

OMAHAN IN LAST PARIS SIEGE

August Carstens Fought French with Germans Under Bismarck. FIGHT ON SAME GROUND NOW

Tremendous Conflict Between the Kaiser's Army and Allies Now Being Fought on Same Battlefields of Years Ago.

Yesterday's war news of the fighting along the Meuse river in France brought back recollections to August Carstens, 642 Leavenworth street, of the time forty-four years ago when he was sloughing arms for Bismarck in the siege of Paris.

Previous to the war of 1864, when Germany and Austria took the Danish provinces of Holstein and Schleswig, Mr. Carstens was a Danish soldier and fought in that war against the invaders. He received a decoration from Denmark for bravery and beginning with January 14, this year, he is to receive an annual pension from that country of 100 kroner ($27 a year).

After becoming a German subject he immediately enlisted and is still loyal to his colors, although he has lived in Omaha since April 13, 1872. He is now 73 years of age. He has one son, Henry Carstens, 2922 South Forty-sixth street.

War Horrible. Turning back his memory to his fighting days he describes a hard conflict between men as brutal and sanguinary.

"To see your fellow being scattered around—some cold in death, others bleeding and lacerated and suffering untold tortures, their faithful horses by their sides—you begin to wonder, wonder to yourself.

"In those days we thought our efforts were extraordinary in point of warfare, but today I can look back upon our battle fields as miniature to the mighty struggles going on there now.

"This war has been anticipated for more than twenty years back. The school children of all the warring nations are taught international competition. They are educated to look upon bordering countries as enemies and possible invaders, and so the very spirit of fighting with instruments of death is a part of their training and subsequent experience."

Hit by Auto When He Picks Up Hair Pin Just for Luck

While stooping to pick up a hairpin "for luck," Harry Coleman, a South Omaha laborer failed to notice an oncoming automobile, driven by Mrs. E. C. Schlager of Council Bluffs.

The hairpin was the immediate cause for the bad luck that followed.

The accident occurred at Fourteenth and Douglas streets. Mrs. Schlager took the injured man in her auto to the office of Dr. C. B. Fultz in the Christian block. His injuries were slight.

JUMPS BREAKS LEG WHEN FRIGHTENED BY LANDLORD

Charles Petty, 237 Lake street, is suffering from a broken leg as a result of jumping from a second story window when Landlord A. N. Fuller came upstairs to investigate some noise that was being made by two companions of the injured man.

Police Surgeon Edstrom gave Petty emergency treatment and had him taken to St. Joseph's hospital. His companions escaped.

NEGRO WOMEN TO OPEN HOME FOR AGED TODAY

The Negro Women's Christian association will open the doors of their home for aged and indigent negroes at 3023 Pinkney street Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mayor Dahlman, Miss Nellie Magee of the City Mission, and Mrs. J. H. Smith, president of the association, besides well-known negro men, will be the speakers.

ALL DRIVERS MAY HAVE TO TAKE OUT LICENSES

Eight thousand Omahans who drive automobiles probably will be required to take out a chauffeur's license, because the city licensing board is considering a plan to compel all drivers, even those who may drive a machine only occasionally, to pay the dollar for an examination and a license.

Greatest of All Human Blessings

The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in infant. And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments.

In almost every settled community are women who have enjoyed the blessing of this famous remedial and helpful embrocation. Their daughters have grown up to learn of its splendid assistance.

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. Thus a great share of the pain so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed through in ease and comfort.

Anything that adds so much comfort must be counted as a blessing indeed. In a little book sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid caking breasts. Get a bottle to-day and write for book to Bradfield Regulator Co., 209 Tamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure you get "Mother's Friend."

S. A. ORCHARD PASSES AWAY

Pioneer Had Lived in This City for Fifty-Nine Years.

FUNERAL TO BE HELD MONDAY

Services to Be in Charge of Local Lodge of Elks, with Rev. T. J. Mackay as Officiating Clergyman.

Samuel A. Orchard, one of the earliest of the Omaha and Nebraska pioneers, died Friday night at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. J. Peck, 403 1/2 Iard street, aged 79 years. The funeral will be held from the residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be in charge of the Elks, of which Mr. Orchard was a member. Rev. T. J. Mackay, rector of All Saints' church, officiating.

Mr. Orchard is survived by two grandchildren, Tupper and Clifford Wyman, and by two brothers and a sister, who reside in Seattle, Wash.

In 1835 Mr. Orchard came to Omaha and engaged in the retail grocery business at Fifteenth and Douglas street, in 1861 on the corner now occupied by the Continental block, his partner being William Preston, the firm name being Orchard & Preston. Subsequently he sold out and went into the furniture and carpet business, the firm being Orchard & Benn. Later on he organized the Orchard Carpet company, which, in time, became the Orchard-William Carpet company. Mr. Orchard retired from business a number of years ago.

During his residence in Omaha Mr. Orchard, until he retired, devoted his attention to business affairs, never holding public office, except to serve as deputy under Casper E. Yost, who for four years was postmaster.

Germans Only Think of Getting a Start On Their Pursuers

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The correspondents of the Daily Express learns from the front that in the attack on the Germans Wednesday afternoon the British punished the Prussian guard in the severest possible manner. An entire Jaeger regiment of sharpshooters, numbering nearly 3,000, was wiped out.

"There is not the slightest doubt," says the correspondent, "that but for the superb handling of the German right by General von Kluck, a large part of Emperor William's forces would have been captured. The allied cavalry did wonders and three or four additional divisions of cavalry could have contributed toward a complete rout of the Germans."

Services Take Town. LONDON, Sept. 12.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from Cottinje, dated September 7, says the Servians are safe before occupied Mitrovitz, in Croatia-Slavonia, on the Save.

"A wireless message to Berlin, which was intercepted here today said, 'We are badly in need of horses and supplies.'"

"A German general who slept in an inn here last night was overheard to say to one of his aides, 'a great disaster has overtaken us.'"

"An English officer of an aviator scouting corps remarked: 'It will be a miracle if any of these Germans get home again. Their only anxiety now is to increase the distance between themselves and their pursuers.'"

"There can be no doubt that the tide has turned in the allies' favor. The great German coup has failed. There will be no siege of Paris and the government can safely return home from Bordeaux at once."

Juvenile Officers Have Hands Full

Juvenile court officers are waging war on boys who make a practice of stealing rides on moving cars in the railroad yards or take goods from freight cars. Combined with their regular work, which last week was the heaviest in the history of the local juvenile court, they have been unusually busy.

Since August 1 seventeen cases have been filed against boys for stealing from cars. Twelve letters have been received from railroad officials reporting forty-four boys stealing from their cars, hanging around the yards and tracks and jumping onto moving trains. Notices have been sent to the parents of all these boys, but a number have been returned, the boys having given the officers the wrong addresses. Last Saturday fifty-six cases were disposed of, involving seventy-three children. These thirty-nine were found to be delinquent, four sentenced and thirty dependent. The mothers of twenty-eight of these dependent children are receiving pensions. Five pensions were renewed and two new ones given.

Three boys were committed to the State Industrial School for boys at Kearney until they reach the age of 21 years, unless sooner paroled or discharged, and three were given suspended Kearney orders. Sixteen children were committed to Riverview Home for delinquency, two for neglect and two for dependency.

Austrians Fleeing in Utmost Disorder

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Telegraphing from Petrograd the correspondent of the Morning Post says: "The Austrian retreat on the Vistula is being conducted with a precision of order, but the case is very different with the right wing operating near Tomaszow. The Austrians here are routed and fleeing in the utmost disorder. Driving in between the two wings the Russians have cut off this Austro-German army and completely surrounded it on the front and the flank. The Russians have summoned this right wing to surrender."

"The Russian cavalry has got behind the retreating army with guns and the situation of the Austro-Germans is now desperate. To cross marshes and rivers with cavalry and artillery and ammunition in the rear is more than any beaten army ever accomplished since Napoleon's time. Moreover, the Austro-Germans have lost the bulk of their supply trains and the men must be starving."

The one building being fitted for and devoted to the treatment of non-convalescent and non-mental diseases, no others being admitted; the other Rest Cottage being designed for and devoted to the treatment of convalescent cases requiring for a time watchful care and special nursing.
