loop were in a chaotic condition. Kearney and York were about to follow the suft of Superior and quit. No other towns which could support professional base ball were available and it looked like a Win Game, 3 to 2 six club league of he loaner, the new the enthusiasm of Fairbury, the new child, became contagious, all the cities in the league caatching the fever, and Outfielder Matney offered the management of the Kearney club a proposition which kept that team in the league.

Matney Sells Tikets. Matney offered to sell season tickets at a ridiculously low price. He was given the job and he sold everybody in Kearney and Buffalo county. The result was that a snug sum reposed in the Kearney treasury when it came time to talk base ball. Kearney re-entered the league and made Matney manager of the club to prove their appreciation of his services, York began to hustle; the business men of the town put up their cash and base ball was saved there, The same happened at Norfolk, which was wavering a bit because of debts outstanding from last year.

If the attendance in the various cities anywhere near approaches that of last of last year the state circuit will enjoy a bountiful success. The schedule calls for but ninety-eight games, jumps between cities are short and inexpensive, salary limits have been reduced to a Straight to Pirates salary limits have been reduced to a been cut. So the team which loses money

Will Stick to Ruling. All of the magnates have agreed to in vogue in one or two of the cities with the result that the whole league lost. The magnates in those cities did not wish to make money, they only boped to conduct a winning team. But their salary kiting worked two ways and hurt them as well as the other fellow. President Miles has been assured nothing of the kind will occur this year, and he intends to keep a sharp lookout that the magnates keep thier word.

There is a lot of new blood in the state this year. All of the teams have ac-quired the services of young chaps of the year. The other teams are stronger and everything looks bright for a mighty tight race with all eight cities running well together.

"SOMETIMES THEY COME BACK"-Fans and sporting men in general are interested in the wonderful exhibition of box-artistry shown by Jack Coombs during the Brooklyn-Philadelphia base ball game. When Mack "cleaned out" his championship team after the close of last season Coombs was sold to Brooklyn, and his presence in the Dodger team may make them real trouble makers. Anyway, it was his work that enabled Brooklyn to be the first team to get as good as an even break in a series with the victorious Phillies.
