St. Joseph Men Are Enthusiastic Over Navigation Project

E. L. Platt, secretary treasurer of the American Electrical company of St. Joseph, Mo., and H. C. Porter, vice president of the Commercial club of St. Joseph, both of whom attended the St. Joseph river navigation mass meeting at the Commercial club rooms last night, are enthusiastic over the prospects of navigating the river.

Mr. Platt is especially enthusiastic over the prospect. He hopes for the development of a St. Joseph steamboat line also. "I am going back to report to my people what an enthusiastic meeting was held here," he said, "and that general interest is taken. I am not going ahead and recommending anything on my own responsibility, but I shall tell them the facts as they look to me and tell them to get busy. We must get behind the movement."

Mr. Platt is also a member of the welfare committee of the Commerce club of St. Joseph. "We have a public welfare board outside that of the club," he says, "but we work together. We have in St. Joseph a card system on which we keep alphabetically a record of every family in need in that city and of what has been done for them and when. Able bodied persons we don't feed unless they will work. We have an employment bureau, in which we keep a list of jobs, shoveling sand, and a lot of other odd jobs that can be sent these men to all the time. If they don't work, we do nothing for them."

Carter Lake Club in Thriving Condition

With over $1,000 in the treasury and nearly $30,000 worth of assets yet to be disposed of, the Carter Lake club is facing the coming season in an enthusiastic manner. There are now 793 members and the prospects bid fair to increase the number up to an even 1,000.

The officers of the organization have been re-elected and the appointment of committees to handle the various branches of sport at the lake resort is now in progress.

Improvements are to continue in a vigorous manner and those so far enumerated are: Fixing up the tennis courts in the most modern respect with cement; organizing, either a four, or eight-hoop and complete with other racing teams; a new set of dressing rooms for the women bathers; an additional bowling alley and the repair of those now in use, making them solid with a cement foundation; putting piling in the new boat slip, which was dredged last summer; new cement sidewalks in the cottage district, giving this part of the grounds a cliffed appearance.

Planning New Club House. Among the future considerations is the building of a larger club house over the water front. The structure is not to cost less than $50,000, and a sinking fund is to be started this year for this particular purpose. With the possible membership at 1,000 and the patronage at the lake, it would take only a few years to pay for the new building. The discussion of the project is to come up before the board of directors during the summer and it is likely that definite steps will then be taken.

Contractors have been asked to estimate the cost of putting in a cement sea wall along the front of the lake facing the cottage section. At present the bank is held back by boards and piling, but will have to be supplemented. The work may take place before the end of summer.

The club has taken big strides forward and its wafers attractions, bathing, boating and so forth, are among the best to be found in this part of the west.

Smaller Loaves Follow Raise in Price of Flour

With the rapidly increasing price of wheat and the consequently increasing price of flour, bakers are tending to hedge on the regulation with regard to giving a given number of ounces of bread for a nickel. Locally, there has been some tendency to this already. While some bakers still maintain that they are giving sixteen ounces to a loaf, as the city ordinance requires, some are selling a loaf labeled "More than fourteen ounces." Others are selling a loaf labeled "More than thirteen ounces."

Whether the price will eventually be raised on a loaf of bread or whether the city will be asked to revise the ordinance, reducing the ounce requirement, still remains a question.

Gus Miller Starts Out by Claiming Friendship to Boys Thought to Be Wayward.

BOYS NOT NATURALLY BAD

"Gus" Miller, new chief probation officer, is an optimist in his opinions concerning children. He never expresses an opinion that a boy is "bad" or beyond redemption, in fact, has never yet met a real "bad boy." Children who fall to do right are, in his opinion, undeveloped with regard to certain characteristics—not little criminals who should be separated from the society of righteous persons.
