

MOREHEAD CALLS STATE LOBBYISTS

Governor, While Before the House Denying Lincoln Newspaper Story, Adds Few Things.

EMPLOYEES ARE TOO OFFICIOUS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, March 29.—(Special)—Newspaper criticism of what was alleged to be statements made by Governor Morehead to a delegation of suffragists, labor representatives and others, caused the executive of the state of Nebraska to appear before the house this morning in person and read a message refuting a statement published in Lincoln Saturday and purporting to have been delivered by the governor.

The charge was made that the governor had called the members a "conglomeration of lawmakers put together by the machinery of democracy," with the inference that he was not at all impressed with their ability.

After pronouncing the statement as untrue the governor said:

"I have been annoyed by certain men who have constantly been harassing and annoying both the legislature and the executive office in trying to carry out some ideas which they claim are for the benefit of the state; but when you read between the lines, you find them to be for selfish purposes only.

"I believe that men or women who are working for the state and drawing pay from the state should not be too officious in trying to interfere with legislation. Now that I have any lines that a member of the house or senate will be in touch with this element, but our educational and all other institutions will be properly cared for by this legislature, and if some of those who are connected with these institutions would give more time to their work in the institution and less time to lobbying and trying to dictate to the legislature, it would be more gratifying to me, and I am sure would be pleasing to you. I assure you that I am heartily in accord with the work you have done up to the present time and the statements set forth in this article are without truth. The only statements I made that any capital could be made out of, was simply between the spokesman and myself. When a delegation appears at my office expecting to find I the proper place to deal in personalities and abuse they may be disappointed in the future, as they were at this meeting."

EAST OMAHA BILL IS APPROVED IN HOUSE

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, March 29.—(Special)—To put Lake Manawa territory into Iowa and bring the East Omaha strip into Nebraska is the avowed purpose of H. R. 288, the Nealey bill for an Iowa-Nebraska boundary commission, which the house in committee of the whole Monday approved and sent to third reading. An amendment was added appropriating $30,000 to pay expenses.

Another bill, approved in committee of the whole was S. P. 66, requiring sufficient clearance between high voltage electric wires and telephone or telegraph lines, so that communication over the latter will not be interfered with. The bill gives the railroad commission general supervisory authority, but does not apply within the corporate limits of cities. An amendment was offered by Mr. Datoe to exempt villages also, but it failed to carry.

NEXT THURSDAY IS LAST DAY FOR HOUSE BILLS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, March 29.—(Special)—All house bills remaining in the hands of the house sifting committee at 10 o'clock next Thursday morning will be indefinitely postponed in a bunch, according to a motion offered by Osterman today which was adopted. There was some opposition, but the sentiment of a large majority was favorable to a cleanup so that the house could devote the remainder of the session to senate bills and thus hasten the time of final adjournment.

SNAG FOR FISCAL AGENCY HARPOON THE LANIGAN BILL

Bill Amended by Lancaster Member to Apply to Paying Irrigation Bonds. Attorneys from Out in State Oppose Bill Aimed at Re-election of Present Judges.

MEASURE IS RECOMMENDED WILSON BILL IS LIKELY TO PASS

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, March 29.—(Special)—What some members of the house looked upon as a "joker" in H. R. 159, the bill providing for a Nebraska fiscal agency in New York, led to a reconsideration of that measure Monday afternoon. Two or three days ago it was approved in committee of the whole and advanced to third reading. Now it goes back for further attention and runs a chance of being killed.

The general understanding about this bill is that it was introduced at the request of the Kountze banking houses of New York and Omaha. Formerly that firm maintained a fiscal agency in New York where Nebraska bonds were paid, but on the recommendation of the state treasurer two years ago the law providing for this agency was repealed, and all securities issued by counties, cities, villages and other subdivisions of Nebraska were made payable at the state treasurer's office.

H. R. 159 practically re-enacts the repealed statute, but in its amended form the claim was made that it would apply only to Lancaster and Douglas counties. Mr. Stearns of Scott's Bluff found a clause, however, which covered irrigation, school district and other bonds generally. He said that irrigation bonds are now payable at the county treasurer's office and that there is no reason to make them payable anywhere else.

A provision allowing the New York fiscal agency one-eighth of 1 per cent commission for handling the bonds was pointed out. Mr. Hoffmeister vigorously denounced the Douglas county delegation, which is backing the bill, for trying to "put one over." He wanted to indefinitely postpone it forthwith. Mr. Palmer defended the Douglas members and said the amendments came from Mr. Stearns of Lancaster. The latter said he had no intention of making the act apply outside of the two big counties, and he was willing to have it amended again to make it ironclad in that regard.

READING CIRCLE BOARD HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

LINCOLN, March 29.—(Special)—Members of the state reading circle board met today with State Superintendent Thomas, who is ex-officio manager of the board. The object of the meeting is to choose the books to be read in the circle, usually one book for the rural teachers and other for the city teachers.

Representatives of the various book companies are submitting their books before the board. At a preliminary meeting held about a month ago the board determined that the course of study should be some phase of vocational training. This may be changed, however.

All members of the board were present, as follows: Superintendent J. S. Elliot of Kearney, president; Superintendent J. H. Welch of Stanton, treasurer; Superintendent Poucher of Tekamah, vice president; Superintendent E. W. Marcellus of Crete, secretary, and Dr. Thomas, manager.

The board also recommends a list of books for the pupils' reading course.

INCREASED TUITION CHARGE BILL DEAD

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, March 29.—(Special)—By a margin of two votes the house today indefinitely postponed a bill increasing the tuition charge for nonresident pupils in high schools from 15 cents to $1 per week. Debate over this small difference of 5 cents in the rate consumed nearly an hour's time. At the conclusion the country members who opposed the increase received enough support from members representing the large city districts to accomplish the killing of the measure. S. P. 96, by Brookley, by a division of 41 to 29.

FACTORIES WILL BE SUBJECT TO TAX

House Refuses to Pass Bill that Would Exempt from Corporation Tax.

DRAWN BY THE ASSOCIATION

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, March 29.—(Special)—The house became so economical this afternoon that they refused to pass a bill which would have the effect of bringing to Nebraska manufacturing industries because it would eliminate the occupation tax paid at the present time by corporations doing business in Nebraska.

The bill was drawn by the Nebraska Manufacturers' association and was intended to encourage the establishment of factories and other places manufacturing goods used in this state. It is said that eastern manufacturers are looking to the west for advantageous locations for branches of their business and it was hoped that the bill would help in bringing many of them to the state.

But the house appears to desire to economize on the number of manufacturing concerns in the state as well as the amount of money to be spent by the state and so Nebraska loses another chance to score from a business standpoint.

Barrett, Burgess, Chambers, Druess-dow, Howard, Hunter, Larson, Lundgren, Minor, Palmer and Richmond of the Douglas delegation voted for the bill, while Nealey was the only one who registered his vote against it.
