Board of Control Completes Task of Altering State Wages.

Minor Changes Are Agreed to Count of Votes in First District Shows Delzell to Be Candidate of Socialist Party for Congress in that Division.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 2 .- (Special.)-In an effort to equalize salaries at the state institutions the state board of control has completed its work with the result that it makes a saving for the year to the state of $1.816. In some institutions salaries were raised, in some lowered and in some the payroll was cut by discharg-

Engineers are raised from $75 to $85 a month, bookkeepers are given $75. In the Norfolk asylum an effort was made to even things up by cutting the salaries of employes and raising the salary of the assistant physician from $1,200 to $1,350. Those cut were the engineer from $100 to $50; baker, $60 to $50; laundryman, salary of a seamstress was raised from

At the Omaha School for the Deaf the jobs of supervisor, janitor and farmer were abolished entirely, the physician increased from $25 to $30 and the teachers raised to a total increase of $75 a month. The increase or decrease at each institution is as follows:

Delzell Socialist Nominee. The multitudinous battle of the eleven candidates in the First congressional district for congressional nominations has not turned out quite so one-sided as it was at first feared. When the returns first came in it was supposed that Frank Reavis of Falls City and Johnny Maguire of Lincoln had carried off all the honors, but a canvass of the votes of the First district discloses that there are others who have had honors thrust upon them and are recipients of nominations which

GROSVENOR PROPOSES TO MAKE PEOPLE VOTE

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 2 .- (Special.)-The man who does not go to the polls and vote in the future may be subject to a ride in the patrol wagon, if a bill which J. H. Grosvenor, chairman of the populist party, has drafted and proposes to have introduced in the legislature, becomes a law. It is understood that the bill is brought out to assist the suffragist cause, as one of the great drawbacks which the advocates of equal suffrage have to face is the one that if the woman are given the vote they will not use it, therefore, Mr.

Grosvenor comes to their relief.

The measure is called a "non-voting poll tax law." By its provisions a tax of $6 is levied against every qualified elector of the state. When the elector goes to the primaries and votes half of the tax is remitted. It he also performs his duty similarly at general election time the other $3 is remitted. Electors who fail to put in appearance at either election must pay the full amount.

Reasonable exemptions on account of sickness or absence from the state are provided in the measure. Collection of the tax is put up to the county authorities. A system of checking of names of electors is provided for as between election boards and the taxing authorities.

The state tax commission may get behind the measure. There is some doubt whether such a step comes properly under the outline of duties for that body. If the commission takes notice of the bill prepared by its chairman it will likely do so only in a supplementary way. Bills aimed at similar ends have been introduced in the past. None of these. however, put the operation of such a law within the exercise of police power of the
