WHEAT REACHES HIGH MARK

Small Dealers on the Board Crowded Out of the Game.

MAY OPTION TO OVER $1.11

Corn Follows Wheat and Changes Are Almost as Great—Dollar Corn is Now Predicted by Some.

Out of respect to the memory of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president of the United States, the grain markets of the country closed at noon, but this did not prevent prices moving up to high points of the year. Crops injured by dry weather and the war in Europe caused the most erratic market in years. The fluctuations were so rapid and the spreads between the high and the low were so far apart that Chicago shut out all the little dealers and Omaha quickly followed suit. Originally $9 carried a buying or selling order on 1,000 bushels of grain. Later on as the war progressed 5,000 bushels was the smallest order that would be given consideration, and a margin of 10 cents per bushel was required on this. Now Chicago has adopted a rule that a dealer in options must not only put up 10 cents per bushel on a 5,000-bushel trade, but must keep this margin good all the time. The result has been that all the small speculators have been shut out of the game.

Wheat Bought Up Fast.

The Omaha Grain exchange started the Monday business with 119 cars of wheat, 128 cars of corn and 109 cars of oats on sale. The wheat was quickly bought up at prices ranging between 98 and 92 cents, the assertion being made that it would all go into storage to be held for higher prices and probably for May delivery.

The Chicago market set a pace that was hard to even catch, let alone to keep up with.

The September option closed at 94 1/2 cents last Saturday night and opened at 94 cents Monday morning. It then dove to 94 cents and quickly rebounded, going to 95 1/2 cents. December moved about in the same fashion, the Saturday close being at an even $1 and the opening at 99 cents, which was low for the day. From that point it climbed rapidly, touching $1.07 1/2, the highest point it has ever reached.

May Option Wild.

The May option was wild from the start. Saturday's close was $1.07 1/2. The opening was $1.07 1/2, which was the low of the day. From that price there was a steady climb until $1.10 was reached, when the option sold off at 1/4 to 1/2 cent per quotation. Then it took on new life and rebounded to $1.11 1/2, the high of the year.

Corn followed wheat and the changes were almost as great. Dealers are now predicting $1 and even higher and that $1 wheat will rule long before next May.

Many Farm Tractors Arriving at Fremont

Already, a full week before the farm tractor demonstration is to open at Fremont, every freight train is bringing in big tractors, which are entered in the demonstration. Tending facilities, covering nearly two acres, are prepared for the housing of the tractors now and during the demonstration. Those that have arrived before the tents were prepared are being quartered at various places in the city of Fremont.

A. E. Hildebrand, one of the managers of the demonstration, is to go to Fremont in a few days to look personally after the housing of the tractors and during the demonstration. Those that have arrived before the tents were prepared are being quartered at various places in the city of Fremont.

LOOKS FOR BIG PRICE FOR ALL THE GRAIN CROPS

General Freight Agent Townsend of the Great Western is in Omaha from Chicago, looking after company business and is well pleased with the outlook for freight traffic during the coming fall and winter.

Mr. Townsend is of the opinion that the war in Europe will stimulate business in this country on account of the high prices that will be paid for grain as soon as the embargo on exports is lifted and bread-stuffs commence to go abroad.

Crop Moving Fund Expected Here Soon

The $1,000,000 that Omaha banks are to receive from the federal treasury for crop moving purposes are expected to be available within a week or two. Local financiers say they expect to have it here within ten days or two weeks at the outside. Nothing new has developed in the matter of the proposed issue of currency under the Vreeland-Aldrich bill, and the local bankers have practically stopped talking about it, as they do not believe they will need any, especially in view of the fact that the crop moving loan is to be available very soon.

MANY NEW ACCOUNTS AT POSTAL SAVINGS BANK

Deposits and new accounts in the Omaha postal savings bank are growing by leaps and bounds, as the result of the European war. Several scores of new depositors have been added to the list of regular patrons of the bank since the war broke out.

Ironing Troubles Disappear at the Fairy-Like Touch of the Electric Iron

If your home is electrically lighted, you can always enjoy an easy, fretless ironing day. You can do the work in far less time, too, than with the old-fashioned, inefficient sad irons. There is no reason why ironing should exhaust you because

An Electric Iron is Inexpensive To Own and Operate

An Electric Iron means better ironing—the elimination of scorching or sticking. The clean, polished surface of an Electric Iron is always at the right temperature and it stays so—even on heavy wet work. For the summer months especially you will appreciate the cool comfort of an Electric Iron.

Ringling Circus is Sued for Heavy Personal Damages

Ringling Brothers were greeted today with two requests for $50,000, made by J. A. C. Kennedy, attorney for Joseph Mancher and James Croghan, who were injured in the Barnum & Bailey circus train wreck at Richfield, August 12, 1912. Ringling Brothers own the Barnum & Bailey show.

Fat verdicts were secured against the Rock Island railroad by Kennedy, and he now has seized the opportunity to sue the circus company in district court.

Omaha Postal Men Are Complimented

A compliment to two Omaha postal officials exists in the news to the local railway mail offices from Washington headquarters, that the concentration method of handling parcel post matter, originated here by them, has just been adopted throughout the country. The men concerned are Superintendent C. M. Reed of the fourth division of the railway mail service, and Captain Pitt, formerly of the Omaha office and now on special assignment at Washington.

Together they worked out the plan, which brings all parcel post packages for all Nebraska to the Burlington depot terminal from all parts of the east, and then the parcels are sorted out and reclassified to various lines for delivery throughout the state.

BIG CROPS REPORTED FROM BIG HORN BASIN

Immigration Agent Howard of the Burlington is back from the Big Horn basin country of Wyoming and reports that the farmers there are reaping one of the best crops in the history of that portion of the state. The Peters Milling company of Omaha has started its alfalfa mill at Powell and is running it night and day. At this mill the alfalfa is ground into meal and shipped to Omaha, where at the plant here it is treated and converted into stock food.
