

MANY APPOINTED WITHOUT CONFLICT

Mayor Names Rine, Lambert, To Pool and Fleharty for City Legal Department.

JOHN GRANT PEGG IS NAMED

The political race went out and the expected explosion in the city council chamber Tuesday morning was not heard when the order of business reached the reading of appointments by Mayor Dahlman.

The mayor appointed and the council confirmed John A. Rine for another three-year term as city attorney at $3,600 a year.

W. C. Lambert, present assistant city attorney, was promoted to corporation counsel, at an increase of salary from $3,000 to $3,600 a year.

Assistant City Attorney L. J. To Pool was reappointed to his present position, with an increase from $1,800 to $2,500 a year.

Fleharty is named. H. B. Fleharty will enter the city legal department as city solicitor at $2,200 a year, being the new appointee.

The mayor has not acted on the appointment of a city prosecutor, which office has now in the subject of considerable discussion.

Anton Hoffman was appointed city license inspector to succeed David Berkowitz. John Mathieson was reappointed assistant license inspector.

The following city hall staff was reappointed: Emil Waldstrom, superintendent; Earl Fober, engineer; Henry O'Brien, watchman; B. Gies, and M. G. King, firemen; H. J. Haverly, George Sheehan and Emil Peterson, elevator conductors.

The city clerk's office staff was confirmed as follows: O. J. Jelen, W. E. Sargent, A. E. Patton, Emil Hoffman, K. M. Nolan and Margaret Boehlke.

In the department of public accounts and finance, the following checks were confirmed for three years: Charles E. Rindler, John Fred, W. S. Robertson, Fred Solomon, George Clark, Peter O'Malley, William B. Meyers, Clara C. Young, Alice M. Wheeler and Blanche Manning.

The council confirmed the appointment of Lawley as inspector in the department of public improvements and Herman Dresser, Goodley Stricker and Gus A. Bryson in the office of Superintendent of the city street department.

E. H. Hill and Thomas Felsoner were announced as members of the plumbers' examining board, and Henry Schroeder and James Anderson were made members of the engineers' examining board.

The council chamber was crowded with citizens who expected to view a few controversial propositions.

Best Known Dentist is Ashland Man, Who Has Both Legs Off

Perhaps the best known, and certainly the most interesting, dentist attending the convention here is Dr. H. L. Henry of Ashland. Dr. Henry's legs are off of close to the hips and he walks by means of his hands.

That he is disheartened? Not by a long time. His face is rosy and fat and beaming, and his eyes dance with merriment.

"You seem to be just about as well off as a man that has legs," said the interviewer.

"Better, a whole lot better," said this man who laughs at fate. "You see I don't have to buy shoes and I'm never bothered with corns."

Dr. Henry has been a member of the dental society for twenty years. He does his work seated on a high stool and with his feet on a platform by electricity.

"Hello, Dr. Henry," cried a fellow dentist, shaking hands, and then adding in a whisper, "Say, what was the name of that corn remedy that you recommended to me?"

VISITING DENTISTS ARE 400

State Teeth Pullers Watch Interesting Clinics by Specialists from the East.

BANQUET AT THE PONTENELLE

Many are the teeth that are aching today. Aching with a pain that's hard and stern. Many cavities—ones and twos and threes. Await the "doc's" return.

Upward of 400 dentists are in Omaha from all over the state attending the forty-eighth annual meeting of the Nebraska State Dental Society, which is holding its sessions in the Hotel Fontenelle and its clinics in the nearby Cleveland dental college.

Several scores of dentists are here from Iowa also, attracted by the extraordinary excellence of the program and the eminence of the dental authorities who are giving lectures and conducting clinics.

The second day of the convention opened with the address of President W. A. McHenry Tuesday morning at the Fontenelle. This was followed by lectures by Dr. F. H. Skinner of Chicago and Dr. M. H. Casler of Chicago.

In the afternoon occurred the first of a series of novel clinical lectures by eminent specialists. These were held in four rooms in the Cleveland Dental college.

As the capacity of the rooms is limited, each specialist presented his lecture on many times as was necessary to give all the members at the convention an opportunity to attend and hear. These clinics were presented by W. H. MacNeil, D. D. S., Minneapolis, Minn.; F. H. Skinner, D. D. S., Chicago, Ill.; P. Ewing Rosen, D. D. S., Chicago, Ill.; A. E. Despecher, D. D. S., Omaha, Neb.

Kugel Has Three Jitney Bus Bills Up to the Council

Three proposed jitney regulatory ordinances submitted to Superintendent Kugel of the police department contain nearly everything except requiring that the jitneys furnish transfers to passengers.

These ordinances have been referred by the council to the committee of the whole for discussion next Monday morning. The most stringent of the proposed measures was offered to Mr. Kugel by P. W. Pich, who declared his ordinance was presented in the name of the Federated Improvement club and the South-west Improvement club.

Another ordinance less severe than the improvement club measure was found on Mr. Kugel's desk, the commissionaire introducing it with his signature, but declaring he does not know who brought it in, who wrote it or who wants it passed. This third ordinance was prepared by an attorney for the jitney operators.

The ordinance prepared by the "unknown man" provides for an occupation tax of $90 a year for each jitney, having four or less passenger capacity and $12 a year additional for each revenue seat above four. The bond is fixed at $500 for each car having a seating capacity of ten or less and $1,000 more for each additional seat.

Moorhead to Start Suits Under Law of Corrupt Practices

First prosecutions ever started in Nebraska under the state corrupt practices law will be begun soon by direction of Election Commissioner Moorhead, against fifteen candidates who participated in the recent city primary election, according to an announcement of his intention.

County Attorney Marnoy is reviewing complaints previously drawn and expects to place them in Mr. Moorhead's hands tomorrow. These charge that the candidates failed to file their statements of election expenses within the period allowed by law.

In a statement for publication Mr. Moorhead said: "I expect to start the prosecutions. That is all I care to say except that I want to read the new complaints before anything is done."

The names of the following men were furnished to the county attorney by the election commissioner, Harry R. Fleharty, Anthony T. Monahan, John Yrak, W. M. Nash, Owen Slaven, Louis V. Gays, Frank J. Hiba, Albert W. Bonner, Neils J. Anderson, J. J. Conlon, A. L. Hillinger, T. P. Brown, Julius B. Conley, Jerry Howard, W. G. Shriver, Emil A. Erickson and Frank J. Quigley. All were unsuccessful in the primary or the succeeding city election.

"Tiz" for Tired and Sore Feet

"TIZ" for puffed-up, burning, aching calloused feet and corns.

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, so sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a 25-cent box of "TIZ" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet?

HARRY GREEN NOW STATE'S WITNESS

Trusted Employee at Burgess-Nash is to Testify Against Three Pawnbrokers.

HE IS NOW OUT UNDER BOND

Harry Green, the trusted employee of the Burgess-Nash store, who confessed to thefts of almost $1,000 worth of merchandise, has turned state's witness in the prosecution of three proprietors of pawn shops, who have been charged in police court with receiving property stolen from Green. They are Arthur Lazerowitz, Joe Rosenberg and Sam Schwartz, whose pawn shops are in the neighborhood of Sixteenth and Cass streets.

When the three men were arraigned in court and entered pleas of not guilty City Detectives Murphy and Rooney and Store Detective Otto A. Tazel declared they would seek to prove that the three pawnbrokers had coerced Green in his systematic thefts and had violated the law, not only by receiving the stolen goods, but also by failing to keep records of some of the stuff Green brought in.

Green has a wife and two children and lives at 216 Ohio street. He was a special officer and also doorman at the Burgess-Nash store, having been for a number of years with Louis C. Nash first with the street railway company and then in the department store.

When accused of the offense, following six months of thefts in all departments, he broke down and confessed completely. Much of the stolen property has been recovered by the detectives, who allege that the three accused pawnbrokers received a good deal of it. It is asserted that the pawnbrokers had arranged to place a certain signal card in their windows when police officers were inside so that Green would not come in with stolen goods in their presence.

All three pawnshop men protest their innocence and immediately furnished bail in sums of $300 each. Their hearings were set for Friday morning. No complaint has been filed against Green yet, and he is at liberty under bond, since turning state's witness.

NATIONAL GIVEN TIME TO REMEDY ITS CAPITAL STOCK

The State Insurance board, which began proceedings against the National Fidelity and Casualty company, will not be displaced in its position of plaintiff in the suit by minority stockholders who sought to intervene asking for a change of management, according to a decision of District Judge Rodick. The ruling leaves the case in its original status, the company being given time in which to make an effort to remedy an impairment of its capital stock.
