There was a lack of buying power—a halt having been called on the buying, even on the declines shown.

It was reported that the scaboard transactions were $6,000 bu, wheat and 1,00±10 bu, oats, but at Chicago there were only 10,000 bu, wheat sold, and this was taken by millers.

There was an extremely heavy tone in the corn market and this fact proved to be a bearish factor in wheat, as well as in cats. It was reported here soon after the occaining yesterday that the holders of corn at the seaboard were endeavering to resell at prices considerably below the cost of new shipments, which caused large and continued sales by longs as well as shorts, in this market. There was considerable business in both corn and oats in the way of undoing "spreads" between the two grains, some of which showed handsome profits.

Provisions were lower. Cash trade conditions were a little more favorable, but there was heavy selling by longs and short lines were put out in addition.

Omaba Spot Market—Wheat was 75g79c lower. Corn was 25g874c lower. Oats were 2c lower.

of an impression on wheat until the last hour. Then, the fact that an active dependence began to tell. It was announced that 80,000 bushels had been disposed of at the seaboard to go to Europe and there were many bids here that could not be filled in the absence of rural offers. One Chicago house alone was said to have a cable calling for 10,000,000 bushels, chiefly No. 2 hard, to be shipped in forty days.

Corn, dragged down by wheat, tumbled to within about 30 a bushel of the price a year ago, when the war had not been thought of. Later in the day the sorn market became more robust, sided pringers.

thought of. Later in the day the cern market became more robust, sided principally by Baltimore advices of 800,00 bushls of corn having been bought there for France. Oats at first were fully as weak as corn, but foreigners afterward took 1,800,00 bushels in the east, and the market here grew relatively stronger in oats than in other grain.

Frovisions, especially pork, suffered a decided setlack because of grain weakness. Free huying on the part of shorts and packers, and to some extent for investors, was in the end a complete offset and more.

CATTLE—Receipts were moderate as usual on a Friday, only eighty-three cars being reported in. The total for the week, however, is quite large, fimounting to li,957 head, being larger than any time since three weeks ago and larger than a year ago by over 2,000 head. In spite of the fact that it was so late in the week there was a reasonably good demand for beef steers and prices were fully steady with yesterday. This means that the market on the more desirable heavy and well finished beeves is 25,040c higher than a week ago, with the fair to medium cattle of all weights and the good to choice light cattle 150,25c higher. The market is now around 50,075c higher.
