FOUR MILLIONS SOUGHT IN BILLS

Total of Appropriation Measures So Far Introduced Reaches This Figure.

BIG BILLS ARE NOT YET IN

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Appropriation bills introduced in the house so far total $4,181,652, and the "big four"—the maintenance, salaries, claims and deficiencies measures—are yet to come, together with what special appropriation bills are introduced during the two legislative days remaining for them. There are forty days for the general appropriation bills.

Total appropriations two years ago reached the sum of $8,115,000, having been cut to this figure from a total of proposed expenditures amounting to about $10,000,000. At the present it would seem that the democrats are in a fair way to equal their last session's record.

Democratic wheel horses, however, are rushing to the firing line with hatchets out and ready for business and they claim that when they get through with some of the proposed appropriations there won't be enough left of them to even make soup of.

Locomotive Engineer Has Remarkable Experience

I have been thinking that word from me would benefit those who may be suffering as I was before I began taking your Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. I am a locomotive engineer, employed on the Tyrone & Clearfield Branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Three years ago I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble so bad that I was compelled to lay off duty from my engine and was in the care of two doctors. However their medicine did not benefit me. One day, I noticed your advertisement, to send name and address for a sample bottle of Swamp-Root. At this time my trouble had reached a serious stage. I sent for the sample bottle and in three days received a small bottle of Swamp-Root, which I took according to directions, and by the time I had taken the contents, I could pass water more freely. I was so pleased with my experiment that I sent my wife to the drug store of W. H. Milick, Phillipsburg, Pa., and secured a one-dollar bottle. I continued taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root until I was entirely cured. Now whenever I feel any pain or soreness after being exposed to bad weather or hard work, I take a dose or two of Swamp-Root. I cannot recommend this remedy too highly, especially to brother engineers who are more or less troubled with their kidneys (more than any other class of men)

Yours truly,

T. J. VAN SCOYOC.

Trades Federation Asks British Government Take Over Food Supplies

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The General Federation of Trades unions, in a document issued today regarding the high prices of food in the United Kingdom, recommends chiefly that the British government take over all wheat supplies, as has been done by Germany.

"The British farmer," the document reads, "would suffer no real hardship or loss if the government commandeered the whole home grown and unmarketed wheat at 42 shilling ($10.50) a quarter, and immediate action on these lines would tend to moderate prices."

A committee of the Federation of Trades unions, in a manifesto given out today regarding the high prices of food, charges the government with failure to anticipate and organize against certain consequences of the war and urges quick and drastic remedial action to avert a situation which is "becoming desperate."

The committee suggests a better distribution of incoming ships at ports other than London and Liverpool. Continuing it says:

"Now that troubles have developed, the government must move not tentatively, as if the next century would do, but immediately. The procedure of prize courts must be expedited and all captured ships must be valued, manned and utilized by the state for the purpose of transporting supplies purchased directly from the producer, and such supplies must be placed on the market at prices to cover only the costs and distributive charges."

PROPOSE NEW SEED BUREAU

Representative Reisner Will Introduce It Into the Houuse This Week.

FOOD COMMISSION ACTS NOW

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—On top of all the other commissions, bureaus and special departments which the state of Nebraska now has attached to its government, it is proposed to create a new one which shall take charge of seed analyses and enforce the law against selling adulterated seeds.

This will be provided for in a bill drawn up by Prof. Hopt of the state agricultural college, which Representative Reisner will introduce the coming week. The bill creates the office of seed commissioner, appointive by the Board of University Regents. It appropriates $6,000 from the state general fund to carry on the work of the bureau, but does not specify what salary the seed commissioner shall draw.

There is already a pure seed law on the statute books, whose enforcement is in the hands of the Food, Drug, Dairy and Oil commission. That commission maintains a special seed bureau for testing the purity and the germinating qualities of seeds. The bill about to be introduced contains no important features which are not already covered, the only material difference being as to who shall administer the law.

Standards of purity and germination to be required of commercial seeds are fixed by the act, and fines ranging from $10 to $500 are provided for violations.

Some Senators Haven't Single Bill in Grist

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Senators Douthett, Henry, Pillar and Weesner have more than done their share toward keeping down the amount of grist in the legislative mill. So far, and eighteen days of the twenty in which bills may be introduced have elapsed, they can plead "not guilty" to the introduction of a single measure.

Whether they will maintain their remarkable showing during the next two legislative days is a matter that is locked entirely within the respective consciences of these statesmen themselves.

Kohl of Wayne comes next on the honor roll, having introduced but one bill. Buhrman, Robertson, Spencer and Wink have introduced but two each; Gates, Hoagland, Mattes, Wilson of Frontier and Wilson of Dodge have thrown only three each into the legislative hoppers.

Brokley, Krumbach and Marshall answer to four apiece. The rest range all the way up to Senator Beal, who sits at the top with thirteen bills under his wing.

The senate has passed fourteen bills and has indefinitely postponed seven, making it one out of three that has so far fallen by the wayside. The total number of bills introduced is 174.

NEW SCHOOL CODE MAKES MOST VOLUMINOUS DOCUMENT

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Anyone so desiring may secure a copy of the voluminous school commission code bill by forwarding the necessary postage, 7 cents, to the clerk of the house. The bill, which is just off the presses, is the largest on record. There are 14 pages of it and it weighs thirteen ounces.

School superintendents and school boards in large numbers are sending for the bill, as it vitally affects their interests. The bill comprises a complete revision of all school laws and several new ideas of an amendatory nature advanced by the commission. The strictly new propositions are embodied in separate laws, so that they may stand and fall on their own respective merits.

TREASURER HALL PROPOSES TO BUY IN WARRANTS

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—State Treasurer Hall has drafted a bill that will enable him to withdraw at any time at least 80 per cent of the state's money on deposit with banks for the purpose of taking up state and county warrants and to carry the latter as cash.

The bill will be introduced in the house Tuesday or Wednesday by Dafoe of Johnson. The state treasurer sees no reason why the state should pay heavy interest on warrants when it has the money with which to pay them. The law as it is at present does not specifically permit of withdrawing money on deposit for this purpose.

William Lueder and Miss Anna Hereth, two well known young people of the Clatonia vicinity, were married yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hereth at Clatonia. After a brief wedding trip, they will make their home on a farm near Clatonia.

STATE TO FIND MEN WORK

Quinby Proposes Measure for Employment Bureau Managed by Appointees.

FREE TRANSPORTATION TO JOB

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—A state labor employment bureau to solve the problem of the unemployed in Nebraska is part of the contribution of Senator Quinby of Douglas to the legislative grist mill.

Senator Quinby would make his bureau appointive at the hands of the governor with at least one woman member, the other two being presumably of the masculine extraction.

It would be the duty of this bureau to register every Nebraska citizen applying for appointment, classifying him or her as to trade, profession and qualification. After securing a job for the applicant, the bureau is to furnish him with transportation to whatever part of the state it is necessary for him to go in order to assume his duties.

If the bureau should secure a job and the applicant refuse to take without sufficient reason, it is empowered to file a vagrancy complaint. The decisions of the board upon the sufficiency of such reason must be unanimous and, moreover, the applicant is further guarded in that he may have his name stricken from the register at any time after thirty days' notice.

The senator from Douglas would provide for the maintenance of the bureau through a surtax of one-tenth of one per cent to be levied upon the full actual value of land in the state belonging to non-residents of the state. The bill makes the tax two-tenths of one per cent if the first figure is not sufficient.

The board or bureau members are to receive $5 a day for actual time and 5 cents mileage. The bill declares an emergency.

Railroads Lose First Bout on Bill

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Members of the lower house took it as a joke that they should receive in their Saturday morning mail a circular letter, signed by the attorneys and officials of various railroads, asking them that they defeat H. R. No. 7, by Hoffmeister of Chase, forfeiting rights-of-way where the railroads had done nothing in the course of a year toward building tracks.

The point of the alleged joke rests in the fact that the bill was recommended for passage by the committee of the whole in the house, Friday afternoon, by a vote of 77 to 11. It was not supposed to come up until next week. The Chase county representative, however, "slipped one over" in securing an earlier hearing.

The railroad men fought the bill hard in the standing committee. It is directed at an old right-of-way that the Burlington has held from Imperial to Holyoke, Colo., for the last twenty years without building. The bill applies, however, in a general way also.

Lahners Opposes Spink's Road Bill

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The bill of Senator Spirk of Saline, providing for a county road overseer, will not have easy sailing when the roads committee reports it out for passage Tuesday morning, for Senator Lahners of Thayer is laying for it with a big long dirk.

The latter is all for decentralization of authority when it comes to road work. His bill for a division of the present road districts into four with an overseer for each, which was one of his pet measures, was killed by the committee. Hence Mr. Lahners has the added motive of vengeance.

The senator from Thayer, if necessary, will stand for a county road overseer, but he wants to see the proposed salary of that official cut from $1,200 to $900 and the traveling expenses eliminated.

MINING BOSSES OWN THE CORONERS

Lawson Says All Verdicts But Two in Case of Death in Favor of Colorado Fuel and Iron.

HE LAMBASTS ROCKEFELLER

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—John R. Lawson, executive board member for Colorado of the United Mine Workers of America, who yesterday denounced conditions in Colorado mining camps in his testimony before the Federal Industrial Relations commission and sharply arraigned John D. Rockefeller, jr., for his alleged failure to inform himself as to conditions there, continued his testimony today.

"There is no social life in the camps," Mr. Lawson said. "The companies own all the houses, ground, schools, churches and stores. Complete despotism exists in the mining camps."

Mr. Lawson read into the record a long list of the various accidents in coal mines and a list of the men killed by violence in the Colorado mining camps in 1913. This was done, he said, so that the commission might know how many widows and fatherless children there were in Colorado.

"And they get an average of $305.40 if the father and husband is killed," he said: "What can they do in life with $305.40? What chance have they got?"

Men worked in the mines, the witness said, because they were forced, not because they wanted ot.

Company Owns Coroners.

"If they complain, it is down the canyon for theirs," he said, "And if the man who does work is hurt, he is taken to a company hospital. If he dies a company coroner conducts the inquest over the body—as long as I can remember, only two verdicts unfavorable to the Colorado Fuel and Iron company have been found—and I think the company furnishes the cemeteries. The coroners have a habit of giving a verdict of suicide or death due to carelessness. One coroner wrote in a certain case that the victim of an accident had 'no relatives and few friends.'"

No coal miner, Mr. Lawson said, has ever shirked his duty in protecting life and the interests of the operators. Company detectives and gunmen constantly spied on the men to see that they did not get together. This applied to the camps where there were no unions. In union camps, Mr. Lawson testified, conditions were entirely different.

The University of Colorado, he said, had promised the United Mine Workers of America that it would extend its work into the coal camps so that the men might have an opportunity to educate. In the non-union camps there was occasionally a dance, the witness said, but no other amusements or recreations.

Rockefeller and Unions.

Mr. Lawson called the commission's attention to a statement which he said was made by John D. Rockefeller, jr., April 6, 1914, in which Mr. Rockefeller was quoted as saying that the Colorado Fuel and Iron company would never recognize the United Mine Workers of America and that it was a fight to the finish.

"Two weeks after that, to the day, came Ludlow," Mr. Lawson said. "I do not know whether there was any connection between these two things. I hope not. A man like Mr. Rockefeller should be careful of the things he says, however."

The witness discussed the payment of workmen in script, redeemable for merchandise at company stores, and the employment of check weighmen, who are paid by the miners to see that the company does not cheat the men in weighing coal on the tiple. There was a law in Colorado, Mr. Lawson said, providing for the check weighmen; in spite of that the law was frequently violated by the operators. When the weighmen are selected, he continued, the companies "see to it that safe men" from their viewpoint, are chosen.

Mr. Lawson thought it was a mistake on the part of organized labor to re-elect union officials who had been convicted of violence or the use of dynamite.

Capital Punishment Doomed in S. Dakota

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—No more capital punishment for South Dakota is forecasted by the vote of 24 to 18 in the senate this afternoon, adopting the bill repealing the capital punishment provision of the statute. As the house passed a like bill several days ago, it is now merely a matter of endorsement of one bill or the other to make it a matter of law as Governor Byrne endorsed that policy in his message to the legislature.

A resolution, presented on the house by Solem of Minnehaha, seeks to place the state intitutions under control of the State Board of Charities and corrections to the penitentiary the insane asylum and the reform school to be under control of one board, all other institutions to be under control of another board which shall contain from five to nine members.
