McKeen Company is Making Jitneys of Huge Proportions

The McKeen Motor Car company has sone into the business of building fitney buses and has about completed two. One of the litneys is to go into service be-tween St. Paul and Minneapolis, and the other is going to one of the eastern cities. Several others are in course of construction, having reached various stages of completion.

The McKeen jitney is built along the same lines as the gasoline motor cars that have become so popular on numer-ous interurban and regular railroads, though much smaller. The jitney that is to go into service between St. Paul and Minneapolis will be put onto the Omaha streets several days next week, simply for exhibition

Continued Rumors Send Wheat Price Up Still Farther

Continued talk of chinchbugs, Hessian flies and dry weather in Oklahoma and Missouri had the effect of boosting wheat to a cents over the prices of Wednesday. The Omaha market was strong at $1.69 to $1.52% per bushel and the offerings light, there being but steven carloads on sale. This was quickly bought up and most of it will go to the mills. Generally the sales were made before the top of the advance was reached.

Twenty-three loads of corn were offered. Prices were 16 to % of a cent bet-69 to 73 cents per bushel. Oats were up % to 1% cents, the selling price being 40 to 51 cents
