

RECREATION BOARD HAS RIGHT-OF-WAY

City Commissioners Favor Plan to Make $20,000 Available for Playgrounds This Spring.

TO BE ARGUED AGAIN TUESDAY

How will the city commissioners eventually spend $20,000 set aside the first of the year for recreational purposes? That was the question which almost caused a serious disturbance in the city hall when the city council committee of the whole labored long and hard over ordinance providing for a public welfare board and a board of public recreation.

The recreation board ordinance provides that this board shall be under the supervision of the department of parks and public buildings, and Commissioner Dan Butler has misgivings whether under the proposed plan his Carter lake bathing beach project will be properly nourished.

Dr. Cyrus Stinson of the Playgrounds and Recreation Association of America appeared in defense of the recreation board ordinance, which was finally referred to the city legal department for slight revision, after which it will be introduced at the regular council meeting Tuesday morning.

The recreation board ordinance provides that the personnel of this board shall be the superintendent of parks, superintendent of schools and three others to be elected by the council. The council is charged with supervising expenditures. The board is to have charge of all public playgrounds and recreational features in parks, schools, school grounds and elsewhere; also to arrange for competent play supervisors. Authority is extended to indoor amusements, such as the school social centers. It is proposed to have this board independent of the activities of the public welfare board.

Out Out Welfare Board. The section of the proposed welfare board ordinance relating to public playgrounds and amusements will be stricken out before the ordinance will be offered Tuesday morning.

Commissioner J. J. Ryder said he believed the welfare board should have funds with which to start work. It was generally agreed that it will take the welfare board nearly a year to get a workable plan ready and it was likewise agreed that it would be nearly a year before that board would be equipped to spend any considerable amount of money efficiently. On the other hand, it is believed the recreation board will be in a position to spend some of the appropriation this spring.

Notwithstanding that a scrap is imminent in the city hall over how the $20,000 shall be expended.

Fort Says that New Passenger Tariffs Will Be Ready Feb. 1

Gerrit Fort, passenger traffic manager of the Union Pacific is home from Chicago, where he was looking after a number of matters that are to come before the Interstate Commerce commission within the next few weeks. While in Chicago Mr. Fort, with other railroad passenger men discussed the matter of all roads west of the city and St. Louis going before the commission and asking for an advance of one-half cent per mile in rates, effective March 1, of this year. According to the agreement there is to be concerted action. About February 1 the passenger departments of all the interested roads will file with the commission their two and one-half cent per mile tariffs. These will be received and if there is no protest filed by March 1, on and after that date the new rates will become effective on the commission's order.

According to Mr. Fort, the western railroad passenger men are of the opinion that if there are any protests they will not be of sufficient importance so that the commission will suspend the rates. The basis for this opinion is that when the eastern roads asked for and were granted authority to advance their rates one-half cent per mile, there were no protests that the commission considered important. These roads, railroad men assert, operate through territory much more densely populated than that in which the advanced through rates are asked and consequently they are of the opinion that there will be no objection to the advance in central and western territory.

Samson Wants 1,000 Members on Books by First of Month

Wanted, a thousand men. After all, the thousand men are not as important as the 10,000 which these thousand men are to pay. Samson, he of Ak-Far-Men fame, is actually talking of having 1,000 members by February 1. That is about a week away. Samson admits that he has a few dozen members already. Perhaps never before in the history of the organization was the membership so large so early in the year.

ALMA GLUCK NEEDS SLEEP

Famous Singer Devoted to Mrs. Feis, at Whose Home in London She Was Married.

HUSBAND SAD OVER THE WAR

"Now I eat, then I take my nap and do not awaken until time to sing this afternoon," said Alma Gluck, who sang at the Brander's yesterday, as she attacked a particularly luscious steak, shortly after her arrival in Omaha. "I am devoted to my work and must keep myself in good health so that I can sing well, if I can do that," she added in a bantering tone. The jesting manner in which Miss Gluck speaks of her ability to charm large audiences of music lovers was a noticeable feature of the interview.

"No, I have no immediate relatives in the war, but I feel for all the others as if they were my own," sadly remarked the young singer, with a graceful upward tilt of the head and a look of sadness stealing into the large, shining eyes.

"There are eight in our party, including my husband, his accompanist, my accompanist, my manager, Mr. Adams and his young daughter, whom I asked to travel with us; my companion, Miss Jewell, and the piano tuner, principally the piano tuner. Yes, quite a party," she laughed.

From the suite of rooms set apart for the soft strains of the violin were heard, Errom Zimbalist, the young Russian husband of the singer, laid down the violin lovingly and approached with a smiling manner. His countenance became clouded as he spoke of the war and declared how happy Americans must be not to be involved. "My younger brother reaches military age in February and I am afraid he will be enlisted in the army." He speaks in the halting manner of the foreigner.

Devoted to Mrs. Feis. Both Miss Gluck and Zimbalist spoke affectionately of their benefactor, Mrs. Joseph Feis, at whose London home the young people were married last June. Mrs. Feis was in Omaha recently, spreading the doctrine of single tax, with which her husband was so prominently associated. "The single tax doctrine well considered in the west," asked Miss Gluck.

HAIR AND THE MARRIAGE MARKET

Too many men have been unpleasantly surprised to find that their wife's hair which they had so greatly admired was only a switch or transformation. We now know that poor hair is a consequence of either laziness or lack of knowledge and that fair care with sensible means will insure scalp health and hair beauty. In washing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift, but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of cambrins from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth. -Advertisement.

M'GAGUE'S VIEWS ON THE YEAR 1915

New President of Commercial Club Tells Stand Club Will Take This Season.

SUNDERLAND ALSO MAKES TALK

President John L. McGague of the Omaha Commercial club, who has just been elevated to the position of head of the club, has issued the following statement as to what the Commercial club is to stand for in 1915:

"Co-operation in business, loyal support of public and liberal endorsement of private institutions, active interest in moral and civic welfare will continue the splendid growth of our city.

"Omaha must have direct northern outlet by railroad into its trade territory of South and North Dakota, extending on to the Canada line. Omaha requires more power for manufacturing. Abundant water power is accessible if proper encouragement to capital is given.

"Interurban railroads are necessary. Reasonable municipal requirements and liberal policy by Omaha business will induce the building by adequate capital. Omaha can obtain Missouri river transportation along practical and economical lines. Public interest in this enterprise is growing.

"The opportunity is now, for work and enthusiastic effort by the membership of the Commercial club of Omaha."

Sunderland's Statement. J. A. Sunderland, newly elected chairman of the executive committee of the club, has the following to say:

"The work of the club in the last year has been extensive and thorough. More members than ever before have been in active touch with its endeavors in its many departments. In the year 1915 we shall hope to enlarge the field of cooperation and every member who will give some time to the study of Omaha's business situation and the solving of its commercial problems will become a factor in the city's progress and prosperity by making known the fact that he intends to be counted among Omaha's constructive boosters and that he is willing to work. As chairman of the executive committee I shall be glad to receive practical suggestions from all members for enlarging and bettering the work of the club, and all such suggestions will be carefully considered by the proper committees.

The recent election of directors and members of the executive committee from classes of the membership resulted in the selection of a strong and representative executive committee and I am confidently looking forward to the year ahead to show much accomplished for the growth and prosperity of Omaha and its people. If everybody helps it will be easy."

La-Grippe and Colds

In La-Grippe and Colds, Anti-kamnia (A-K) tablets are unexcelled, as they stop the pain, soothe the nerves, and bring the rest so greatly needed by nature to restore the system to health. Physicians have used these tablets for over twenty years, in the treatment of colds, fevers and grippe, and have found no other remedy more useful in these conditions. Anti-kamnia Tablets are so inexpensive, so pleasant to take, so satisfactory in their results, and so useful in all conditions where there is pain, that A-K Tablets should always be kept in the house for the time of need. Many of our ablest physicians obtain perfect results in grippe and colds, by cleansing the system with Epsom salts or "Aotoids," a very good cathartic, putting the patient on a limited diet, and administering one A-K tablet every two or three hours. This treatment will usually break up the worst case in a day or two, while in milder cases, ease and comfort follow almost immediately. These tablets are also unexcelled for Neuralgia, Rheumatic Pains, The Pains of Women, Indigestion and Insomnia. All druggists have them. Genuine A-K Tablets bear the A-K mark.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

The TRIUMPH of SCIENCE. Illustration of a man in a suit holding a telephone receiver. Text: HIS busy, progressive nation is today at the dawn of a new era of commercial and social development. The means by which the human voice, with its slightest inflections and indications of personality, can be carried across the continent instantly, have been provided. Talking by telephone from New York to San Francisco is now an accomplished fact.

The celebration of this latest and greatest triumph in the art of telephony has just taken place. Within a short time the public will have ready for its use, the product of American brains, American initiative and American scientific and technical skill, a transcontinental telephone service, the equal of which is not even approached in all the other nations of the world. It is a splendid scientific achievement of the very highest character. The power that sends the human voice out over the telephone is scarcely greater than that of a breath, yet the means have been provided by which this tiny, almost imaginary impulse, made up of as many as 2,000 separate vibrations a second, can be picked up by a delicate instrument, conserved over a distance of 2,400 miles, and reproduced perfectly and instantly across the continent. The human voice has been made to travel as fast as light, faster than sound unaided by technical apparatus; indeed, it rivals THOUGHT even, in the swiftness of its flight. The imagination can but feebly grasp, much less attempt to measure, the far-reaching significance of such a tremendous accomplishment. One hundred million people will have for their daily use a system of communication that knows no East, no West, no North, no South. Dialects, provincialisms, sectional prejudices, must eventually yield to the closer union, the better understanding, the more intimate comradeship that the human voice establishes. The neighborliness of a whole nation is advanced by the brushing away of the physical restraints of centuries. This contribution to the future happiness and prosperity of a more closely united people has not been brought about, however, by the overcoming of a few isolated, concrete difficulties. Its success has depended upon the exercise of the highest engineering and technical skill and the solution was found only in the cumulative effect of improvements great and small, in telephone, transmitter, line, cable, switchboard, and every other piece of apparatus or plant required in the transmission of speech. In this work the experimental and research department of the Bell System of which this Company is a part, has been engaged ever since the telephone became a commercial possibility, less than 40 years ago. With no traditions to follow and no experience to guide, this department, which is now directed by a staff of over 200 engineers and scientists, including former professors, post graduate students, scientific investigators—the graduates of 140 universities—has created an entirely new art—the art of telephony, and has given to the people of this country a telephone service that has no equal. It has required vast expenditures of money and immense concentration of effort, but these have been justified by results of immeasurable benefit to the public. The transcontinental telephone line, 2,400 miles long, joining the Atlantic and Pacific, is part of the Bell System of 10,000,000 miles of wire connecting 2,000,000 telephone stations, located everywhere throughout the United States. Composing this system are the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Associated Companies and connecting companies, giving universal service to 100,000,000 people.

Truly, This is a Great Triumph of American Methods. NEBRASKA TELEPHONE COMPANY. Illustration of a telephone receiver.
