

FIERCEST BATTLE OF WAR IN FRANCE

Great Engagement Now in Progress to Be More Furiously Contested Than Marne Fray.

SUPPORT FOR CONFEDERATES French and British Are Bringing in New Troops Through Rouen and Amiens to Threaten Flank of Enemy.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Another great battle, even more vital for the countries concerned than those which have preceded it, is now in progress on a line extending from the region of Noyon on the river Oise, northwest of Paris, to the river Meuse, north of Verdun.

The front is somewhat shorter than was the case in the battle of the Marne, but this will result only in a more fiercely contested battle, with masses of troops throwing themselves at each other, and every available piece of artillery concentrated in the determined effort of the armies to break through the lines. About 3,000,000 men are engaged.

Position of Germans. The Germans, who, a fortnight ago, had made their first swift endeavor to destroy the armies of France and Great Britain and capture Paris, have now fortified themselves on the mountains north of the River Aisne, through the plains of Champagne and in the Argonne mountains, through which the Meuse flows.

They are in stronger positions than they were for the battle of the Marne and have been strongly reinforced with fresh troops from the north and east. They have attempted some counter attacks against the allied troops, which flushed with victory, have been trying to prevent them from entrenching themselves.

Both Claim Advantage. According to English and French official reports these attacks have been repulsed and the Germans compelled to give way at certain points but the German general staff claims just the opposite result.

It is certain, however, that the ally country north of the Aisne offers good ground for such tactics. It would appear that these western wings of the two armies, the German right and the allies' left, are again to bear a heavy part in the fighting. Upon the armies of General Von Kluck and General Von Buelow depend the safety of the rest of the German army, should retreat be decided upon or forced upon them.

Behind the front they have to be prepared to withstand another attempt on the part of the allies to outflank them. Railways Behind Them. These German forces hold a position from a point near Noyon on the Oise along the district north of the Aisne to the junction of the latter river with the Somme. Behind them are splendid lines of railways running in all directions which facilitate the movement of troops from St. Quentin, Guise and Metziers. In this respect, therefore, they are well placed.

The allies, on the other hand, can, and it is believed they are, bringing in new troops through Rouen and Amiens to threaten the German flank. In fact, nearly the whole of northwest France is now open to the allies, the Germans having withdrawn most of their scattered troops eastward toward the Oise.

Tide Has Turned. Field Marshall Kitchener, secretary of state for war, speaking today with full knowledge of the situation at the front, declared: "The tide has turned."

He, although, telling the public that the war will be a long one, appears to be hopeful of the outcome. The British army that has fought so long and so hard is looking forward to support from the Indian troops, which should soon be at the side of the Englishmen, if not for the present battle, then for the one which must soon follow it.

The French troops, who also occupy a valuable center of operations at Soissons—the engineers having closely followed the army and repaired the railways—are being reinforced and on the whole both as to position and strength of forces, the opposing armies appear evenly matched for the advantage of the ally in having an army to threaten Von Kluck's flank.

The situation along the rest of the line is much the same. In the center, between Rheims and the Argonne, the German continue to fortify themselves, while between Argonne and the Meuse they are entrenching themselves at Montfaucou.

The French officials warn the public that as the Germans occupy positions prepared for defense and are supported by heavy artillery, any progress must be slow.

The Germans are preparing for every eventuality and are maintaining a force superior to that of the Belgian army in Belgium to cover the retirement of the main army should that become necessary. They are reported to be strengthening the fortifications on the Rhine, where, if necessary, they could continue a long defensive.

Skirmishes Continue. In Belgium there has been a continuation of skirmishes which have been a feature of the war since the Germans advanced into France, with advances and withdrawals as daily occurrences. For example, the Germans yesterday recaptured Termonde, only to leave it this morning.

Besides the eastern portion of the country, the Germans hold the line almost to Tournai, in the department of Hainaut, thus preventing the Belgians from going too far in their harassing tactics on the German troops proceeding to France. Thus far, however, the Belgian army has fulfilled its allotted part by keeping at least one division from going to the assistance of the army on the Aisne.

In Italy the agitation for the participation of the country in the war seems to be on the increase. Italy's position is described as one of "armed neutrality" to prevent the war from causing it damage and to shape the new situation in conformity with its interest.

Fifty of England's Literary Stars Say War Forced on Land

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Fifty of the best known British authors, among them men and women of most divergent political and social views, have signed a declaration in which they say they are all agreed "That Great Britain could not without dishonor, have refused to take part in the present war."

The signers include Rudyard Kipling, H. G. Wells, G. B. Shaw, J. M. Barrie, Arnold Bennett, Robert Bridges, G. L. C. Chesterton, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Sir H. Rider Haggard, Thomas Hardy, Anthony Hope Hawkins, Jerome K. Jerome, Henry Arthur Jones, H. G. Wells and Mrs. Humphry Ward.

After reviewing briefly what they claim are the causes which led to the war, they said: "When Belgium in her dire need appealed to Great Britain to carry out her pledge to the world's peace, we were clear. She had either to break the faith by letting the sanctity of the treaties and of treaty rights of small nations count for nothing before a threat of naked force, or she had to fight. She did not hesitate, and we trust she will not lay down arms until Belgium's integrity is restored and her wrongs redressed."

The declaration closes with the statement that its signers "feel bound to support the cause of the allies with all our strength, with full conviction of its righteousness and a deep sense of its vital import to the future of the world."

Germans Keeping Belgians Engaged to Preserve Lines. (Copyright, 1914, by Press Publishing Co.) BY E. ALEXANDER POWELL.

ANTWERP, Sept. 18.—Special Cablegram to New York World and Omaha Bee.—A German force of 8,000 today attempted to retake Termonde. The Belgians, strongly entrenched in the environs of the town, permitted the enemy to get well within range, then opened a withering fire from masked batteries and machine guns. After suffering heavy losses the Germans suddenly retired.

The Belgians still hold the towns of what was once Termonde, though the Germans are attempting to drive them out by a shell fire. This action is none other than part of the German plan to keep the Belgian forces on the defensive hereafter, to prevent them from making further attempts to cut the line of communications.

Sisters of Mercy to Celebrate Their Golden Jubilee. On October 21, the Sisters of Mercy will celebrate the golden jubilee of their coming to Omaha.

A movement has been organized by the members of the Alumnae association for the purpose of presenting a substantial purse to the sisters on that occasion. Not alone are all the graduates of Mercy convents and schools here being solicited, but responses are being made by all students, whether men or women, who have at any time attended schools under control of the Sisters of Mercy.

German Ships Fire Upon Each Other. LONDON, Sept. 18.—Telegraphing to the Times, its Petrograd correspondent says: "Reports of disaster to the German fleet in the Baltic have been confirmed by dispatches received here which declare that German warships fired upon each other. All rumors of engagements with the Russian fleet in the Baltic, however, are untrue."

The information reaching Petrograd is that numerous flotillas, attended by cruisers, were engaged in hunting down passenger steamers mistook their own for the enemy's ships and engaged in a lively battle. The number of vessels crippled is unknown, but several cruisers entered Kiel badly mauled and riddled and carrying many wounded."

WHEAT OWNERS WONT SELI SEIZED IN AUSTRALIA. LONDON, Sept. 18.—A dispatch to Reuters from Sydney, N. S. W., says: "The state government acting in accordance with the powers conferred upon it by Parliament at the outbreak of the war to prevent hoarding in foodstuffs, today seized 140,000 bags of wheat, which its holders had refused to sell at a price fixed by the government."

ALLIED ARMY EXCLUDES RUPTURED. The fighting European need men, but not badly enough to include into the army who is ruptured. Does this prove that a ruptured penis is easily deflected?

Hundreds Get FREE Treatment for Rupture at Rome Hcpter. Also the privilege of witnessing a most remarkable demonstration. STUART'S PLASMA-PADS do for ruptured people. The Plasma-pads are an entirely new and wonderful treatment for ruptured people. They do the work formerly done by the knife, without hindrance from work and at slight expense.

RUPTURE CURED BY STUARTS PLASMA-PADS means that you can throw away the painful truss, and that they are made in one require and not simply to hold it, but being self-adjusting, and when adhering closely to the body slipping is impossible. Therefore, they are also an important factor in retaining rupture that cannot be held by a truss. No straps, buckles or springs. NO PAIN.

Mr. Stuart, the inventor of the Plasma-Pads, and perhaps the best medical man in Europe in the world today, having qualified as an expert in this country and in Europe, will be at the Hotel Danmore, 219 Broadway, New York, on his way to San Francisco to arrange for an exhibition of the Plasma-Pads at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, commencing Sept. 20, 10 A. M. to 3 P. M., and he will be pleased to give WITHOUT CHARGE to all who desire advice of their kind. Do not fail to call on Mr. Stuart during his stay in your city, as this is the chance of a lifetime.

WILSON THE NATION'S AUTOCRAT Eliminates Congress as Factor in Government—Tells Why He Opposes Tariff Act—Currency Law Helps Bankers.

SIGOURNEY, Ia., Sept. 18.—Senator A. R. Cummins formally opened his campaign for re-election to the United States senate at a harvest home gathering here yesterday. He plans an active speaking campaign from this time on.

The senator today took up only a part of the argument he intends to present to the voters for the basis of the return to power in national affairs of the republicanism party. He made these points: He is willing to accept the platform laid down by his opponents as defining the difference between them, namely, that Mr. Cummins will, if elected, follow the president at all times, right or wrong, and always vote as the president desires or directs, while Mr. Cummins will follow no man, whether of his party or out of it, if he believes him to be wrong, and will never let any other, in his position control his vote.

Woodrow Wilson is "a strong, determined man, intellectually and morally, who commands unqualified, unbounded respect. He is a patriot and I have no doubt that he sincerely believes that he is exerting his vast power for the welfare of the people. But he has more real authority than any king or emperor, and he has the power to dominate congress."

Austrians Must Not Fire on Any Planes

ROME, Sept. 18.—A report from Vienna says an army order just issued forbids Austrian troops to fire on aeroplanes for the reason that it is impossible to distinguish between their own and the enemy's aviators. An unexpected difficulty has arisen in connection with the feeding of the soldiers in the field. The smoke from the field kitchens betrays the location of the troops and it is probable that the system of food supply will be changed.

The Case of L. L. Canteloni. The case of L. L. Canteloni, Clarendon, Texas, is similar to that of many others who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "After trying a doctor for several months, and using different kinds of medicines for my wife who has been troubled with severe bowel complaint for several months, I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using the second bottle she was entirely cured." For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.
