

APPOMATTOX DAY
LOOMS IN HISTORY

Veterans Petition Congress to Issue Fitting Medal Commemorating Reunion of the Nation.

EVENTS OF BATTLE RECALLED

Some of the lead from confederate muskets is still carried in the bodies of Grand Army men of Omaha. This was proven at the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the surrender of Lee, in court room No. 1 of the Douglas county court house last night. When one of the speakers asked all those wounded during the war to rise, thirty-nine flowing gray-beards rose modestly a little above the heads of the crowd, and thirty-nine aged veterans tottered for a moment on their feet and then sat as modestly down.

Appomattox day was a great day for the veterans, and the evening's celebration was the greatest part of the day, when nearly 500 old veterans, and their families and friends crowded into the room at the court house.

Eight at the Surrender.
Only eight of the gray veterans in all the house were with the army at Appomattox the day of the surrender of Lee. These got to their feet during the evening and let the crowd cheer them a moment. Six others were at the battle of Shiloh. Twenty-three, who faced fire on the frightful field of Vicksburg were called to their feet by Judge Jacob Fawcett of the supreme court of Nebraska, who presided at the meeting.

Following a program of patriotic music and speaking, the Grand Army men adopted a resolution looking toward commemorating this anniversary by the striking and distribution of a medal appropriate to the event.

Following is the resolution, which had been suggested to the committee by Victor Rosewater, editor of The Bee, and which was presented by him:

"Looking back over the half century that has elapsed since Appomattox, that crucial event marking the re-establishment of peace for a reunited nation looms now in the historic perspective larger and more momentous than even the most far-seeing statesman could have foreseen at the time it was realized. In no other period of time and in no other country on earth, do the achievements of the American people, made possible by the preservation of the union, find a counterpart. The blessings of peace as contrasted with the horrors of war are so peculiarly signified in the celebration of this unique anniversary that we believe it should be fittingly commemorated by the striking of an appropriate medal.
We therefore, memorialize congress to make provision for carrying out this suggestion and for the proper distribution of the medals to all who should be entitled to receive them."

Veterans Called to Floor.

It was Judge Fawcett, presiding over the meeting, who called to their feet the veterans of certain battles and drew rounds of applause from the crowd. After giving the crowd a moment to view the old veterans who participated in a given battle, the judge described the battle briefly. He himself was wounded at Shiloh, and having been carried to the rear and to a height in the hills was able to overlook much of the battle during the rest of the day. He spoke of Grant's generosity in this battle and of the criticism that was afterward directed against the general for not having provided boats enough in advance to take his men over the Tennessee river. He had been defeated. He quoted Grant as having replied to this criticism: "There would have been boats enough to carry all that would have been left if we had been defeated."

Victory Returned Nation.

He spoke of Appomattox as a great victory, not only for the union, but for the confederacy alike, as it resulted in the reuniting of the torn republic.
Judge A. L. Sutton spoke of the civil war as a war between the commercial civilization and the Christian civilization of a nation with the Christian civilization triumphing. He contrasted the civil war with the war in Europe, declaring that in Europe no great principle is involved as was the case in the American civil war. He spoke against large standing armies and navies, but declared he stands for an army and navy large enough to command the respect of the world abroad.

Rev. J. J. Brown, made a patriotic address in which he declared the schools should first teach the children all the virtues of the country before they undertake to point out its faults, so that the young people might learn that in spite of some faults the country has so many advantages and so many virtues that the few faults can readily be forgiven.
He praised General Grant for the great magnanimity he had shown in dealing leniently with the conquered Lee and his army. He declared this policy had much to do with bringing about the speedy reconstruction of the union in that it left the south with as little prejudice as possible.

SUPREME COMMANDER OF THE LADIES OF THE MACCABEES.

MISS BINA M. WEST.

MACCABEES HERE NEXT WEEK

Ladies to Complete Plans for Endowing State Hospital Service —Fund Started.

ORDER HAS STEADY GROWTH

Nebraska members of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World will hold their annual state convention at Hotel Roma Tuesday, April 20, when plans for endowing a state hospital service will be considered.

Almost $500 is already in the fund for the Nebraska hospital service of the order, and enthusiasm over the early and successful culmination of the project is so keen among all the members that it is expected plans for endowing the undertaking will be speedily perfected and the balance of the necessary fund of $5,000 will be readily provided for. Michigan and Illinois Ladies of the Maccabees already have state hospital services.

The Ladies of the Maccabees of the World is a fraternal order made up entirely of women and wholly officered and managed by them. Since it began its existence in 1882, without a dollar or a member, it has grown to be one of the strongest. In Nebraska alone it now gives protection amounting to $1,851,543 and has paid out almost $200,000 in death and disability claims.

Miss Bina M. West is the founder and supreme commander of the head order, which has 180,000 women enrolled in membership in fifty-five states and provinces.
The reserve fund is nearly $5,000,000, with annual interest earnings of $500,000 from bond investments. The daily interest amounts to nearly one-third of the daily death claims.

Delegates will be elected at the state convention in Omaha to attend the grand supreme high review to be held in May, when the work of the last four years will be gone over. Omaha is already taking steps to entertain the state delegates royally, and the action of the convention here is expected to place Nebraska on the honor roll of the order.

Can't Get Seals and
The Sailors Mutiny

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., April 9.—A mutiny of part of the crew of the steamer Terra Nova and the Viking was reported by the captains of those ships in wireless messages to the owners today.
Eighty-seven men of the Terra Nova and seventy on board the Viking are declared to have struck as a result of the ship's lack of success in capturing seals. The vessels are now in the gulf of St. Lawrence.

Sage Tea Dandy
To Darken Hair

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff gone, scalp itching and falling hair stops.
This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

It's a Hair Soap
Lee's Shampoo is a transparent, syrupy fluid soap for hair and scalp. It's not a tonic. You'll not need a tonic or hair renewer or scalp medicine if the hair and scalp are kept clean—clean of soap as well as clean of grease, dirt and dandruff.
Soapy suds cause more hair and scalp trouble than all other causes combined. You would not think of using a shaving soap for the teeth or a tooth soap for the skin, yet a correct soap for the hair is more important than either, because its effect is more lasting and far reaching.
The usual soap is one-half lye or caustic, often not fully neutralized. If completely washed out from the hair no harm is done, but if the soap is of a soapy nature and penetrates the fibre and pores of the hair and scalp, it cannot all be washed out. Much soap is left behind after the water dries out. This soap in time, breaks down, releasing the lye which eats into the hair and scalp causing excessive dandruff, itching head sores, falling hair, etc. The hair is often dry and harsh, or stiff, sticky and gummy.
Lee's Shampoo eliminates all of these troubles. Even a single shampoo, observing the soft, silky condition of the hair, the quick cleansing and quick drying, is very satisfying. A month's use is absolutely convincing. The irritating cause is removed.
Bottle of 10 Shampoos 25c. At your druggist's or postpaid.
Sample Shampoo for 1c. Postage.
