WRESTLING MATCH TURNS INTO FIGHT

Police Take a Hand and Prevent Bare-knuckle Battle Between Husane and Connolly.

FIERCE BOUT ENDS IN A DRAW

Instead of the nice polite wrestling match expected by the manager gathering present, the grappling go between Youssif Husane and Pat Connolly at the Krug theater last night narrowly escaped being a perfectly good prize fight, London prize rules to govern. It was only after Steve Maloney, Sergeant Hissell and a score of assisting cops hooped into the ring that the belligerent wrestlers cut out the pugilism and wrestled.

When Referee Tom Long of Lincoln called time the two hunkies collided in no gentle manner. Husane, who admittedly adopts rough tactics in wrestling, was a bit more rough last night, with the result that Connolly, who has no intense love for the Turk, objected rather forcefully. He took a little poke at Husane. Long separated the men, but the same thing happened again. Again it happened. Blood was seen to trickle from Connolly's nose.

The next time Connolly uncoupled one swell hay-making right swing, which would have knocked Husane clear across the house if his guard had not been up. The men pushed to a clinch and were attempting to free their arms to punch with when the police force took a hand. The crowd was very much disappointed in the violence and haste manifested by the police.

Grapple to Draw. After the police intervention, Connolly and Husane got down to business and, while their pats were none too gentle, the real rough stuff discontinued. For two hours and fifteen minutes they grappled and the match was called a draw at midnight, with neither man securing a fall.

Unquestionably the match last night was the most exciting and thrilling seen in Omaha for many moons. Had blood existed between the grapplers, that was apparent from the start, and they toiled and struggled for over two hours, never once relaxing or resting, but supremacy could not be determined.

It was forty-five minutes before they even went to the mat. When they did get down Husane took the aggressive, due to his superior speed. He put hold after hold on the Irishman, only to have that husky break away. Even the Turk's pet crouch hold failed when applied to Pat. If the match had not been called at 12 o'clock they probably would be wrestling yet.

Crowd Small, But Happy. The crowd was a small one last night, but it made up in enthusiasm what it lost in numbers. Many more than will be the result today.

Connolly challenged Husane or any other wrestler in the land after the match. He offered to go on for a side bet of $2,000. Husane accepted the challenge and the match for supremacy will come in about three weeks. If the mat fans present last night only hope it is called for Omaha, as it surely would mean another real wrestling match.

HETMANEK COMES AND GOES

Manager for Joe Stecher Makes a Few Arrangements and Then Hikes for Home.

RUNS POSTOFFICE AT DODGE

J. F. Hetmanek, manager for Joe Stecher, arrived in Omaha yesterday to arrange a few details in regard to the big Stecher-Westergaard match at the Auditorium Tuesday night. After a conference with Oscar Thorsen, manager for Westergaard, it was decided to place seats on sale at the Auditorium Saturday morning. Mail orders are now being received.

According to Hetmanek's half of Dodge, Scribner, Oakdale and Fremont will be here for the match, not to say anything of the mob which will come from Lincoln. Interest in the match is at a fever point out in the state and already, Westergaard boosters have been invited to assemble a large flock of the coin of the realm to accommodate the Stecher men, who like to have a little hot air to thoroughly enjoy a wrestling match.

Mail orders have been coming into the Auditorium in large numbers and Hetmanek predicts a 4,000 house at least. Hetmanek is rather a busy man and his stay in Omaha yesterday was limited. He was forced to hustle back to Dodge to look after the postoffice there. Hetmanek is postmaster, and although he resigned and his resignation was to have taken effect March 1, he is still on the job. Hetmanek's commission would run until a year from June, but managing Stecher has become so arduous, Hetmanek decided to abandon the official position. William C. Brodium has been appointed to succeed Hetmanek but has not received his commission yet, so officially Hetmanek is still on the job.

The postmaster manager returned to Dodge last night, but will come back Saturday and remain here until after the match. Stecher will come Monday. He preferred to do his training at home, although his manager wanted him to come to Omaha now.

SHERIFF AND PROSECUTOR ENGAGE IN FIST FIGHT

BELLE FOURCHE, S. D., March 25.—(Special.)—Long standing ill feeling between Sheriff True and State's Attorney Malvin of this place was finally settled by the two men in the old fashioned way. The affair occurred in the office of the latter, where Sheriff True is said to have gone to demand and accusations for certain crimes he is said to have heard had committed from the state's attorney.

Both men are said to have been perfectly willing to test their mettle in a fistie encounter and proceeded to do so until separated. Both were later arrested by local authorities, the sheriff entering a plea of guilty of disturbing the peace, but the state's attorney declared that as he was not the aggressor he would stand trial. The encounter has aroused much interest.

AMERICAN MISSION WORKERS IN PERIL

Presbyterian Colony in Northern Persia Which Has Been Protecting Assyrians in Danger.

HUNDREDS OF NATIVES SLAIN

TIFLIS, Wednesday, March 24.—(Via Petrograd, March 25, and via London, 12:10 p. m.)—Telegrams and letters reaching here from Urumiah, in northwestern Persia, describe the situation of the American Presbyterian mission, stationed there as desperate. Turkish regular troops and Kurds are persecuting and massacring Assyrian Christians.

Harry P. Packard, the doctor of the mission station at Urumiah, of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church, risked his life in a successful effort to prevent a frightful massacre at Geogtans, where 3,000 Assyrians made their last stand.

They had fought for three days and all their ammunition was gone. At this juncture Dr. Packard unfurled an American flag and advanced between the lines. His act resulted in the saving of all but 200 of the Assyrians who had been burned in a church.

Fifteen thousand Assyrian Christians have taken refuge under the protection of the American mission station, while 2,000 are at the French mission.

Orthodox Bishop Hanged. A dispatch received at Tiflis from Urumia yesterday declared that seventy Turkish regular troops had entered the mission, hanged the Orthodox bishop, Mar Ebn, and four Orthodox clergymen and beat and insulted a missionary named Ellen. Shortly before the sixty refugees had been dragged from the French mission and executed, in spite of the tearful pleas of the nuns.

At Gulpashan the Kurds were particularly cruel. This was the last of a total of 103 Assyrian villages to hold out and it was occupied a month ago. The Kurds ordered all the Assyrian males into the streets, tied them in groups of five, marched them to the graveyard and killed them barbarously to the last boy. Girl babies and older women were executed with great atrocity, while the younger women were carried away as slaves.

As a result of the war 12,000 Assyrians are taking refuge in the Caucasus, some 17,000 are described as in imminent danger at the Urumiah mission, while 20,000 are dead or missing. Furthermore property has been destroyed. The Assyrians fought their assailants bravely and as long as they had ammunition they were victorious.

The missionaries are untiring in their efforts to help the people and they are spending money to buy food and fuel. In Urumiah they are disbursing the equivalent of $600 daily. Disease is prevalent among the refugees.

United States Takes Action. The situation at Urumiah already has been taken up with Turkey by the United States. Secretary Bryan has telegraphed American Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople to seek the protection of the missionaries and the refugees. Previous dispatches from Bofla, Persia, have described the danger at Urumiah, but none of them has given so much detail as the message from Tiflis.

The American missionary station at Urumiah is maintained by the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America. The station was established as long ago as 1861; its control was transferred to the Presbyterian board in 1871. The work has gone on there without serious interruptions or mishap to the missionaries. The force normally at Urumiah consists of five clergymen and one physician, with their wives and four single women.

Dr. Packard is from Colorado. DENVER, Colo., March 25.—Dr. Harry P. Packard, mentioned in dispatches from Tiflis as having risked his life to prevent a massacre of native Christians near Urumiah, formerly lived in Pueblo, Colo. Mrs. Packard is a daughter of the Rev. Frank T. Bayley, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church of Denver. Letters received by relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Packard several weeks ago described conditions in Persia as critical.

Reds Sell Graham. The Cincinnati club has sold first baseman Norman Graham to the Toronto club of the International league.

JACK PRINCE IS IN OMAHA

Promoter of Omaha Speedway Returns from Big Races at San Francisco Fair.

DRIVERS ARE ALL FOR OMAHA

Jack Prince, promoter of the Omaha Auto Speedway, returned to Omaha from San Francisco, where he attended the Grand Prix and Vanderbilt cup races. Prince was also at the Corona and Venice races.

"The drivers in all of those races are anxious to try out the board speedway such as we have in Omaha," declared Prince. "They all believe the triple radius track is the speedway of the future and they also favor the little 200 cubic inch displacement machines such as will be required at Indianapolis. All of the big drivers are building the smaller machines. I believe it was a good move when Omaha decided to conform to the same rules as Indianapolis."

Prince was present at the exposition the day Lincoln Beachey fell to his death. "I was talking to Beachey on the starting lawn," said Prince, "and I asked Beachey if his new monoplane wasn't a little light and he even answered, 'I'm a bit afraid the thing is myself.' It was a beautiful flight he made in that monoplane—as pretty as a bird, but that fall was a terrible thing. The machine doubled up like paper and he never had a chance."

WATER SYSTEM BONDS IN ISSUE AT DEADWOOD

DEADWOOD, S. D., March 25.—(Special.)—Spirited contests in the city elections next month, both here and in Lead, are promised. In Deadwood one alderman will be elected in each of the four wards, the Fourth, Third and First promising contests, but the big fight will be in the proposition to vote a $75,000 bond issue for a local water system.

In Lead the principal contest will be for municipal court judge. The present incumbent, Judge Rogers, is a candidate for re-election and his opponent by his former opponent, John Walsh, while there is talk of a third entry showing up. Dress Warm and Keep Feet Dry

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

BRANDEIS STORES

Next week's recitals will be free to the public. To all we extend an invitation, with the assurance that those who enjoy good music will be well entertained. Additional announcements will follow soon.
