TO PLEASE Dame Fashion and to have everything in harmony for heralding Easter, we must be bedecked with a corsage bouquet of some specific hue on Easter morn.

Once upon a time it was enough to be "blushing and sweet each Easter morn," and only a few adhered religiously to donning the erstwhile Easter bonnet, but now Easter bonnets appear with the first robin, and by the time Easter arrives the costume is not complete without its finishing touch of flowers.

The old-fashioned boutonniere, or simple bunch of violets, has given place to the artistic and charming arrangements of flowers in combination. The floral shops are showing fascinating combinations of color. It is no longer just violets. Now, the violet bunch is variegated with many little posies of bright color.

The ribbon ties are the next important adjunct. Bouquets are no longer finished with a rapping of tin foil or simple cord, but now they have special ribbon ties and a clever shield, which is proof against damage and which protects the most delicate frock.

Cobb's Celebrated Candy

When we were boys there was a delicious confection sold at our home which was called "Nobs." We were not aware then that this was a purely colloquial term—but as we go back in memory it seems to us that it was such a delicious, toothsome goody that our mouth waters even now. Cobbs reminds us of the Nobs of those days.

Now for Easter you will want the best, of course—And Cobbs is the answer. Fancy boxes filled with smooth, rich, luscious chocolates and bon bons packed by Cobbs in 1, 2, 3, 5 lb. boxes 60 Cents the pound

More fancy boxes, some with bunnies on—some ribbon tied, filled with chocolates—80c, $1.25, $1.60, $2.00, $3.00, $5.00.

After weeks of self denial can you imagine the expression of joy when the messenger brings the box of Cobbs?

A friend of ours was just at our desk and this is what he selected for an Easter gift to go to the Quaker City:

1 pair Putty shade Kid Gloves, size 6. Of course we have all sizes, and many qualities, clocked or plain. A good pair for 69c.

1 pr. Putty shade Silk Stockings, sz. 9 1/2. These were beautifully clocked. And to top off, a box of Cobb's.

Dainty Cards and Table Fixin's for Easter—and some bunnies for the wee lads and lasses. My, this power of suggestion is a wonderful thing, instinctively we are transported to the Children's Section, and it occurs to us that your children will enjoy this section as much as you will.

Never, no never, such a wonderful collection of Children's, Misses', Juniors' and Small Women's wearables. In the Women's Section—A wonderful Suit on Special Sale at $19.50

And for the Sunday Dinner
Lest you forget, call Douglas 51, ask for Cobbs—leave order for some of what follows. Large Salted Pecans, Almonds, Creamed Brazil Nuts, French Caramels, Dipped Marshmallows, Candied Fruits from France, Old Virginia Fruit Cake, Plum Pudding, and in Ice Creams we have all kinds of seasonable conceits—Individual Rabbits, Chicks, Eggs, Lilies, Roman Punch, Nesselrode Pudding.

Dissenting on Nobs reminds us to mention some Nobby things for Easter also.

We have just opened up a little the nobbiest lot of Gloves ever brought by us from over seas. The colors, the clasps, the stitching, the beautiful skin of the kids—might send a pair with one of the aforementioned boxes.
