Ninety Years Old And in Good Health

One of the pleasant features of the Sunday morning services at the North Presbyterian church was the presence of John H. Phelps, elder emeritus, who yesterday was 90 years of age and who is in fairly good health, able to be out of the house every day.

Elder Phelps occupied a seat near the pastor and at the close of the communion service, delivered a short address. When he had finished, he was presented with a large bouquet of red and white carnations and a purse well filled, gift from his friends. This afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Salmon, 2200 Spencer street, his friends are invited to call, it being the purpose to hold an informal reception.

Until retired not long ago, for sixty years Mr. Phelps was an elder in the Presbyterian church. He has been a member of the church from childhood and is one of the old time residents of Nebraska.

Let the Devil Do Your Work

The Hart-Parr "Little Devil" Oil Tractor

Burns cheapest kerosene and other low grade fuels. Only small oil tractor in the world

If you're farming only an average size farm, you probably have $1,200 to $1,500 or more invested in horses, and probably $300 to $600 more in portable or stationary gas engines necessary to do the work of ONLY ONE "Little Devil." Working or idle, your horses require expensive fuel—but the "Little Devil" uses cheapest kerosene for fuel—and requires no care, costs nothing when not actually working.

Sell three or four of your horses. Invest the money in a "Little Devil." Then you can do half again more horse work and all of your belt work, without investing a single penny more than you have invested. The "Little Devil" uses the same plows, cultivators, listers, discs, drags, harrows, harvesters, corn binders, etc., that you now use with horses.

And best of all, it does all the horse and belt work ever so much cheaper and more seasonably. It more than pays for itself in a single season out of what it saves. That's why no farmer can afford to be without one.

$750 Only $100 per horse, equivalent horse power. ONE-HALF the price of horses $750

buys a "Little Devil" and starts you on the sure road to better farming, bigger crop yields and greater profits. The "Little Devil" will plow deeper, cultivate more seasonably and save you money at every turn. It burns cheapest kerosene—reducing fuel bills one-third to one-half—and has automatic, liquid cooling system, preventing all damage to the engine from over heating or freezing, with consequent costly repairs.

The "LITTLE DEVIL"

The "Little Devil" is so simple, rugged and reliable in every detail that it practically eliminates loss of time and heavy repairs. It requires no stable room, no harness and never gets sick.

Here's How the "Little Devil" Helps With the Corn Crop

Lists, plows, plants, cultivates, harvests, husks, shreds, fills the silo, shells, grinds or hauls the corn to market. EATS NONE OF IT. The "Little Devil" has 30 inches clearance, the same as a cultivator arch, so that it can't possibly injure the growing crops.

Here's How the "Little Devil" Helps With the Small Grain Crop

Plows the ground, drags, harrows, rolls and seeds; harvests, threshes, runs the fanning mill to clean, hauls to market or runs the elevator in handling the grain. EATS NONE OF IT.

Here's Some Other Work the "Little Devil" Will Do Besides!

Plants, plows and digs potatoes. Hauls, grades roads, pulls stumps; cuts, rakes, loads and stacks the hay. Saws wood, pumps water, runs the light plant, EATS NOTHING. Takes up none of the barn room. No expense when not actually at work.

You'll Want a "Little Devil" So Act Quick

Sell three or four of your horses now, while war prices prevail. Invest in a "Little Devil" and you will never do a better stroke of business in your life. But don't delay. Don't put it off. Write for full particulars and get our special bulletin giving full details. Our supply of "Little Devils" for spring delivery will be very limited, so order quick and be sure of getting your outfit in time for the rush spring work.

A "Little Devil" Agency Offers Golden Opportunities for Dealers

Hart-Parr "Little Devils" make so much money for farmers that they simply won't be without them, once they learn of all their possibilities. Every farmer that works as many as four horses is a good prospect for a "Little Devil." We have an attractive proposition to dealers for the sale of "Little Devils" in exclusive territory. Don't let your competitor beat you to it, but get our agency proposition now, before your territory is snapped up. If you are attending the Dealers' Convention in Omaha, don't go away without seeing the "Little Devil" at the Hart-Parr Exhibit at the Auditorium. Look it over. Judge for yourself what a wonderful little outfit it is. Then talk it over with our representatives, at "Little Devil" headquarters, 118 Paxton Hotel.
