Rourkes Make Seven Runs in First Round, but Lose Anyhow.

FIVE PITCHERS ARE USED

Crabb Pounded from Box and Willis Takes Pince, While Harrington, Covington, Morgan Grace Mound for Denver.

For a short while yesterday afternoon Pa Rourke's demon athletes, who have long since ceased to be the brave contenders they were after the opening game of the season, thought they had copped a ball game. The Rourke fans and supporters attending were also of the culn-woodburn, p porters attending were also of the opinion that one perfectly good combat had been added to the "won" column. But, alas, they only thought they had it won: and the think was pretty punk, for the Bruins, who are still contenders for the well known gonfalon, won it after the Rourkes had been handed seven runs in the opening stanza. After the entire nine innings had been completed it was discovered that Denver won, 14 to 8.

A left-handed geek by the name of Harrington essayed to hurl for the Bruine. It was off him that the seven runs were compiled in the said opening stanza. Seven hits with a fielder's choice thrown in gave seven runs before an out was made. Thereupon Mr. Harrington vanished into the stygian darkness of the visiting clubhouse and Mr. Covington, late of the big leagues and Kay Sec, presented himself. During his term in office the game was tied by Denver and a couple more runs pushed over. Then Covington beat it to allow Mr. Morgan, also late of the big leagues and Kay See, to exhibit his wares. Some wares they were, too, for the Rourkes falled to connect and the fray was nicked by the visitors. Roy Crabb started for Omaha. Methe Bruin team. The rest of the team proceeded to pummel Crabb for six runs in the third and Ralph Willis was called hence. Ralph then lost the game.

Zumloch Rouses Ump's Ire. Two things served to break the monotony of the battle. One was Mr. Carl Zamloch, recent patient of the mumps. Carl has just recovered and he was told by his M. D. to exercise his jaws as muchly as possible. While sitting on the bench watching his mates lambast the pill all over the park, he remembered his doctor's orders. Instantly he inaugurated a conversation toward Mr. Stockdale, the well known umpire. Stockdale disapproved of such familiarity while on the ball field. Thus he told Zamloch to depart for more genteel apots if he wished to spill a little of the chin music. Sam hustled from within the visiting surcophagus and made directly for Stockdate. Stockdale made for Zam. They came together after each had put on the brakes a bit. At that they thumped quite tent with that he made one swell catch of a foul fly of Barbour's. The ball was within a few feet of the grandstand and Burrell made the long run and thrust

The second "break" was Lem Burrell.
Burrell was released by Des Moines and Ps grabbed him. Lem only made thrus hits one a nifty two-bagger. Not content with that he made one swell catch.
