WEDDING plans and rumors of others to be are the only diversion for society these days. Of course, you have all heard the gossip afloat. It happens to be the piece de resistance of the smaller gatherings of the feminine contingent. The gentleman fits in all sets, but just now it is a member of the debutante set who has his interest. She has been in mourning for several months and that accounts for the quietness of the romance. The said gentleman belongs to the older set of Omaha's eligibles, good looking, and one who might be described as truly Chesterfieldian, so very debonaire is he.

The doors of this young lady's home have been open this winter to but a few close friends, but those who know things say he has been the devoted one. Just now she is going out informally and is seen at all the theaters. He always sits in the front row, very mindful of his companion. "Now do you get that?"

Daly-Peterson Wedding.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at St. John's Catholic church when Miss Madeline Gertrude Peterson and Mr. Leo A. Daly were married by Father Brown, with Father Dowd assisting. The ceremony was witnessed by a very large attendance. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white tulle with court train, trimmed with real lace and pearls and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley. The bridegroom wore a suit of blue and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. Miss Ida Daly, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and wore a gown of yellow satin and carried a shower bouquet of Mrs. Ward's roses. Miss Bernadette Martin was bridesmaid and wore a gown of lavender satin with chiffon overskirt and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. Mr. Frank Latenser and Mr. Joseph Heuston were the groom's attendants. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Paul Martin. The ushers were Mr. Thomas Curran and Mr. James Martin. Mr. Mark Martin and Miss Marie Martin sang a duet, "Salve Regina," and Mr. Mark Martin sang a solo, "On This Day." The church was beautifully decorated in Easter lilies and palms. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. Paul Martin. The house was tastefully decorated with roses, anemones, sweet peas and lilies. The color scheme of lavender and yellow was carried out both at the church and house. Bride and groom left Saturday afternoon for the west and will be at home after June 1 at 229 Hamilton street.

Fortnightly Bridge Club. The Fortnightly Bridge club was entertained this afternoon at the home of Miss Louise Sters in the Clarinda apartments. The guests present were: Messdames—Carl Lewis, Cornelia Riley, Irene McLaughlin, Olga Sters. Messdames—R. A. McDermott, Misses—Mrs. Riley, Helene Riley.

A nominal charge will be made the fund to be used to purchase equipment for the children's playgrounds. Films have been contributed for the

Fashion Hint

By LA RACONTEUSE.

Bedrooms with clusters of small flowers, worked in silver thread, the fabric of this delightful dance frock is apricot toned goldfleur satin. The lines are simple, following the fashion of the empire period, the high-placed waistline outlined by a band of silver galon. A bouffant effect is given by a slight lifting of the skirt at the sides, the fullness being further increased by a petticoat of taffeta. A tiny frill of the satin hems the skirt.

Prices Go Down With Rain in Wheat Belt

Rain at most localities in the grain belt sent prices down on the Omaha Grain exchange, making trading slow. For a Monday the receipts were only fair, there being fifty-nine cars of wheat, seventy-one of corn and twenty-five of oats on the market. Wheat sold at $1.64 1/2, a full half cent below the price of Saturday. Corn sold at 74 1/2, a loss of 4 1/2, while oats went at 56 1/2, these prices being 4 1/2 loss.

W. G. SHRIVER AND TOM M'GOVERN MIX

IS RELEASED AT THE STATION

Thomas McGovern, city commissioner, and W. G. Shriver, well known in political and business circles in Omaha, met in verbal and physical encounter on Farnam street, above Fifteenth, at the noon hour Monday and as a result McGovern took Shriver to the police station. Shriver was immediately released.

According to the story of eye witnesses to the encounter, Shriver, who had just left a meeting of a committee of the McKinley league in the W. O. W. building, met McGovern opposite the Merchants hotel. They exchanged a few words, McGovern used a fighting word to Shriver, and Shriver hit McGovern with his left fist. McGovern arrested Shriver and insisted that they should ride to the police station in the patrol wagon. Friends interceded, however, and the two men walked to the station. McGovern, it was discovered, had no serious injuries, and Shriver was released.

Used a Fight Word.

"McGovern came up to me and asked if it was true that I had said that he employed only Catholics in his department," said Shriver. "I said it was not true. He came up close to me and said, 'You're a liar.' I hit him on the side of the head with my left fist.

"I did not intend to hurt him. If I had I would have hit him with my right fist. He did not hit me, but wanted to arrest me. He insisted that we ride to the police station in the patrol wagon. The wagon didn't come, so we started down. On lower Dodge he again insisted on riding, but some friends advised him to let me alone, as I was not resisting arrest, so he did so.

"At the station the doctor looked at his injuries and I was immediately released. Mr. Shriver had been active in the McKinley league's revival of republican issues in the city campaign, which is believed by politicians to have upset previous issues which had been raised. McGovern is a democrat.

McGovern's Version.

"Shriver asked me who was financing the campaign for the square seven and I told him I did not know; that I paid my own bills. Then he called me a liar and struck me while I had my hands in my pockets. He was at fault."

McGovern says he will not prosecute.

Commercial Clubs to Meet at Lincoln

President John L. McCague of the Commercial club, Commissioner Robert H. Manley, and perhaps other delegates, are to go to Lincoln Wednesday for a two days' convention of the Nebraska Association of Commercial Clubs. The convention is to be in session at Lincoln May 5 and 6. A strong program of discussion on subjects of interest in the development of the state has been arranged. Ross L. Hammond of Fremont is president of the association.

GOOD RAINS FOR TWO DAYS WET THE STATE

According to reports to the railroads, rains were pretty general over all that portion of Nebraska west of the river counties Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. In many localities the aggregate exceeded an inch. Over portions of Wyoming Sunday there was considerable snow, though it soon melted. An inch of snow was reported at Orin Junction and about the same from Casper west.

FOLLOWS MOTHER IN DEATH

Miss Sallie E. Groh Dies at Her Home After a Long and Serious Illness.

MAY BE BURIED IN THIS CITY

Miss Sallie E. Groh, who was head of the women's department of the First National bank from the time that department was established until her health failed over a year ago, died Monday morning from nervous prostration. She was a daughter of Rev. Leonard Groh, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, and death came at the family residence, 381 North Twentieth street, where she had been taken nine weeks ago, after being seriously ill in a hospital since last fall.

Few business women of Omaha have a wider or more varied circle of staunch friends than that enjoyed by Miss Groh. Officers of the First National were unanimous in expressions of the highest respect and esteem for her.

Since 1902 she had been connected with the bank, at first in the safety deposit department, and then in charge of the women's department when that was established. Her work there brought her in touch with many women.

Miss Groh was 40 years of age and a native of Boyertown, Pa. She came to Nebraska in 1891, when her father accepted the call to a church in this state. For five years she lived at Lincoln, graduating from the University of Nebraska and being a member of the Kappa Kappa sorority. Omaha was her home after 1896.

Her mother died only five weeks ago. Surviving members of the family are the father, a sister, Miss Anna, and three brothers, A. H. Groh of The Bee staff, Omaha; John Groh of Lebanon, Pa., and E. N. Groh of San Pedro Sula, Honduras, Central America. The latter is expected to come to Omaha, probably in time for the funeral.

The funeral will probably be held Thursday, although arrangements for it are not complete. Although other deceased members of the family are buried in Pennsylvania, Miss Groh will probably be buried here in Forest Lawn cemetery, because of her many friends in Omaha.
