

BAKERS FIGHT TO GIVE SHORT WEIGHT

Insist in Police Court They Do Not Have to Give Weights Announced on Loaf Wrapper.

PUBLIC IS WITH JOHN PEGG

The police court yesterday was the scene of an acrimonious exchange of charges and counter charges between city officials and bread bakers.

Rayman & Romaneck, 411 North Sixteenth, charged by the city sealer of weights and measures with selling bread of less weight than indicated on wrappers, pleaded guilty and secured $100 and costs by Acting Police Judge C. W. Britt.

Julius Dreifus, Twentieth and Farnam streets; E. Rosenblum, 808 North Sixteenth street, and Joe Batt, 604 North Sixteenth street, cited on similar charges, pleaded not guilty and their cases were set for hearing next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Four Cases of "Holsum"

In each of the four cases mentioned it was charged that the bread sold was of the kind known as "Holsum," the name of Jay Burns baking company appearing on the wrappers. The 5-cent loaves were marked "Over thirteen ounces" and the 10-cent loaves "Over twenty-six ounces." These loaves were from one to two ounces short of the weights indicated on wrappers, the city inspector declared in the information he filed in police court.

These cases are independent of the question of whether bakers can legally offer for sale loaves weighing less than sixteen or thirty-two ounces, as prescribed by an old ordinance.

Jay Burns, baker, of "Holsum" bread, took a lively interest in the proceedings and became so enthusiastic that Court Sergeant Whalen had to warn him. Judge Britt had to remind the litigants that he was running the court.

Attorney De Franco, for the bakers, secured John Grant Pegg, city sealer, of having filed the complaints in the absence of Judge Foster. It was shown that the information was presented to the city prosecutor on February 27, before it was known that Judge Foster would not be in court yesterday.

Says Ordinance Unconstitutional. Jay Burns takes the position that the old ordinance requiring sixteen and thirty-two ounces as standards is not now in force because Judge Foster declared this law unconstitutional last May and the city failed to take an appeal from that decision.

Mr. Pegg announced that he intends to go right ahead under the old ordinance, regardless of Judge Foster's decision.

"I have public sentiment behind me and I intend to do my duty in this matter. I am going after all who disregard the bread laws and who sell short-weight bread," declared Mr. Pegg.

City Prosecutor Fred Anheuser, another announced that he is ready to cooperate with Mr. Pegg in this bread situation.

Hold Another Old Musicians' Contest

Another old musicians' contest is being planned by the Young Men's Christian association. It will be held Thursday evening, March 25. The entries will be limited to the first fifteen old musicians who apply, and fiddlers, banjoists and players on the cornet, mandolin and other instruments will be admitted. One prospective contestant is a Hungarian musician over 70 years old, who will play tunes of the old country on his accordion.

Mayor is Displeased With School Board

"Members of the Board of Education are not alive to progressive ideas. That is what you get for electing moonshakers to the school board," was the answer of Mayor J. C. Dahlman, when asked for an expression regarding the refusal of the school board members to cooperate with the council in the new recreation board proposition.

State Conventions Carded for the Rome

Two state conventions have been arranged for Hotel Rome this spring by Fred W. Roehry, assistant manager and publicity man, who has just joined the Rome staff, after holding a similar position at the Millard hotel. Spanish War Veterans of Nebraska will hold their annual convention in June and the Western Seedmen's association will meet the third week in May.

AGREES BY HANDSHAKE TO BE IN COURT ON TIME

"My wife is sick and needs me. Judge, let me go home and I'll come back whenever you say," pleaded Bert Dugan, 321 North Sixteenth street, escaped trustee from the city jail.

Dugan was arrested Monday night by Sergeant Madson, who recognized him as the man who had run away from the station a short time ago after serving three days of a fifteen-day sentence.

PHILADELPHIA HEIRESS TO WED ANGLER B. DUKE—Miss Cordelia Biddle of Philadelphia, who is soon to be married to Angler B. Duke.

Council Orders Kugel's Office to Report All Fees

Superintendent Dan Butler of the department of finance and public accounts secured the adoption of a resolution by the city council, directing Superintendent A. C. Kugel of the police department to make regular reports of all fees collected for permits issued to operators of motor vehicles. There were about 550 such permits issued in January and February and Mr. Butler declared no reports were made of the same.

In this connection the notarial fees being collected by Secretary Tom Bowie of Superintendent Kugel's office resolved into a personal exchange of unpleasantness between Commissioners Butler and Kugel. The statement was made that Secretary Bowie was within his legal rights when he retains notarial fees collected from applicants of motor vehicle operators' permits.

Mr. Kugel declared that Mr. Butler should have gone to the former's office before he made statements for publication regarding the Bowie matter.

It is usual for all city departments collecting fees to report monthly to the city council and such reports are turned over to the department of public accounts for checking and file.

Police Now Believe Read is a Bigamist

That Elmer A. Read, the swift young man who created such a sensation a short time ago by marrying a clerk at the Brandeis Stores for the purpose of obtaining her endorsement to bad checks has been married before and therefore committed bigamy by his marriage in Omaha, is the belief of the Omaha police, who have received word from both Kansas City and Pacific Junction that Read appeared at both places with a woman whom he both registered and introduced as his wife.

CLEVELAND BOOSTERS TO BE HERE TODAY

The members of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, fifty of them, who are out on a trade extension trip are expected to reach Omaha this morning and will spend the day here. The Burlington operating department here gives out the information that the three sleepers in which the Cleveland boosters are traveling left St. Joseph at 11 o'clock last night, attached to the regular train. That brings them into Omaha at 6:30 o'clock this morning. Here the sleepers will be cut off the train and parked, permitting the occupants to sleep as long as they desire.

HEAVY FINE FOR AIDING IN JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Morris Halprin, proprietor of the Denver hotel, 614 North Sixteenth street, was arraigned in police court and fined $100 and costs for keeping a disorderly house. A 14-year-old girl and a 12-year-old boy were brought into court by Irving G. Dreyfus, who testified that they had rented a room on two separate occasions from the proprietor.

Library Shows Big Increase in Books Loaned in February

Circulation of books from the Omaha public library during February showed a good increase over the corresponding month of 1914. Over 2,000 volumes were loaned to book borrowers during the month. Five years ago the total monthly circulation was less than 2,000.

The "deposit stations," or community circulating centers, largely account for the handsome increase in patronage during the last few years. Miss Edith T-bitt, the librarian, explains. There are now over a score of these stations, which permit citizens of all parts of the city and in Dundee, Benson and Ralston to draw books without going to the main library. The stations are maintained in schools, drug stores and factories.

"Over 1,000 books were circulated during February from the stations alone, an increase of more than 100 per cent over the same period last year," Miss Tobitt says. About 6,000 books were borrowed by children alone from the main library last month, and the adult circulation from the central library was over 13,000 volumes. The reference room had 3,000 visitors and almost 6,000 used the reading room last month. The library rebound almost 1,500 old books and bought 1,250 new volumes during February. These figures are included in a report to the library board, of which C. N. Dietz is president.

Not Enough Wheat to Make a Market

With but six cars of wheat received and only one on sale, the others having been consigned direct, there was not enough of this grain on the Omaha Grain exchange to make a market. However, quotations from Chicago showed that prices there were down almost 10 cents per bushel from the high of Monday.

Corn receipts for the day were twenty cars, prices ranging from 64 to 66 cents, a drop of 2 to 4 cents from Monday, and a decline of more than 10 cents per bushel during the last two weeks.

Local grain men look for light receipts in all kinds of grain until the country reports are in good condition again. Reports are that at the country elevators there are practically no receipts, farmers being unable to get into the towns with loads.

Sent to Jail for Stealing Butter

A. F. Donaldson, recently released from the county jail, was arraigned in police court Saturday, charged with the theft of fifteen pounds of butter taken from a delivery wagon.

Donaldson was arrested as he was attempting to dispose of the product at the Millard hotel.

Although he put up a piteous plea of stealing the butter to get money to take him out of town, Judge Britt reminded him that walking was still in vogue, and maybe thirty days of leisure in the confines of the city jail might induce him to use his legs when released again.

Bomb Scare at City Hall Soon Fizzles Out

A round package received by mail by Chief of Police H. W. Dunn aroused the suspicions of that official to the extent that he directed his secretary, Arthur Shields, to hurl the package out of the window to determine whether it was an infernal machine.

After withholding this test the package was opened and the chief discovered a voluminous bundle of manuscript written by a person giving evidences of a diseased mind.

Here is a simple, inexpensive treatment that will almost always stop dandruff and scalp itching, and keep the hair thick, live and lustrous: At night, spread the hair apart and rub a little resinol ointment into the scalp gently, with the tip of the finger.

Repeat this until the whole scalp has been treated. Next morning, shampoo thoroughly with resinol soap and hot water. Work the creamy resinol lather well into the scalp. Rinse with gradually cooler water, the last water being cold. Resinol ointment and resinol soap easily heal eczema and similar skin eruptions. Prescribed by physicians for 20 years sold by all druggists. For trial free, write to Dept. A-I-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.
