Cattle Fall Off and Hogs Drop More Upon Live Stock Exchange.

TAKES CASH TO MAKE DEALS

Banks See Nothing in Speculation and Shut Down Upon Any Effort to Deal in Expectations—Condition Only Temporary.

South Omaha's live stock exchange felt the tension of the continental war yesterday, when hogs dropped 50 cents and cattle fell off 25 cents. While the banks would not admit as much and many stockmen refused to be quoted on the matter, it is known that the banks practically shut down on the speculators. Commission men also reported a tightness of money.

The pens were fairly filled yesterday morning when the market opened, but it was not 10 o'clock before any bids were offered. Then the market broke to pieces and a flat fall of 50 cents was offered by the hog buyers among the packers. For cattle the market ran low 20 cents and later 25 cents. The sellers did not fall for the bids until late in the afternoon, when it was seen that the buyers would not come up on the morning bid. Even at that price but a few loads were removed.

The condition of the local market is said to be the same as that at other points in the country. The banks have shut down and everything was cash basis. One man, speaking of the market yesterday, said: "If you had $1,000 in the bank you could use it; if you did not have the ready cash the banks could not see anything in speculation."

Among speculators the market showed a temper that was very near panic. Heavy dealers used their best endeavors to steady the market and counseled conservative marketing and advised strongly against any movement that would bring on a panic. It was said that stockmen should hold back their stock until the market had steadied and the banks had adjusted themselves to the exigencies of the war. It was urged that the near panic was only temporary and that the market would right itself as soon as the stockmen had gotten hold of themselves. It is a matter of keeping cool and holding your head, was the advice given out at the stock yards yesterday.

When the young woman recovered consciousness she was unable to give an account of herself or even remember her name. She was cared for by people living near the Cudahy ice house.

A. J. Shinn, an Iowa cattle raiser, brought two car loads of prime Hereford yearlings to the market yesterday morning, which sold at $7.50. This is considered an exceedingly good price.

Another big horse sale will take place at the stock yards on the 27th and 28th of this month. The sale will be in charge of Messrs. Anspach and Gallup, a well known local horse dealing concern, and will be made largely in Wyoming horses.

in U. S. and Europe

When telephone rates are low and service good, the use of the telephone is liberal; if rates are high and service poor, the use of the telephone is restricted.

Because telephone service in the U. S. is the best and the rates the lowest in the world, Americans use the telephone more than twice as much as the people of any other nation.
