

Nebraska HITCHCOCK SEEKS TO PULL THE WIRES

Noticeable Moves on His Part to Find Places for All Who Might Seek Senatorship.

SOME THINGS TO RECKON WITH
(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, May 10.—(Special.)—The attempt of the World-Herald to switch Governor John H. Morehead from the candidacy for the United States senate to the democratic nomination for vice president in 1916 is received with considerable amusement around the state house, and is taken as an indication that the present senator fears the candidacy of the governor.

The boom started from the same source for Dr. P. L. Hall for the democratic nomination for governor is taken as inspired by the same powers for the purpose of getting all of the strong candidates out of the way and after something they don't want as Senator Hitchcock may have a clear track for something he does want.

However, when the World-Herald man attempts to find positions for all the democrats in the state who have their eyes on the senatorship he will find a real job on his hands. It is well known that Jake Thomas of Seward has his eye on the place now held by Senator Hitchcock. Thomas is pretty strong with the democrats over the state, and it may be considerable of a job to switch him onto some other trail. Congressman Dan Stephens is said to have his eye on the governor's chair, and there is little doubt that Governor Morehead has his eye on the senatorship.

It was pretty generally asserted that if Charles W. Bryan was elected mayor of Lincoln he would consider it an endorsement of his candidacy for governor, but now it is said he will be satisfied to stop there for the present. It must not be forgotten, though, that Clarence Harman must be taken into consideration when nominations are made in 1916. Harman may become a candidate himself for governor or for some state office, and the feeling is general that the man who successfully engineered Morehead's candidacy last fall must be reckoned with.

The sentiment among democrats, however, doubts whether anything short of war with a foreign power can keep the present national administration in the saddle. This appears to be the feeling around the state house, and sometimes a discouraged democratic officeholder speaks his mind on the subject.

Would Place Ban on Teaching of German

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, May 10.—(Special.)—Felix Newton, the czar of "Little Russia," that portion of Lincoln known as the First ward, has a new scheme to settle the war in Europe. He proposes to torpedo the German language in all the public schools in the country and prohibit its being taught in any school. He would change the course of study so as to leave out German, and he says that it would effectually show to that nation that the United States was not in sympathy with the war as carried on by Germany.

CORNERSTONE OF NEW CHURCH AT HARVARD LAID
HARVARD, Neb., May 10.—(Special.)—The cornerstone of the new German Reformed church, now in process of erection, was laid with imposing exercises Sunday afternoon. Addresses were made in German by Rev. Kohler, pastor of the Reformed church at Sutton, Rev. W. C. Frey of the German Evangelical church of this city, and Rev. H. H. Backman, pastor of the German Methodist Episcopal church of this city, and in English by Rev. B. A. Warren of the Congregational church and Rev. J. J. Langston of the Christian church of this city. Rev. F. P. Franke, pastor of the Christian church, was master of ceremonies and spoke both in German and English. The church choir rendered several musical numbers. The estimated cost of the new building and fixtures is $5,000, raised by free will offerings.

A union service of all the Protestant churches of this city was held at the Congregational church Sunday evening, this being the last service in which Rev. D. A. Warren for the last five years pastor of the church, will take part. He goes from here to Geneva. Speaking was both in German and English.

High School Commencement.
FAIRBURY, Neb., May 10.—(Special.)—Fairbury High school will hold its commencement exercises in the opera house Friday, May 28. The class of 1915 is the largest class ever graduated here. It consists of fifty-three members—exteen young men and thirty-seven young women. The seniors will open the program of commencement season with a play at the opera house, May 11, entitled "High School." The annual baccalaureate sermon will be preached May 23.

Two Horses Incarcerated.
PONCA, Neb., May 10.—(Special.)—Fire destroyed a barn belonging to Bert Dennison of Sioux City Saturday evening at 9:30. The barn was also discovered on fire at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, but was extinguished. In the evening the barn was well in flames before it was discovered and all attempts to rescue the two horses from the barn were fruitless. It is thought that the fire was of an incendiary origin.

Nebraska PURVIS APPEALS FOR ROAD

Tax Commissioner of Grand Island Line Says State Taxes Are Too High.

SUPERINTENDENT CONSOLIDATES
(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, May 10.—(Special.)—The State Board of Assessment held a short session this morning and listened to an appeal from W. N. Purvis, tax commissioner of the St. Joseph & Grand Island railroad for a reduction of assessment on that road.

Mr. Purvis did not attempt to make any comparison with farm lands or other property, but simply showed that he believed the road was being valued too high for taxation purposes. There was a deficit in the earnings of the road last year of $18,000 or $22 per mile. The valuation of the road last year was $2,500 a mile, which, he thinks, is altogether too high as compared to the earning capacity of the road.

More School Consolidations.
The work of consolidation of school districts is going along merrily, according to State Superintendent Thomas. Mr. Ford, who has charge of the work, left tonight for Nance county, where there are two propositions up for consideration, one of them being about six miles west of Fullerton at a rural church known as North Star.

A large number of the schools of the state in rural districts have but from one to ten pupils, and, in fact, there are three in Lancaster county with less than three pupils. The cost per capita ought not to be more than $20 per pupil, but in some districts it is costing as high as $200.

Superintendent Thomas goes on the theory that as it costs just as much to run a passenger train across the state with only ten passengers to the car as it does if the coaches are all full, it is just as much to run a school district with two pupils as it does one with two dozen, so in order to get more efficiency and at the same time less cost, he believes the consolidation scheme a success.

Damage Case Appealed.
An appeal from the district court of Furnas county has been made by Clayton M. Lowelling and Alpheus Gaddis from a judgment secured in that court by John H. Williams for $1,900 damages caused by the defendants and their wives enticing Mrs. Williams away from him. Mr. Williams married Hattie E. Bradford in Maryville, Mo., March 10, 1888. They later moved to Beaver City in this state and on continual representations made by the defendants to Mrs. Williams that Williams was of unsound mind and a dangerous man to live with it is alleged she left him. He sued for damages and received the above sum.

State Taxes Remitted.
There has been remitted to the state treasurer since January 1 by county treasurers $125,000. Of this amount Douglas county made one remittance in April of $14,000 and Lancaster another at about the same time of $15,000. The state treasurer is attempting to have the county treasurers remit every month, but as far as the two mentioned counties are concerned has not been successful.

Examiners Explain Some Statements About A. O. U. W.
(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, May 10.—(Special.)—The controversy which has arisen because of a report filed with the State Insurance board showing the expenditures of the head officers of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and which is pronounced false by A. M. Walling, Master Workman, as regards the amount paid by the organization for the publication of the official paper, is probably open to explanation.

The report of the examiners, which is signed by John W. Jones and C. S. Clayton, recites that the cost of printing the official paper was 14 1/2 cents per copy, in comparison to 1 1/4 to 4 cents paid by other organizations for printing their paper.

The members of the finance committee of the Ancient Order of United Workmen state that the price mentioned is right, but is for a whole year's number instead of for each copy, while the comparison with other papers was probably made on the single copy and not for the year.

MISSION TOPICS DELEGATES' THEME

Pulpits of Lutheran Churches Filled by Speakers Attending Convention in Omaha.

HEROES OF MISSIONARY FIELD
Delegates attending the national convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the general synod of the Lutheran church now being held in Omaha, addressed the congregations of the various English Lutheran churches of Omaha, South Omaha and Benson yesterday.

The following delegates were the speakers: Mrs. A. J. Eckhoff, Nokomis, Ill.; Mrs. H. C. Michael, Northumberland, Pa.; Mrs. J. F. Kresching, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. L. A. Beall, Polk, Ill.; Mrs. C. E. Gardner, Springfield, O.; Miss Flora Prince, Springfield, O.; Mrs. A. H. Smith, Ashland, O.; Mrs. T. L. Croze, Sharpsburg, Pa.; Mrs. George Hillerman, San Diego, Cal.; and Miss Margery M. T. Lilly, Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Rev. Dr. Baitly preached the convention sermon in Kountze Memorial church in the morning.

Prayer Victorious Force.
"Prayer is the one victorious force in missionary work," said Mrs. A. H. Smith of Ashland, O., speaking at St. Maria's Lutheran church in the evening. "But thanksgiving and praise are even of a higher order. Men are ever ready to pray when they have need or are in trouble. But they sometimes forget to thank their God for the good things He has given them."

"The victories of the past and the opportunities of the present are a challenge to the church to go forward to new achievements in winning the world from the darkness of ignorance and heathenism. The door is open as never before in all non-Christian countries. Many of these are under the guidance, control and government of Christian nations and this too an important advantage in teaching them. Truly we can say with the psalmist, 'The Lord hath done great things for us whereof we are glad.'"

Attention to Essentials.
Mrs. T. L. Croze of Sharpsburg, Pa., speaking at the same service on "Emphasizing Essentials," urged the more serious and purposeful Christian life, less given to the satisfying of the appetites, to seeking for material success and to social pleasures and more to the "essentials," the things that endure.

"Life is like an organ upon which each person plays," she said. "The great Composer has written a score and if we catch His spirit we get harmony where sin has introduced only discord."

"We must determine for ourselves what we will emphasize in our lives. St. Peter after Christ's betrayal, follows Him afar off."

Missionary Heroes.
"A course in mission study would convert many of those who do not believe in foreign missions. I know of one man working as a missionary at a paltry salary in a hard field who has repeatedly received $10,000 a year with ease and honor in this country."

Robert Weidensall, international secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, was present and offered prayer. Sessions of the convention will continue this morning, beginning at 9 o'clock. All the day meetings are in Kountze Memorial Lutheran church, Twenty-sixth and Farmington streets.

MOTHER THE THEME IN MANY PULPITS

Ministers of Omaha Pay Tribute to the Mothers of the Nation Living and Dead.

OTHERS REMINDED OF DAY
Mothers' day was observed in Omaha Sunday by services and sermons in churches and other religious institutions, by the wearing of white flowers by many persons and by the writing of letters "to mother."

In nearly all churches "mother" was the theme of sermons. At the Young Men's Christian association an address was delivered by R. B. Wallace, president of the Council Bluffs association.

Women inmates of the county jail were reminded of the day by white carnations sent to them by the Omaha union of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, which also sent flowers to the aged and invalid residents of the House of Hope.

Speakers referred to the fact that Nebraska has a peculiar interest in the celebration of the day owing to the fact that it was former United States Burket who introduced in congress the resolution which gave sanction to the government to its general observance. Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia is credited with having originated the idea.

Tell of Love of Mother.
At Grace Baptist church Sunday evening where women speakers participated in the program, appealing talks were made by Mrs. Edward Johnson and Rev. E. B. Tatt, the pastor, in which the love of a mother was held up as the only love worthy of comparison with that of the Savior, resulted in bringing several young persons to join the church.

"Consider the love of your mother," said Mrs. Johnson, "then magnify it 100-fold and you may gain a faint idea of the love of God."

Mrs. G. D. Maddison told of the history of Mothers' day which is now observed throughout the United States and in several other countries. Mrs. M. G. Macleod talked of the mothers of Biblical history, closing with a touching reference to Mary, Mrs. W. A. Vickery asserted that mothers, whether themselves members of churches or not, should give their children Christian education.

In Other Pulpits.
Among the Mothers' day topics discussed by pastors were the following: W. H. M. Scott, Mount Moriah Baptist, "A Message from God to a Mother;" J. A. Maxwell, First Baptist, "Women;" Rev. C. E. Cobbe, First Christian, "The Efficient Mother;" George L. Peters, Northside Christian, "The Blessing of a Good Mother;" Rev. G. W. Snyder, St. Matthew's English Lutheran, "Biblical Women in the Ancient Church of God;" W. D. Jones, United Brethren, "Our Mothers;" Rev. W. H. Underwood, McCabe Methodist, "Mother."

Superior Woman Killed by Explosion
SUPERIOR, Neb., May 10.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. J. E. Fisher was killed this morning by explosion of gasoline. When Mr. Fisher, who is local agent for the Standard Oil company, went home to dinner he found her lying at the foot of the outside cellar stairs with her head upon the bottom step. Upon examination he found that she was lifeless and that she had been killed by an explosion of gasoline fumes. The remainder of a quart jar of gasoline lying in the cellar along with some charred matches. Her hair was all burned off her head and her arms and body terribly burned. Mrs. Fisher was an elderly woman with grown children. It is a mystery how the explosion occurred.

Brokers Who Start False Rumors Will Be Disciplined
CHICAGO, May 10.—President C. H. Canby of the Chicago Board of Trade posted a notice today saying the officers of the board would "hold to strict accountability any member found guilty of originating or disseminating false rumors."

The notice was inspired by rumors first spread among brokers that President Wilson had been assassinated. The rumor, while promptly denied, accelerated a decline in the wheat market.

STALH DAMAGE SUIT IN U. S. SUPREME COURT
(From a Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—(Special Telegram.)—H. C. Rome of Omaha after moving the admission of Edgar M. Moreman, Jr., a fellow townsman to the supreme court today, presented a motion to disqualify in the case of Rome Miller versus Emil J. Stahl coming up to the supreme court of the United States from the supreme court of Nebraska.

In July, 1911, Stahl was a guest of the Milard hotel, where he was injured during a fire. A jury awarded him $6,500.

Subsequently the supreme court of Nebraska sustained the findings of the lower court whereupon an appeal was taken by Rome Miller to the supreme court of the United States on a number of grounds, chief of which is that Miller has been denied a constitutional right under article four.

LODGE OF SORROW BY LOCAL MASONS

Ceremony Used for First Time in Conformity to Ritual Adopted Several Years Ago.

IN MEMORY GRAND MASTERS
Masons filled the auditorium at the Scottish Rite cathedral Sunday afternoon, attending on a ceremony entirely unique in Nebraska, a "Lodge of sorrow," held for the first time in conformity to a ritual adopted by the Masonic grand lodge several years ago. It was in memory of three past grand masters of Nebraska, all citizens of Omaha, and two members of the same Blue lodge who died during the last winter. These past grand masters were Harry Porter Deuel, who died in November; Martin W. Dunham, who died February 18, and John J. Mercer, who died February 25. The nine lodges of Greater Omaha united in the service.

Past Grand Master Samuel P. Davidson made a historical address during which he reviewed the history of the Grand lodge of Nebraska and the part taken in its establishment and growth by the brethren whose memory was being paid a tribute. Past Grand Master H. P. Wilson of Lincoln spoke of the life and work of Harry Porter Deuel, Past Grand Master Cain of Martin W. Dunham and Past Grand Master DeFord of John J. Mercer. These four addresses are pronounced by Masons who heard them as being a most remarkable series, alike for lofty thought, poetic composition and impressive delivery.

Music is Impressive.
A special choir under the direction of Thomas J. Kelly, with Martin Bush as accompanist, furnished the musical program, which was also notable for its arrangement and the manner in which it was sung.

The ceremonies were under direction of the following officers: William P. Wherry, worshipful master; Edgar L. Hoag, senior warden; Alfred M. Longwell, junior warden; Charles S. McGill, senior deacon; Samuel Rees, Jr., junior deacon; Rev. Edwin Hart Jenks, chaplain; Carl E. Herring presided during the addresses.

When You Wash Your Hair, Don't Use Soap
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain milled coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soap or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses off easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.
