FIVE OF "SEVEN" AND TWO OF "SIX"

Jardine Beats Out McGovern by Thirty-Seven Votes on Unofficial Returns.

BOND PROPOSITIONS ALL CARRY

Unofficial returns from all precincts show that the personnel of the new city council will be Hummel, Kugel, Withnell, Drexel, Mayor Dahlman, Butler and Jardine, the relative strength of their votes being in the order given. Jardine's lead of thirty-seven votes over McGovern, on the unofficial returns, may be increased by the official canvass.

The election proved to be a victory for the administration ticket, which landed five of their seven men, with Drexel and Jardine of the "Big Six," breaking in. Drexel showed surprising strength by gaining fourth place, leading the mayor, whose vote gives him fifth place.

Simon in Last Place. Simon, who was taken up by the "Square Seven," in place of Ryder, was hopelessly lost, landing in fourteenth place and leaving a wide gap between himself and Ryder, who was thirteenth. Zimman led Ryder and Simon. The election upset forecasts and yielded surprises for some of the astute politicians. The mayor's vote was about 500 less than he received three years ago, while Hummel received about 3,000 more. It was generally felt, even in the city hall, that Hummel would run strong, but that the mayor should have dropped back to fifth place, with one of the anti-runners ahead of him, was one of the joints admitted by the administration leaders last evening.

During the last few days many contended that there would be little question regarding the re-election of Dahlman, Hummel, Kugel and Withnell, with quite a fight against Butler and McGovern. McGovern stated several days ago the paving contractors were waging a bitter fight against him on account of his strict methods regarding city contracts. He, however, has not given up, hoping that the official canvass, or even a recount, may land him in seventh place.

On Monday, he said: "If I should fall of re-election, I will go out with the satisfaction that I did my best as city commissioner, and I have a clear consciousness of duty well done."

Ryder occupied the unique situation of being the "political orphan," and many bets were placed on his election, based largely upon the sympathetic vote. Many held that the "Square Seven" made a bad blunder in dropping Ryder; that he had been made a political goat, and Ryder himself appeared confident up to the time the returns began to come in. Dahlman received the high vote in the Third, First and Tenth wards, but fell behind in the Second ward, which had been regarded as a particularly strong Dahlman ward. In the Seventh—the mayor's own ward—he was tenth, with Drexel and Hummel first and second by substantial figures over the mayor.

In the Twelfth ward Hummel led with a vote of about 1,900, while the mayor received only 1,000, tenth in the order of votes received. Of the seven high men in the Twelfth ward five were anti.

"I am more than pleased at the showing made. I can only attribute this to the work I have done in the last three years in the parks and on the boulevards. I believe it was the showing made by my department," was a statement made by Commissioner Hummel.

Mayor Dahlman exhibited some choler at the city hall when he learned that he had lost his lead. "As far as I am concerned, I will give improvements to those wards which supported me. However, I regard it as an administration victory and I am pleased with the general results," said the mayor.

Bonds All Carried. Each of the three propositions submitted to the voters was carried by a large majority, the decision being made in no uncertain manner.

The million-dollar issue of school bonds had a majority of 9,111 votes, and the Auditorium purchase proposition carried by a majority of 7,383. Sunday hay ball was favored by a majority of 9,383.

MAYOR JIM SCORES HARLEY MOORHEAD

Says that Tweed and Tammany in Their Palmiest Days Were Never So High-Handed.

FLYNN SAYS "LET ALL BOOST"

Mayor Dahlman is very indignant over the manner in which he alleges Election Commissioner Moorhead used his office to disfranchise voters in the election. The mayor says he is having about 100 affidavits prepared by voters barred from the polls on flimsy technicalities and in the guise of the law. To quote the mayor in his own words: "Tweed and Tammany in their palmiest days were never as high-handed as the election commissioner we now have. The administration candidates lost nearly 1,000 votes on account of Moorhead's arbitrary methods. I have positive evidence of specific cases. I want to say that the election commissioner and his crowd caused a loss of 1,000 votes for the Square Seven."

To Call on Governor. Some of the mayor's references to the election commissioner were even more pointed. He insists he will demand that Governor Morehead investigate the high-handed methods used by the election commissioner and take action on them. In an impromptu talk to a crowd on Farnam street in the evening the mayor said: "I wouldn't waste time shot on Abraham Sutton, who is a dead duck. What has he done to build up this city and what have his associates in this campaign done toward boosting Omaha? I am here to say that the men behind The Bee and the World-Herald have always stood for the best interests of the city, while the Daily News has done nothing but knock and tear down what others have built."

The mayor referred to the newspaper organ of the Big Six as a "low-down lying sheet, not even owned in Omaha." He referred to the impending struggle in this state on the prohibition question.

To Organize Monday. The commission plan of government law provides that the new council shall meet and organize on the first Monday following the election. The interest centers about who will be selected as mayor, but in view of there being four democrats in the new council it is generally believed that the present mayor will enter upon his fourth term in that office.

The successful candidates of the Square Seven received many congratulations in the city hall yesterday. Commissioner McGovern, whose defeat seems quite probable, states that he knows the paving contractors exerted much effort against him because of his refusal to let them use him and his office for their personal ends.

Chairman Flynn of the administration campaign committee was around bright and early. "One of the unfortunate features of the campaign was the bitter manner in which the anti speakers attacked the city in general, giving a false impression to strangers," said he.

"We urged our speakers against this sort of campaign speaking. As for myself, I am ready to forget and perhaps forgive and my hope is that we will all get together for a Greater Omaha. We wish to thank all who worked in behalf of the Square Seven."

Mr. Flynn explained that shortly after the noon hour yesterday the word was passed around among the administration people to work for Drexel in place of Simon, who appeared hopelessly lost. He also declared that at one stage of the campaign negotiations were pending for taking Drexel on the Square Seven ticket, but the opinion prevailed that Zimman should be defeated and that the man to accomplish that would be Simon. There are rumors that Simon will be "taken care of" when the new council shall have been organized.

Employees on Antinous Seat. Five city employees are just now on the anxious seat on account of having worked for the "Big Six" instead of the "Ins." Three of these men are said to be in the department of public improvements and two in the health department.

Chief of Police Dunn reports that the election was more orderly and free from disturbance than any he can remember.

"Will I ever get over this?" Is It "Just a Cold?" Don't say "It's just a cold." It may turn into rheumatism, or dropsy, or gout, or other serious sickness that comes from weak kidneys. Because colds are due to congestion. Congestion makes the kidneys over-work to filter the blood. Colds often leave the kidneys weak. First, break the cold; then use Doan's Kidney Pills to avert the kidney dangers. For backache they are especially well recommended.

An Omaha Man's Statement: Henry Netwig, retired farmer, 560 S. 24th St. Omaha, says: "Now and then my back ached and I could plainly tell from my kidneys acting irregularly that they were disordered. The secretions scalded in passage, too, and it was plain to be seen what kind of medicine I needed. Less than one box of Doan's Kidney Pills fixed me up in good shape."
