

YORK SECURES NEW TRIAL

United States Court of Appeals Renders Decision in Case of Colfax Grocer.

ERROR MADE AT THE TRIAL

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., May 21.—(Special Telegram.)—A new trial has been granted by the United States court of appeals in the case of George H. York, the Colfax grocer, convicted of white slavery, and sentenced to a year and a day in prison at Leavenworth.

At Work on Railroad Cases. Chairman Thorne of the state railroad commission is at work on the arguments in the western rate case, and Messrs. Guther and Wilson, the other two members, have been out in the state looking at crossing complaints.

The Cascade narrow gauge widening demand in Dubuque and Jackson counties; the only narrow gauge railroad in the state. The Milwaukee company claims it would cost almost as much to widen as to build an entire new line.

The Council Bluffs union depot demand. The railroad companies insist that the commission had not the authority under the law to order a union depot and the fact that the legislature tried, but failed to change the law giving authority, is evidence of recognition that the law is not too strong enough.

The branch line passenger train service. On the Algona branch of the Northwest-ern either a third train is wanted or an extension of the distance run by one train from Des Moines which does not go over the whole branch. The Calmar line of the Milwaukee has but one passenger train a day and the patrons desire, two, in accordance with the law of the state as to what shall be deemed adequate service.

To Entertain Liberty Bell. A committee of Des Moines business men is engaged in preparing a special program for the reception to the liberty bell on July 4. The bell is to arrive in Des Moines at 6 o'clock in the evening and leave at midnight going west. As the bell will not be removed from the car in which it is carried whatever ceremonies will have to be near the railroad tracks. Special patriotic services of some kind will be framed up.

Soon to End Quarantine. It is announced by the animal health department that on June 22 the last of the quarantine restrictions on live stock in Iowa will be removed, the remaining orders as to five or six eastern Iowa counties to be cancelled then. Dr. I. D. Paxton, who has been the representative of the federal government in Iowa, will retire from the work at that time and return to Washington. The fight has been a long and expensive one for the state and the federal government, but it is believed all danger from foot and mouth disease is now at an end.

Kept Out Quits Tuberculosis. After nine years of unrelenting warfare on the great white plague A. E. Kepford, state lecturer, department of tuberculosis, has tendered his resignation to the Board of Control to take effect July 1. Dr. Kepford was the first lecturer in the world on tuberculosis—that is, he was the first man to devote his entire time in an effort to exterminate tuberculosis as a disease of the masses. Since entering the field he has seen a decrease in the mortality from tuberculosis in the state of Iowa of practically 50 per cent in the pulmonary form of this disease. He has traveled several hundred thousand miles in the state, delivered more than 2,000 lectures, to say nothing of hundreds of conferences and parlor talks, and he has spoken to over 500,000 people. His efforts assisted greatly in the establishment of the state sanitarium at Oakdale and the establishing of the department on tuberculosis under the Board of Control. Iowa was the first state in the union to have such a department. Many other states meanwhile have emulated Iowa's example. The assets of Dr. Kepford have been indomitable courage and unflinching energy, and he has so definitely impressed himself upon the state at large that a society has been largely reformed as a result of the propaganda. In the rapidly declining death rate from tuberculosis it would be difficult to establish the vast influence exerted in other directions. The death curve from pneumonia also has been rapidly downward, and many great industrial, educational and social reforms have resulted. He retires of his own accord. Dr. Kepford will engage in evangelistic work. It is understood he has organized a party who, together with himself, will do union tuberculosis work.

Will Probably Release Lindsay. The State Board of Parole went to work today on a large list of the applications for parole or commutation of sentence, and some of their cases that are before the board for recommendation to the governor as to release. The governor has to deal only with the life cases and has nothing whatever to do with others. One of the cases that is expected will be recommended to the governor favorably is that of Earl Lindsay of Jasper county, who at the time of his incarceration was engaged in making flying machines.

Pierce Answers Henderson. J. M. Pierce today filed his answer in court today in the libel suit of Robert Henderson, state printer, in which he virtually declares the substantial truth of all the various published allegations which are said to be libelous. He offers to prove the same and make good in court. He also insists that the manner in which the matter of handling the state printing and binding is a political graft and has been regarded as political patronage.

Bar on Westerns Stock. COLUMBIA, Mo., May 21.—A provisional guarantee against all live stock from the states of Arizona, California, Nevada, Oregon, Texas and Washington was declared by the Missouri Board of Agriculture today.

MISS RUTH WATERS A PRINCESS—Prince Ludovico Pignatelli d'Aragon and Miss Ruth M. Waters, Philadelphia heiress, widely known in society in New York, Palm Beach and Narragansett Pier, were married at S. Ignatius Loyola Catholic church. The parents of the bride were in ignorance of their daughter's marriage until she announced the tidings over the telephone.

DOING THE WORK OF THE MEN

Women of Paris Are Now Driving Street Cars, Cleaning Streets and Running Elevators.

LITTLE DEMAND FOR SERVANTS

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) PARIS, May 19.—Thirty-two per cent of the work formerly done in Paris by men street sweepers, subway guards, elevator attendants, trolley car conductors and telegraph operators is now done by women.

Every administrative district in Paris has a municipal employment agency, where employers who want help and persons who want work register. No other agencies are recognized by law. The employer must pay the nominal fee. Inquiries at various bureaus show that among laboring classes servants suffer most from the war. Most French families reduced the wages of their servants the week of mobilization, and many were discharged. There are now long waiting lists of servants, looking for any sort of employment. This category includes many governesses and private tutors, who, owing to the economy campaign in French families, find themselves out of work.

Two months ago there were 30 per cent more dressmakers and tailors assistants out of employment than at present, showing that with the coming of spring fashions are again receiving some attention.

Retrenchment is Policy.

For certain branches of office employment, such as messengers, office boys and porters, more applications are received from employers than can be filled. The scarcity has led to the increase in wages from 5 to 10 per cent, as youths are being continually summoned to join the colors with the new classes.

On the other hand, highly trained employees, accountants, bookkeepers, stenographers, office managers and typists find difficulty in securing situations, as the majority of large offices have either adopted a policy of retrenchment or are holding open the vacancies caused by the mobilization of former employees.

Hitherto it has been the custom for an applicant for a position to state the minimum salary required, also the kind of employment desired. At present many say that they will perform any duty, even the most menial, and will rely on the bounty of their employer.

British and French Crafts Torpedoed; Swede Boats Stop

PETERHEAD, Scotland, May 20.—The British trawler Chrysolite was sunk by a German submarine at a point thirty miles off Kinnaird Head, in the North Sea, yesterday.

LONDON, May 21.—The French steamer trawler St. Just of Arcaehon was torpedoed and literally smashed to pieces near Dartmouth yesterday afternoon, thirteen of its crew being drowned. The captain was the only survivor. It is stated that no warning was given the vessel before it was torpedoed.

LONDON, May 21.—Swedish steamship companies whose boats ply between Stockholm, Norrkoping, London and Hull have decided to suspend their services, owing to the constant interruption to traffic caused by German warships in the Baltic Sea, which have resulted in serious delays and made trade impracticable.

MRS. PANKHURST WANTS WOMEN TO GO TO WAR

LONDON, May 21.—"I hope one of the first acts of the coalition government will be to declare martial law and mobilize both men and women for the service of the country," said Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragists tonight. Mrs. Pankhurst expressed the hope that women would soon be permitted to enlist like men for war service at home in face of the peril which confronted the country, she declared. It was no time to think of causes espoused in the past.

FREE TICKETS FOR DEN SHOW

Twenty Thousand to Be Given to Tourists Passing Through Omaha to the Coast.

TO SPREAD LITERATURE, TOO

Tourists in 5,000 towns east of Chicago are to receive Omaha view booklets, "stop-off-in-Omaha" literature, and Ak-Sar-Ien admission tickets as a result of arrangements completed by E. V. Parrish, manager of the bureau of publicity, who has returned. Mr. Parrish has been on the road for a few weeks during which time he held conferences with the proper organizations in a dozen cities to insure the proper distribution of this matter during the summer. He visited Chicago, Detroit, Toronto, Buffalo, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Indianapolis, Dayton, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

By a systematic method of distribution it is planned to get this Omaha literature into the hands of tourists only. The matter is to get into the hands of those who are contemplating trips both by rail and by automobile, although that calculated to reach the auto tourists is being sent out largely through the cooperation of the Omaha Auto club and the Commercial club. Twenty thousand Omaha view books are going out. The Ak-Sar-Ien admission tickets are to admit any visitor to the den if he chances to be in Omaha on an evening when a den show is in progress. If a large delegation of eastern tourists chances to stop off in Omaha any night, then a regular den show night arrangements are to be made to give them a special performance.

War Does Not Hurt Commerce of China

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) PEKING, May 19.—Julian H. Arnold, the newly appointed American commercial attaché, has returned to Peking after a tour of the principal business centers of China. Contrary to his expectations, he found the war had not seriously affected Chinese commerce. In fact, many lines of business have been greatly benefited as a result of the war.

The price of antimony, of which China produces a fair quantity, has risen fourfold, and cow hides are now selling for over twice as much as they brought prior to the war. Most of the purchases are being made by the Japanese, who are now manufacturing arms, ammunition, leather and general equipment for the Russian army.

Trade in the British colony of Hong Kong has suffered severely, owing to the fact that from 70 to 80 per cent of all business done at the port was through German firms. Canton, being the nearest Chinese port, has consequently suffered also. Nevertheless, there is great confidence among business men there. In Hankow and Shanghai there has been a very good business showing.

CHINA REVIVES WORSHIP OF SPIRIT OF DEAD HEROES

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) PEKING, May 19.—In order to revive the martial spirit and to promote loyalty to the authority of the president, Yuan Shi Kai has issued a mandate which is in keeping with those recently calling for the worship of Confucius and worship at the Temple of Heaven. The third mandate revives the worship of the spirits of Generals Yo Fei and Kuan Yu, who in former days were great heroes and gave up their lives in loyalty to former emperors. The ceremony was performed during March by the minister of war, and many other military men.
