DR. THOMAS TALKS IN LINCOLN

All Candidates Wind Up Journey Through Southeast Nebraska with Street Meeting in Lincoln—Comment by Winship.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The automobile tour of the republican candidates for state and congressional offices through the first congressional district was concluded here last night in a monster meeting held just north of the intersection of Thirteenth and O streets, where a large crowd gathered to listen to the candidates.

Ten towns had been covered during the day, leaving Plattsmouth in the morning and speaking at all of the towns en route to Lincoln. Before arriving here speeches were made at Havelock by R. B. Howell, candidate for governor, and Dr. A. O. Thomas, candidate for state superintendent of a University place.

Reavis Talks Tariff. C. F. Reavis of Falls City was the principal speaker at the meeting. He captured the crowd at once with his eloquent address. He covered in a short way the workings of the present democratic tariff law and explained how easily it had failed to bring about a reduction in the high cost of living.

The Underwood tariff law was not created, said Mr. Reavis, "so much to reduce the high cost of living as it was to protect certain industries and productions of the states from which the president and Mr. Underwood came. The democrats told us what free trade would do for us, but in creating the free list what did they do? They put a tariff on eighty productions of the state of New Jersey, the home of the president, and seventy-eight on the productions of the state of Alabama, the home of Mr. Underwood. The same tariff bill puts on the free list twenty-six of the most important productions of the state of Nebraska. Among the Nebraska productions which are on the free list are rye, oats, wool, eggs, meats, wheat, etc. In Alabama products there is a protection on rice, tobacco, peanuts, cotton fabrics, etc.

Increased Imports. "The increase on importations for the first nine months of the Underwood tariff law," continued Mr. Reavis, "as compared with the same period under the old law is potatoes, 40 per cent; butter, 62 per cent; sheep, 1,548 per cent; masts, 1,677 per cent; corn, 4,210 per cent, and oats, 2,146 per cent."

Mr. Reavis called attention to the fact that since the democratic tariff law had gone into effect that fifty woolen mills in New England alone had closed, throwing out of employment 15,000 men. He said that if elected to congress he would do all in his power to uphold President Wilson in his policy to keep crepe from the doors of American homes and would stand back of him in his efforts to keep the United States from getting into trouble which would bring death and desolation to the American fireside.

Tells of Egg Episode. R. B. Howell closed the meeting with a short address. He did not cover state issues in his talk, but told his audience what had happened since he spoke to them before the primary from the same location. He gave a history of the egg-throwing episode in Omaha on the eve of the primary and said that if he was elected governor he would do his duty as executive of the state in cleaning up the city. He laid all the blame for the egg-throwing to the city administration and said that his calls for protection when he knew that he was to be assaulted were paid no attention to by the mayor of the city.

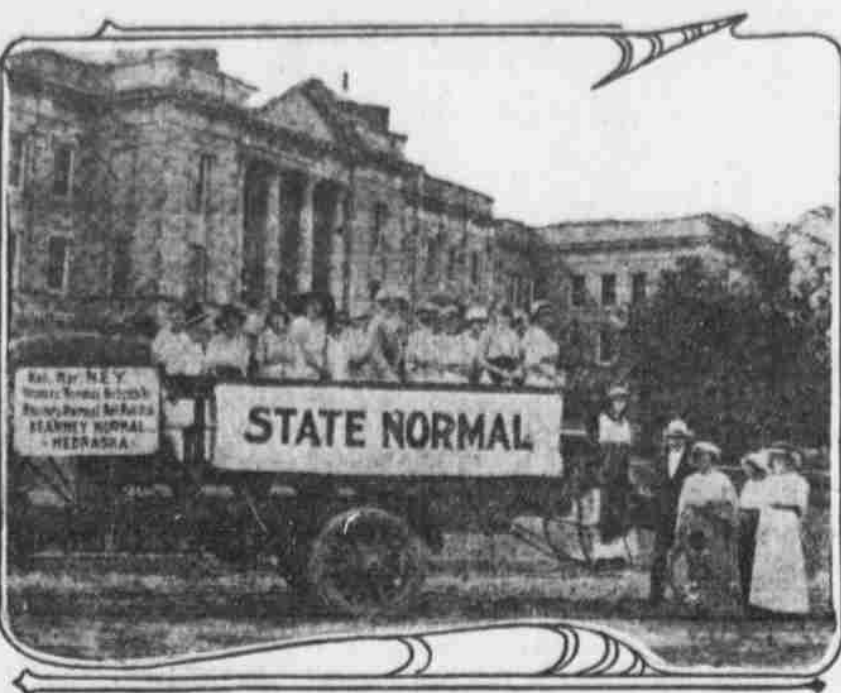

Comment by Winship. Dr. E. A. Winship in the Journal of Education of the issue of September 2, makes the following comment on the contest for superintendent of public instruction in Nebraska:

The fiercest campaign we have ever known for a nomination of a state superintendent was in the republican primaries of Nebraska this year. A. O. Thomas, the first and long time principal of the Kearney Normal school prior to last year, and Deputy State Superintendent R. J. Elliott, were the candidates. Both made whirlwind campaigns and neither seemed to lack for funds for any legitimate use. We chanced to be in the state the last two weeks of the campaign and we have never seen anything to compare with it. No one can understand it who has not known the personalities in education in Nebraska during the last ten years. It has been useless to warn anyone that he was playing with fire. Ultimate consequences never seemed to interest them. As to the outcome of the election, we know nothing, of course, but the primary contest was more vital as a test of specific values than the state election, for in that party politics was slightly much, and there was no party politics in the primary. Mr. Thomas won by a large majority, which, as we are well acquainted with by either side, as we were present daily for two weeks just prior to the voting. There can be no interpretation of the nomination that does not leave Mr. Thomas a great gainer by the outcome.

REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE IN SESSION

LINCOLN, Sept. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The state executive committee of the republican party held a session here this afternoon. A. W. Jefferts of Omaha and D. O. Snyder of O'Neill were the only members absent. The work of the campaign as it has progressed so far was taken up and much satisfaction expressed for the manner in which Chairman Walter George and his assistants had carried on the work. A scheme for raising funds was proposed which it is thought will raise sufficient money to carry on the campaign, after a talk by the chairman in which he said he proposed to be in the fight "until the last armed foe expires."

Registration Day at Kearney State Normal

The above illustration is a registration day scene at the Kearney Normal school Monday was registration day for the fall and winter term at the Kearney State Normal school, and the new president, George S. Dick, had everything in readiness for the opening. The students began to pour into the city early Monday morning, but not too early for the Christian associations, who were at the incoming trains to meet them. The students were greeted by committees from the associations and taken to the school in one of the auto trucks of the city, which was decorated with banners with the school name and the school yell. Over 300 students were taken to and from the school during the first day in the automobiles. The hospitality of the associations was appreciated by the incoming students, many of whom did not know where the school was located.

Missouri Pacific Appeals from Judgment Secured by John Button.

DE FRANCE REFUSES TO SERVE

Supporter of Champ Clark in Last Election Refuses to Become Head of Democratic Publicity Bureau This Fall.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The supreme court will be called upon to settle the question whether the Missouri Pacific roadbed makes a good place to sleep and if the company is liable for damages if its sleeping patrons are awakened before their nap is up by passing trains, which fail to wake the sleeper. The Missouri Pacific railroad appeals from a judgment secured in the district court of Douglas county by John Button, who sued its company for $3,000 damages for being run over while taking a snooze on the roadbed. The jury awarded Button $1,500. Button says that on May 4, 1912, at the hour of 3 o'clock he lay himself down on the right-of-way of the company about sixty feet from a crossing with his head in close proximity to one of the rails. He claims that the engineer of an approaching train failed to blow the whistle when he approached the crossing and, therefore, he never knew the train was approaching until it ran over his head.

Boone Fair Excels. Secretary W. R. Mellor of the State Board of Agriculture returned this morning from a trip to the Boone county fair at Albion, the fair at Scribner and one or two other fairs. He spoke in very glowing terms of the different exhibitions, but especially of the Boone county fair, where on Thursday, despite the threatening condition of the weather in the morning, about 15,000 people were gathered on the grounds. He said that the exhibit of horses at this fair was the best he had ever seen, while other exhibits were very good.

DeFrance Will Not Serve. Charles W. DeFrance, who was appointed at the head of the publicity bureau of the democratic state committee, has declined the office in which he says that he is in charge of the campaign against the removal of the university and therefore cannot conscientiously take part in the democratic campaign. He says also that he did not support President Wilson in the presidential campaign because he was nominated by both wings of the party and that Mr. Bryan's elimination of Champ Clark did not make Mr. Wilson a possibility until the Roger Sullivan and the Tammanyites climbed into the band wagon, and those facts, together with Mr. Wilson's former utterances regarding Mr. Bryan, did not cause me to become wildly enthusiastic over the candidacy of Mr. Wilson.

However, he claims to feel better now, but cannot accept the job. Frank Engler, who is secretary of the same university anti-removal committee has not yet seen fit to withdraw as a member of the democratic committee.

Wounded Man Taken from Train. TECUMSEH, Neb., Sept. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Joseph Lockett, a young colored man, claiming to live in Ottawa, Kan., was taken from a freight train here by the officers. He had been wounded in the leg and claimed a freight crew of the Burlington fired at him with a revolver when he was stealing a ride and refused to leave the train. This occurred at Table Rock. A doctor probed the wound at the jail, but could locate no bullet. He said the wound might have been caused in some other way.
