeck addressed the city commission. Prior to his address a vote was being taken on the granting of saloon licenses and Clerk Tom Flynn called Lobeck's name and asked for a vote.

"How did the majority vote?" asked the congressman, before deciding to cast his ballot.

Congressman Lobeck spoke at length of Washington and what it costs in dollars and cents to run that city.

Divorce Plaintiff Weeps in Court as Child is Mentioned

Mrs. Anna Givens, plaintiff in a divorce suit against John Givens in Judge Sears' district court, wept on the witness stand as she told of the persuasions of her little girl which induced her at one time to return to her husband.

Make-Up of Yetters Doubtful Prospect

Reconciliation in marital troubles is always possible, but that reconciliation will be the outcome of the divorce proceedings based on the talk between the Yetters in the court room in Kansas City last week, as intimated by the dispatches, is doubted by friends of both parties. Speaking while here over Christmas Mrs. Yetter said:

"That talk had nothing to do with our divorce case at all. Neither will I mentioned ourselves, but we simply discussed what ought to be done for our boy, Barnett. I have always been ready to make up with Will, but he has given me no encouragement."

CITY DADS BY TWO NEW MOTORCYCLES FOR POLICE

Two new motorcycles have been purchased by the city commission for the police department, the total expense being $415.

Police Commissioner A. C. Kugel is intending to commission several new motorcycle officers during January if his funds will permit him to equip them with machines.

Ice Harvest Now Gives Employment to Over 2,500 Men

Notwithstanding the fact that the strong northwest wind sweeping over the ice fields makes the work of harvesting ice somewhat disagreeable, the gathering goes on just the same. On the fields in close proximity to the city more than 2,500 men are at work.

Men and companies putting up ice now feel certain that they are going to gather one of the most abundant crops in years and that the quality is going to be superb. Right now blocks from twelve to fifteen inches are being cut off still water and the thickness is constantly increasing.

By the last of the week the Rock Island will have completed its supply of 130 cars off the fields in the vicinity of Meadow. By Wednesday the Gudaby Packing company will have cut Seymour Park lake cover once, practically filling the houses there. The Armour company is said to have its big houses at Memphis about half full, and the work on the Swift fields at Ashland has progressed to about the same extent. Local companies cutting ice on Carter lake and the reservoirs will need about ten days to two weeks of cold weather in order to gather enough to fill their houses, but the managers of the companies are no longer worrying about the harvest and its prospects.

Ben Greet Players to Give Shakespeare Play New Year's Eve

"As You Like It," one of Shakespeare's most enjoyable comedies, will be presented at the Auditorium New Year's eve by the Ben Greet players as one number of the Redpath series. The Ben Greet players have been here before and they are recognized as among the leading exponents of the Shakespearean drama today.

The Ben Greet players differ from their fellows in that they do not make use of extensive decorations, but are content to use the simple decorations which were used in the time of Shakespeare. Much attention is taken in making the costumes perfect so that the mind is not entirely distracted from the stage picture.

The cast this year is very strong, including Percival Vivian, a Shakespearean comedian of worth, and Mr. Greet, himself, recommends it.

Manufacturers to Elect Their Officers

The annual meeting for the election of directors of the Nebraska Manufacturers' Casualty Association is to be held at the office, 349 Bee building, Omaha, Thursday, January 23, at 10 o'clock in the morning. This is the casualty company organized by the manufacturers of the state just after the meeting of the State Manufacturers' association in Omaha about a month ago.

Ask About Burlington California Service

In planning your Coast journey, will you make it in a tourist sleeper? The Burlington's Personally Conducted Tourist Sleeper Parties for Los Angeles leave Omaha at 4:10 p. m., going through Denver, scenic Colorado and Salt Lake City by daylight.

Or, will you go in a standard sleeper? The Burlington runs these through to San Francisco over the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific.

On a tour of the Coast you will probably go one route and return another. Burlington main lines form a prominent and well operated portion of the whole scheme of diverse routes.

Is punctuality of train operation important to you? Burlington trains through the year make "on time" records that cause widespread comment.

In selecting the railroad that's to carry you, do you think of these essentials in high-grade service—block-signal protection, integrity of roadbed, uniform speed, ample power, precision of operation, dynamo-electric-lighting, high-class dining car service, civility of employees?

Let us provide you with descriptive matter and show you how effectively Burlington's service may be utilized in your travel plans. J. B. Reynolds, City Passenger Agent, 1602 Farnam Street. Tel. D. 1238 or D. 3580.

Thank You! Mr. Jameson and Friends

IT is so kind of you all to be so lovely and kind to me in the troubles that are before my father and me.

Mr. Jameson, I feel sort of instinctively is going to help me, really, through his friend, the detective. I don't know what makes me say this, but a woman's intuition is nearly always right.

So you will meet me with your friend! Well, tomorrow at eight in the evening, I will be at the City Hall. Will wear a green suit with a rose in my corsage. I will be with two men (my father and one other). If by any chance we should miss each other, I will have another announcement in the paper, the day after tomorrow.

Thank you again, I feel easier in my mind already.
