

HUGE GRAVES FOR THE UNIDENTIFIED

Bodies of 140 Victims of the Lusitania Buried at Queenstown with Full Honors.

WILL SEND AMERICANS HOME

QUEENSTOWN, May 9.—(Via London, May 10.)—Affidavits made by Miss Jessie Taft Smith of Braceville, O.; Dr. Howard L. Fisher, Major F. Warren Pearl and Robert Rankin of New York are the only permanent records of the Lusitania disaster obtained by the United States consulate. All are brief and none reflects seriously upon the behavior of the Lusitania crew except what some witnesses "conspire the lifeboat fiasco. The affidavits were submitted to Secretary of State Bryan, while those of Major Pearl and Dr. Fisher were sent to Ambassador Page at London.

Beginning at noon today, at Consul Frost's orders, the bodies of the identified Americans, covered with the Stars and Stripes, were removed from scattered morgues and placed side by side in the Cunard line offices on the water front, as they were carried through the streets by British sailors the crowds uncovered. Cheap brown coffins contained the bodies of Charles Frohman, Isaac F. Frummbull of Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. Henry D. MacDona of New York; Charles H. Stevens of Atlantic City; Dr. F. S. Pearson of New York; D. Walker of New York; Dr. Pearson's secretary, Mrs. McBrook; Hugh Cameron; Dr. J. J. Egan; D. T. New York; and Mrs. Spillman of New York. Mr. Frohman's secretary arrived today to take charge of his employer's body.

One of the survivors identified the body of Mrs. R. D. Shymer of New York, the American widow of an English nobleman, who subsequently married an American and had been living in New York. She was on her way to London and her name will probably be added to the list of American dead. Her body will be sent back to the United States as well as those of others, some of them starting tonight.

These Huge Graves.

A whole company of British soldiers today completed the digging of three huge graves, each 30x20 feet, in which the 140 unidentified dead will be buried tomorrow. The moving of bodies up the hill to the cemetery will begin at 1:30 a. m. and continue until 1:30 p. m. Then as the last ten or a dozen—the number to be determined by the hearses available—moves to the cemetery, the funeral procession will form and march to the graves. Mounted police, soldiers and civilians will participate. There will be a joint service, clergymen of all creeds joining in saying prayers.

Many children and little babies still lie in the morgues like so many dolls. The townspeople covered them with flowers and it is possible the little ones will be placed in a grave together. Some on crutches, many limping and nearly all bruised, the survivors left their hotels in silent groups throughout the afternoon. There were some Americans, many Canadians and English. The presence of so many children on the Lusitania was due to the fact that Canadian women were going to England to join their relatives while their husbands awaited at the front.

Not a single body was brought in today from the spot where the Lusitania disappeared, but some bodies may yet be found if a storm does not scatter them. There will not be so great a number picked up, however, as was the case in the North Atlantic after the Titanic disaster, for that vessel's victims were thrown all on deck had ample time to carefully adjust lifeboats.

Two Americans Arrested.

Lindell T. Bates, son of Linton W. Bates of New York, vice chairman of the American commission for the relief of Belgium, was arrested at Ykensale yesterday on a charge of "espionage" while searching for the body of his brother, Linton W. Bates, Jr., who is believed to have perished on the Lusitania. Newton B. Knox, an American mining engineer, who was with Mr. Bates, was taken into custody at the same time.

The sergeant who made the arrests accused them of being officers of a German submarine. After being taken before a captain they were detained at the barracks a half hour, until United States Consul Frost at Queenstown vouched for their innocence. Their search of the coast revealed no trace of the body of L. W. Bates, Jr.

The body of Mrs. Anthony Watson of New York has been added to the list of identified American dead, while the name of John Williams, 39 years old, has been included in the list of survivors. William Webb, the representative of Alfred G. Vanderbilt wanted to send a tug last night to continue the search for Mr. Vanderbilt's body, but the admiralty and Cunard line officials discouraged the plan and it was abandoned. There is no indication when the search for bodies will be resumed.

BERLIN VOICES REGRET TO U. S. AT LIVES LOST

(Continued from Page One.) of the war had led to the loss of so many American lives." The phrases used were those of the ambassador in a written statement given out after his call. The statement said:

"The German ambassador called at the State department and expressed his deep regret that the events of the war had led to the loss of so many American lives." "Whether the expression was made on instructions from his government or his own initiative was not made clear by the ambassador nor explained by Mr. Bryan. Inasmuch as it was the first statement of its kind since American lives were lost on the British steamer Falaba and the American steamer Gulf Light—which also were torpedoed—and no specific mention was made of the Lusitania incident, the impression prevailed in official quarters that the ambassador's statement was the usual broad expression which diplomatic representatives are permitted to make when a disaster occurs to the citizens of a friendly country.

Will Have Little Effect. The action of the German ambassador, however, will have little effect on the policy to be pursued it was said, unless the German government makes formal apology for the loss of Americans on the Lusitania and promises reparation.

Just what course the United States will follow still is undecided. President Wilson locked himself in his study in the White House during the forenoon and gave strict orders not to be disturbed. For two days he has consulted no one—not even the closest members of his official family—preferring to work out in solitude a policy he may submit tomorrow to his advisers. He studied documents and papers on the law of the case today and was believed also to be mapping out the speech he is to deliver tonight before the gathering in Philadelphia of several thousand of newly naturalized citizens.

A severance of diplomatic relations with Germany, it was pointed out, would have a serious effect on the humanitarian work the United States has been conducting. The American staff in Belgium might not be permitted by Germany to remain and complications that might destroy the effectiveness of the American relief might result. These are considerations which it is known the president is turning over in his mind.

Auto Breaks Pole With Live Wires; Two Burn to Death

FRENO, Cal., May 10.—Two are dead and two others were in a critical condition from burns as a result of a collision of an automobile yesterday with a power pole whose wires, carrying 60,000 volts of electricity, fell upon the car. Miss Flora Crouse, aged 18, and Carl Stewart were killed outright. Stewart's wife and George Cole were so badly burned their recovery is doubtful. A fifth occupant of the machine escaped with a severe shock and minor injuries.

DEATH RECORD.

Jacob Mason. PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., May 10.—(Special)—Jacob Mason, a carpenter, about 58 years of age, while working on a dwelling today, climbed down a ladder to get a drink of water and fell over dead of heart failure. He had not been complaining, but had been working at his trade Saturday, as usual. Rev. M. M. Drummer, pastor of the First Methodist church, will conduct the funeral.

WILSON NOT TO ACT HASTILY IN LUSITANIA CASE

United States can be voted in a far more effective way without declaring war. The withdrawal of Ambassador Gerard without actually severing diplomatic relations has been suggested in some official quarters as one way of indicating the feeling of the American government. Other officials intimate that a complete severance of diplomatic relations until complete reparation and apology is made probably would conform to the wishes of American public opinion. Before any such step is reached, however, certain preliminary steps most likely will be followed. As soon as Ambassador Gerard's report from the German government on the facts of the sinking of the Lusitania are received, it is expected that a note will be sent demanding full reparation under the warning of the United States that Germany would be held to "a strict accountability" for the loss of American vessels or lives. The case of the American steamer Gulf Light, torpedoed without warning, the attack by German airmen on the American ship Cushing and the drowning of Leon C. Thresher, an American, on board the American steamer Falaba probably will be grouped in the general representations. On Germany's reply will depend the nature of the next step by the United States.

Extra Session Possible. While White House officials would not deny specifically that an extra session of congress might be called, they said there was no indication whatever that the president has any such intention at present.

Close observers of the trend of official thought believed the president first would take steps to express the horror of the American people over the killing of neutrals on the Lusitania. The step most discussed was the breaking off of diplomatic relations and the sending of representations regarding the opinion of the American government on the Lusitania, Falaba, Gulf Light and Cushing incidents.

Wonders What the U. S. Will Do About Murder of Citizens

LONDON, May 10.—"Our enemies have reached a degree of infamy, culminating in the destruction of the Lusitania, which it is simply hopeless to attempt to describe," said Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, in a speech today. Mr. Bonar Law's remarks were delivered on the occasion of the presentation of a medal to Captain Bell of the British steamship Thorold, which rammed a German submarine off Beachy Head in February. "This is not an act of war," Mr. Bonar Law continued. "It is simply murder most foul, most unnatural."

Saying that up to the present no "effective protest" had been made by any neutral country, he added: "What will happen now? The great proud nation—the United States—is the neutral country most closely affected by this latest outrage. The simple fact is that citizens of that great country have been barbarously murdered. It is not for me to say what their action ought to be, but I feel sure the United States will be guided not merely by the momentary interests of the country, but by feelings as to what is due to a great nation among other nations of the world."

Mr. Bonar Law said that if the sinking of the Lusitania had the effect he believed it would upon the feelings, not only of British soldiers, but of the whole nation, "then we can thank the Germans for the last instance of their barbarous methods."

HEADACHES. Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other headaches have headaches every week or every month, and still others have headaches occasionally, but not at regular intervals. The best Doctor's advice is to find the cause of many of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know what will remove it, so as to give a permanent cure. All he can do is to prescribe the usual pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, and treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches, no matter what their nature, take Anti-Kamite Tablets, and the results will be satisfactory in the highest degree. You can obtain them at all drug stores. In any quantity, 10c worth, 25c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

"STAR—The Chew of Good Cheer" Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO THOUSANDS of brainy, brawny men have made America the leader of the world in Telephone and Telegraph service. These alert, clear thinking men chew tobacco, and the majority of them are STAR chewers and STAR boosters. STAR is made clean and kept so; STAR plugs are thick, so that you get more of the mellow chewing, long lasting tobacco; STAR plugs won't dry out like thin plugs, and every STAR plug weighs a full 16 ounce pound, every time. A trial STAR chew will change you from a "brand switcher" to a "STAR PLUGGER." So great is the demand on the part of "chewers and doers" for STAR, that one hundred and twenty-five million ten-cent pieces are made and sold each year—enough to follow a telegraph line from St. Petersburg, Florida, to Seattle, Washington, a distance of about 4000 miles, and there would be over 600 miles of STAR left over. 16 oz.
