Trend of Sentiment Toward Buying the Omaha Auditorium

That there is a decided switch in the sentiment toward the purchase of the Auditorium was indicated at meetings held in different parts of the city last night.

E. V. Parrish, manager of the bureau of publicity of the Commercial club, appeared at four meetings, urging the purchase of the Auditorium holdings. Without exception, the straw votes taken were favorable to the proposition of the city taking over the property, very few indicating that they would not support the bond issue of $20,000.

Fairish spoke at an open air meeting at Twenty-fourth and Vinton at Garfield hall, Twenty-seventh and Martha; at Tel Jed Sokol hall on South Thirteenth street, and at Metz hall on South Thirteenth street.

He urged the purchase of the Auditorium on the issue of whether the city could afford to be without an Auditorium. When the question was put to the voters squarely they came to the front by stating that they would vote for the bonds, although many declared that they had opposed the proposition one year ago.

All meetings were largely attended. Every indication is that the bonds will receive the necessary 60 per cent of the votes cast upon the question.

MULLEN DEFENDS CITY GOVERNMENT

Downtown Meetings Conducted on Opposite Sides of Street and Big Crowd Hears Argument.

"OUTS" SAY DIVES PROTECTED

Arthur Mullen, formerly attorney general of the state of Nebraska, leading democratic wirepuller, but who has always been indifferent to the present administration, from an automobile at Fifteenth and Douglas streets begged a crowd of nearly 3,000 to retain the "square seven" in office and to rebuke the "big six."

He tempered his remarks by declaring that the "six" are unfit to hold the reins of city government. "You will serve yourselves best by holding onto these men."

The big crowd, lured by accounts of the sensational political duel of Wednesday night at Fifteenth and Douglas, was on hand to watch the rival candidates perform. In the expectation that Jim Dahlman and Harry Zimmerman would look at a shoulder-to-shoulder conflict of explosives, the crowd was disappointed, but in the point of political pyrotechnics the innermost craving of the wildest fan was satisfied.

Each on Own Side of Street. The "outs" made no attempt to win away the corner upon which the "ins" made their stand, but they entrenched themselves on the east side of Fifteenth street and then battled fiercely for supremacy.

If the opposing sides left anything unaided, 3,000 persons failed to notice it. Edward Simon pulled the records as evidence of his authorship of the "outs" pension and anti-labor shark notes. Representatives "Billy" Chambers and Harry E. Foster were on hand to corroborate.

It was Mullen's audience, however, that created the big sensation. Mullen Tells of Police Probe. "It was I who dove deep into the police department's innermost affairs when Chief Donahue was at the head," he declared. "I did all I could to improve lax conditions in Omaha. I have always kept my attention riveted upon the police. I want to tell you all that we now have as good a police department in Omaha as any city in the world. I know from experience that this administration is an honest one. I know that Omaha is not perfect from a governmental standpoint, but it is as near to being so as is possible for human intelligence to achieve."

"The men in office now are not grafters. They are honest men and efficient and I would be sorry indeed if you allow yourselves to be misled into voting for interests that are detrimental to Omaha's good."

R. J. Madden, attorney, followed Mullen, telling the crowd how an afternoon paper and its backers spent $25,000 through a detective agency only to prove that Omaha and Douglas county are honestly governed. Others who spoke were John Rine, William Wappich and Mayor Dahlman, who was brief in his remarks because seven big meetings elsewhere left his throat in serious condition.

From Other Point of View. On the other side of the street Judge Sutton, L. H. Mossman, Frank Odell, Attorney Redwood and Gertrude In turn these men told of police-protected dives, of police court favoritism, of poor city pavement, poor park system and of the wrongs of Jack Ryder.

The big crowd surged back and forth across Fifteenth street, now listening to an "in" and again paying attention to the "outs."

A score of police officers held the crowds under control to permit traffic to move and to quell disturbances. Commissioner Kugel personally commanded Sergeant Tony Vanous to see that a squad of men protected the "outs" from insult, although at this task the police had their hands full, as boisterous ones on every hand would interject shouts of derision at each speaker.

Keeping Crowd Orderly. While Frank Odell was talking a dog fancier named Jenkins got up in another auto to speak, but he was pulled down by the police and informed that Mayor Dahlman would permit no supporter to emulate the Wednesday night example of the "outs," who tried to win the "ins" corner. Jenkins went away to another meeting.

The "ins" meeting broke up about fifteen minutes before the "out" and the crowd went over to the latter.

Doctor Calls Upon Patient in Plane

SIOUX CITY, Ia., April 30.—To answer an emergency call to an accident by aeroplane was the experience of Dr. Pearl E. Somers of Grinnell, Ia., yesterday.

Somers received a telephone call from a farm home, eleven miles southeast of Grinnell, where a man had been terribly injured in a runaway accident. Aviator W. C. Robinson of Grinnell was near the doctor's office when the call came, and learning of Somers' mission, volunteered to take the doctor to the scene of the accident in his aeroplane. The start was made within a few minutes, and the eleven miles were traversed in six minutes, at the rate of 110 miles an hour.

Somers dressed the man's injuries, was again seated in the aeroplane and was driven by Robinson to Grinnell at the speed of seventy-three miles an hour, or nine minutes. The twenty-two-mile trip was covered in fifteen minutes, or an average of ninety miles an hour.

Get Rid of Humors

Wood's Sarsaparilla is the Medicine to Take—Makns Pure Blood.

Dry, moist, scaly letter, pimples, boils, and other eruptions come from humors, which may be either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous. Wood's Sarsaparilla, the old reliable medicine, helps the system to discharge the humors, and improves the digestion and assimilation.

Get Wood's Sarsaparilla from your druggist. It may be confidently relied upon to do its work. It purifies the blood, tones the stomach, and builds up the whole system. It goes to the roots of disease, and its beneficial results are permanent. It sets things to rights in the system. Remember to ask for Wood's Sarsaparilla, because nothing else will do it and nothing else can take its place.—Advertisement.

DRY CLEANER AND BAKER START ON A LONG HIKE

E. V. Mitchell and H. E. Bryan, dry cleaner and baker, respectively, of New Sharon, Ia., are here, having walked from their home town to this city, their plans being to complete their hike to San Francisco by August 1. If they make the trip within the agreed time they will receive $1,000 from the Booster club of New Sharon. They averaged twenty-four miles a day and carry twelve pounds of baggage apiece.

At Garfield hall at Twenty-sixth and Martha streets City Attorney Rine denied the allegation of Chairman Sutton, who stated that various public service corporation cases started by the city are now sleeping the sleep of the dead because of apathy on the part of the city legal department.

"We have hung Sutton's hide several times in the state supreme court, where we defeated the judge in cases where he held against the city in the district court here. He is sure, that is what he is," declared Mr. Rine.

MASS MEETING SATURDAY

The administration candidates expect that their mass meeting at the Auditorium, Saturday evening, will be a "stemwinder." Congressman C. O. Lobeck has agreed to preside. The complete list of speakers has not been announced, but on the list will be Mayor Dahlman, H. B. Fleharty, John A. Rine and a few more of the headliners.

This mass meeting will practically close the campaign for the square seven. The "big six" are trying to arrange for a counter mass meeting, probably for Monday evening.

Mayor Dahlman and his associates addressed several meetings yesterday evening before going to the big open-air meeting at Fifteenth and Douglas streets. They started with an outdoor meeting at Twenty-fourth and Vinton streets and then went to the halls at Twenty-sixth and Martha streets, Thirteenth and Martha and Thirteenth and William, presenting at these places practically a repetition of the arguments made during the week.

The mayor at these south-end meetings made several facetious references to the demonstration Wednesday evening at Fifteenth and Douglas streets.

The administration campaign committee has enlisted State Representative Will Chambers, who began his service for the square seven at Fifteenth and Douglas streets yesterday evening.

Chairman Sutton of the anti addressed his workers during the evening at the City National bank building. He told his men to keep their courage up and to stay by their guns until the last.

The anti will hold a meeting this evening in Magnolia hall, Twenty-fourth and Ames avenue, where the principal speakers will be Chairman Sutton and Tom Hollister. The "big six" will also speak.

ANTIS ARE READY FOR WORK AT POLLS

Declare that Big Secret Organization is Ready to Get Voters Out on Election Day.

VISIT TO CHOP SUEY PARLORS

Antis last night continued a campaign of speaking in the open air to audiences in various parts of the city which is testing the voices and endurance of even the veterans who are engaged in furthering the cause.

For them the evening's work began at 8 o'clock, when M. O. Cunningham and A. L. Sutton addressed the anti committee on the eleventh floor of the City National bank building. They predicted that they were engaged in a winning campaign, former Judge Sutton declaring the "ins," if they were able to save any of their men, would do so by reason of republicans rallying behind some of them.

Secret Organization at Work. Mr. Cunningham asserted that there was a large secret organization behind the anti. "From 30 to 50 men and women whose names I will not give out," he said, "will be actively engaged on election day in getting out voters by telephone and in other ways. In the afternoon lists of names of men who have not voted will be furnished by the election commissioner's office, which will be used by our workers."

At Forty-fifth and Military avenue, in the Sixth ward, Hackett's home, four speakers addressed the voters. Frank G. Odell bespoke favor of the voters for the school and Auditorium bond issues and discussed electric light rates in detail. He was introduced by James Richardson. Hackett talked briefly, urging his neighbers to support the anti's slate, and introduced Sutton, who declared the anti should be elected because they favored local public service charges.

He told of a visit made by him late yesterday to chop suey houses in Omaha in which, he said, immoral conditions existed, and paid his respects to City Attorney John M. Rine, whom he described as "a sexton of a graveyard of dead cases."

"An important crisis is at hand," he declared. "Two clouds loom over Omaha, the claims of the street railway company and the gas company to perpetual franchises such as the courts have declared the electric light company possesses. The attorney who conduct the city's cases should not be picked by the public service corporations."

"Mr. Hackett, your neighbor, is a candidate on the slate opposed to Dahlman. While Mr. Hackett may not be so brilliant intellectually as some, he has agreed to stand with the people against the corporations. I would rather have an average honest man than a smart dishonest one."

Many Other Meetings. From Forty-fifth and Military avenue Sutton and Hackett went to Fifteenth and Douglas, as did Odell and Richardson, who had previously made the opening addresses to a gathering composed chiefly of women at the Young Women's Christian association.

Candidates Jardine and Drexel addressed an audience at Nineteenth and Vinton streets, attacking the proposed electric light rate ordinance plans of the "ins" and declaring that their plans would be more effectual.

NO RECOGNITION OF MEXICANS BY WILSON

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Recognition of any factions in Mexico during the present uncertain state of affairs is not contemplated by the United States government, according to expressions today by high officials.
