AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Belgians Receive Letters from Friends in Old Country TELL OF WAR PREPARATIONS Streets Are Filled with Candidates and Boys Send Their Cards Sailing Through Air—Market Closes Uncertain. The local Belgian colony is sorrowing today, because of mail received in South Omaha yesterday, in which was told of the devastation caused by the European war. The postoffice yesterday delivered no less than thirty envelopes, upon which were Belgian stamps. Use for Campaign Cards. Small boys are having great sport at the expense of the candidates for office. A group of youngsters, each armed with a thick pack of political cards, was standing downtown last night, busily engaged in tearing the cards into squares and then seeing who could "sail" the torn bits the farthest. One youngster, who evaded a peculiar wrist twist was able to hurl a thin piece of cardboard almost a whole block. Several candidates watched the performance with wry faces as they saw their expensive campaign cards going to destruction. Restaurants Food Prices. Increased prices in foodstuffs was felt in several South Omaha restaurants yesterday. Beef steaks usually marked at 50 cents on the bills of fare, were marked at 60 cents, while one downtown restaurant charged extra for bread. Condition of the Market. The close of the week at the stock yards yesterday noon left the live stock market in an uncertain condition. Although the figures show an increase of over 1,000 head of cattle over the sale of last week, there is a decrease of over 5,000 head from the same week in August of last year. The import of hogs was much heavier, being over three times as heavy as the week preceding. Prices in hogs show a steady rise at the present time being from 30 to 40 per cent higher than normal. The general market, was, however, 10 per cent lower than last Friday and as hogs are coming in steadily, a lowering is predicted in the near future. The receipts in sheep were reported to be normal although there was a decrease of over 5,000 head from the week before. Business at the wholesale and shipping markets of the different packings has decreased in the last two days, but a revival is expected by next Monday. Change in School Plans. At the opening of the school term at the high school there will be a few changes in the principal's office. The resignation of former Assistant Principal Miss Roberts brings up the question of who will be the next assistant principal. It is rumored that the assistant principalship will be abolished to eliminate the discordance that has previously been said to exist in the office. The board of education has not yet decided the issue. There will also be a change in the management of the Tooter, the high school paper. A new staff was not elected last year at the close of the semester. Principal Moore saying that he had no definite plans for the future of the paper. There will probably be a change in the old system of running the paper. Miss Grace Thielke Weds. Miss Grace Thielke was married to Frances L. McAlaney, July 28, at Gunnison, Colo. TWO DEAD BODIES FOUND

One Discovered in Riverview Park, Other in Carter Lake. NEITHER CAN BE IDENTIFIED Revolver Lying Near One Found in Park Indicates Case of Suicide—Other Man Probably Drowned While Swimming. Two unidentified bodies were found last night, one probably of a man who committed suicide being found in Riverview park, and the other being discovered in Carter lake. Martin Kruger, 217 South Fourth street, found the body of a well dressed man, a 28 caliber gun lying by his side, in Riverview park. One chamber of the gun was empty, adding to the theory that the man committed suicide. The man was five feet eight inches in height, weighed 150 pounds, wore a black suit with a thin light stripe, a black and white striped shirt, a straw hat and had no papers whatever on his person that would lead to his identity. The body was found in a clump of weeds where it had been evidently for several days. An unrecognized body of a man was found floating in shallow water fifty feet from the bank of Carter lake near the old ice house. The body was found by Tom Brown, 1824 Wirt street, L. C. Mason, 424 N. Twenty-second street and H. C. Dennison, 1322 Lake street. They were riding in a rowboat at the time. The man was extremely large, weighing at least 250 pounds and was unclothed. He probably was swimming, seized with cramps and drowned.

STEAMER BEARING OMAHA TRAVELERS TO DOCK ON MONDAY

A wireless message from Dr. and Mrs. Harold Gifford, aboard the steamship Tunisian of the Allen line, two days out in the Atlantic from Montreal, was received Saturday afternoon by Herbert M. Rogers, a friend of the Giffords. The message implied that the Tunisian would dock at Montreal Monday, and asked that the Giffords, at the Windsor hotel there, be informed by wire how their children are. The Tunisian was due Friday, so when it reaches Montreal three days late, its capacity crowd of returning passengers may have some exciting tales to tell of possible experiences with German warships while crossing the Atlantic from Liverpool. Confused conditions among returning tourists and the boats they are coming home on are indicated by the record of the Giffords. They sailed a week ago that they were sailing on the Virginian, and yet without any intervening message they now report that they are about to land from the Tunisian. Mrs. A. V. Kinsler, her daughter, Miss Ruth, and probably Miss Mary Munchhoff, are also on the Tunisian, according to telegrams sent before they sailed. Mrs. Kinsler has gone to Chicago to meet them. No word from them has been received in Omaha lately by relatives. Local Steamship Agent Beck is in receipt of a telegram announcing that the Virginian has docked at Quebec, having left Liverpool August 7, loaded with Americans getting out of Europe. The telegram fails to state the number of passengers aboard the boat, or who they are. Dr. E. W. Powell has arrived at New York and is expected home Monday.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE WORK

Equal Pay for Equal Work is Now Live Question. PAY FOR TEACHERS IN POINT Women Want Same Salaries as Men When Called on to Do the Same Work in Same Way. Wide variations in the pay for the same or similar work is one of the most striking situations revealed by the investigation of teachers' salaries just completed by the United States Bureau of Education, under the direction of J. C. Hoyle, editor of the Bureau. Public elementary school teachers may receive $2,000 a year, as some do in New York City, or $45 a year, as in certain rural communities. Even in cities of the same class there are considerable differences in the salaries paid teachers. On the administrative side there are county superintendents with pay ranging from $15 to $4,000 per annum, and college presidents receiving salaries all the way from $800 to $12,000. In city school systems salaries have increased steadily in recent years, particularly in the western states; and, in general, salaries in city school systems are fairly well standardized. The average salary of the superintendent of schools in cities of over 20,000 population is $7,175; the range is from $4,000 to $10,000. In the same group of cities high school principals average $3,555 and elementary teachers, $1,915. Even in the smallest cities listed, those between 5,000 and 10,000 population, salaries are fairly uniform. The maximum for superintendents in this group is $3,500 and the average $1,915; but elementary teachers show an annual average of $33, with salaries as high as $1,200 and as low as $100. It is the colleges and universities that the widest variation prevails. The salaries of men with the rank of "professor" range from $450 to $7,500. "Professors" in some institutions receive less than "instructors" or even "assistants" in others. Salaries of deans of these institutions vary from $500 to $5,000. University teachers of subjects for which there is direct commercial demand outside receive somewhat higher salaries than those in charge of the traditional academic subjects, but the difference is less than might be expected. The highest average salaries for full professors are paid in law and civil engineering. Law claims the highest paid professorship in any subject, with one salary of $7,500; but there are professors of physics, geology and Latin who receive $7,000. It is significant, however, that on the basis of the figures reported, most college teaching, particularly in the first two years, is done by men of instructor grade with salaries of $1,000 to $1,200, or by assistants, who receive on the average about $500, usually for half-time services. Quite as noteworthy is the variation in salaries for state superintendents of public instruction. The salaries of the chief school officers in the various states range from $10,000 in New Jersey and New York; $7,500 in Illinois; $6,500 in Massachusetts, and $5,000 in Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, California, Indiana and Louisiana; down to $2,000 in Delaware, Nebraska and Nevada; $1,900 in South Carolina and $1,500 in South Dakota. The report contains a detailed comparison, also, of the increase in teachers' salaries at different periods. The figures thus collected will be utilized as the basis for further investigation by the Bureau of Education and by organizations such as the National Education association, to determine the actual conditions of the teaching profession.
