Body of Corcoran, Who Leaped from Bridge, is Found

Identification of the floating body taken from the Missouri river at Second and Pacific streets by fishermen was made at Coroner Crosby's morgue by Mrs. James W. Corcoran, 308 South Eighteenth street, who declared it to be that of her husband.

Corcoran dived to his death from the Douglas street bridge Tuesday night in the plain view of a half score of pedestrians on the bridge and a street car heavily laden with passengers.

Many of those who saw the act thought it was a "big" swimmer who made the foolhardy leap on a wager.

Corcoran, dependent because of his inability to obtain employment took his life, his widow believes. He borrowed her last dime to get across the bridge to get a job and failure is believed to have exhausted his last bit of determination.

For two weeks he had tramped the streets seeking work. During that time Mrs. Corcoran took in washing to support their two little boys, William, aged 8, and James, aged 6.

Corcoran until recently was a professional high diver, appearing at fairs and with carnival companies.

Mrs. Corcoran is now penniless and too ill from the shock to work for the support of her children. Her father, who lives in Galwin, Ia., is on his way to Omaha, but Mrs. Corcoran says he is not wealthy himself.

The fishermen who found the body are Tony Kocher, Frank Kocher, Henry Hoffmeister and John Trusky.

Famous Prussian Guards Wiped Out

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Paris correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says:

"All accounts received in Paris agree that the famous Prussian Guards corps, the elite of the empire and the especial pride of the German emperor, has been practically wiped out in the battles which have been waged along the Meuse, Marne and Aisne rivers."

SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE HERE

Lord Lyeveden Organizing Band from Among Americans.

SPANISH WAR VETS ARE IN

Special Permission Given to Gather Small Contingent—Wealthy Men Are Furnishing the Funds for Project.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Even in these days of mined ground, bomb dropping and shells that reduce a fort with a single shot, there are not lacking adventurous neutrals who long to get in the European fight. Hence the Anglo-American contingent that Lord Lyeveden, a nobleman of some years' residence in North Carolina is organizing.

It is not the intention of Lord Lyeveden to interfere with President Wilson's desire of strict American neutrality. He therefore seeks only British subjects in the United States or Americans who are residents in Britain or have taken out British citizenship papers. Permission to organize such a contingent has only recently been granted by the British war office, yet over 200 have already enrolled.

Plans are to form half an infantry battalion of 100 men and one or two squadrons of cavalry of 100 men each besides small detachments. Then, if at the end of four months the command passes the inspector, the men will take the ancient army oath of allegiance to the King—not to Great Britain—and go to the front as a unit.

The small detachments already include twenty-five motorcyclists, a hospital staff and a machine gun detachment, to which a wealthy Anglo-American has given a Maxim. A well known American poloist has sent to the states for his stable and other gifts of the kind are expected. Anyone giving a machine or equipping a body of men will be honored by having the detachment or command named in his honor.

There are thirty Spanish-American war veterans enrolled. A good share are born British or naturalized Americans. One man was a sergeant for six years in the Sixth United States infantry. All those of previous military experience, especially in campaigning, will be given an opportunity for the noncommissioned and the commissioned ranks up to and including captaincies.

The expense of training is paid by contributions, a substantial part by some of the men themselves. The uniforms is olive drab, Anglo-American in quality, that of the ordinary Tommy, with green facings and an eagle on the cap to suggest the American ensign.

Asquith Says that Germans Could Not See British Strength

LONDON, Sept. 19.—One of the roots of the present war was the grave and serious miscalculation regarding the British empire that German culture and German spirit led Emperor William and the German people into, said Premier Asquith in addressing a recruiting meeting at Edinburgh, Scotland, tonight.

The Germans were led into the miscalculation, he said, that the British colonies wanted to cut connections with the mother country and that India was in revolt.

"What a fantastic dream and what a rude awakening," exclaimed the premier. "It has been proved that Germany by its own deliberate act made war." Mr. Asquith continued, adding that Germany has made no attempt to controvert that fact except by the circulation of wanton falsehoods. It is in the interest not only of the British empire, but of civilization, the speaker declared, that the arrogant claim of a single power to dominate the destinies and development of Europe should be resisted.

T. R. Believes and Hopes He Will Not Be Candidate in 1916

BALTIMORE, Sept. 19.—Edward C. Carrington, Jr., republican nominee for the United States senate, has published a letter under date of August 27, last, from Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, which, after saying "there are certain states where the republican candidates have declared they are for me in 1916," goes on to say:

"As regards the announcement for myself, I do not regard it as amounting to anything, because, in the first place, I not only hope, but at the present time believe, that I will not be a candidate in 1916, and also, what is more important, because it is of no earthly consequence to endorse me unless the principles for which I stand are endorsed."

Colonel Carrington was an ardent supporter of Colonel Roosevelt in the last presidential campaign, but afterward returned to the republican party.

No Discord Among Illinois Democrats

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 19.—Without a note of discord, the democratic state convention was held here today to adopt a platform. Speeches were made by Chairman Governor Edward F. Dunne and Roger C. Sullivan, democratic nominee for United States senator.

The platform, the result of the joint efforts of Governor Dunne, Mr. Sullivan and Congressman Rainey, praised the national and state administration and endorsed President Wilson for re-election.

Enactment of the initiative and referendum, regulation of private banks and abolishment of the State Board of Equalization and the substitution therefore of a state tax commission, are planks in the platform.

TEMPS THINKS HASTY PEACE WORSE DISASTER THAN WAR

BORDEAUX, Sept. 19.—The reported project of mediation by the United States among the warring nations has elicited much public and newspaper comment here. Referring to a dispatch emanating from Berlin, according to which a conference to fix the basis of peace already has been summoned in Washington, the Temps says:

"Germans, who are numerous in America, perhaps thought to render a service to their empire by stirring up opinion, but American opinion like that of the English or the opinion of any other impartial country sees through this game and has already given its verdict.

Suburban property offers big advantages to thrifty people

The advantages of owning a home and two or three lots in any one of the beautiful suburbs of Omaha are many.

In the first place, you get clean country living combined with all modern conveniences. You can cultivate your own garden, raising vegetables for your table; you can keep chickens with very little trouble, and, all in all, the cost of living can be materially reduced.

In the second place, the fresher air and absence of unhealthy odors are good things to take into consideration if you have growing children. You can provide places for them to play much more easily, can keep them outdoors a good part of the time without fear of traffic or association with street children of less careful parents.

Again, it is possible to purchase an extra lot or two for the same money or for less than you would have to pay down town. With the steady expansion outward of Omaha, suburban property purchased now will yield a handsome profit within a very few years.

Another phase of this question is the fact that any sort of a house depreciates in value from year to year and in other cities the increase in value of the ground is frequently more than eaten up by necessary repairs or new buildings. This situation, however, is not true in Omaha, and the increase in value of two or three suburban lots in ten years will unquestionably not only take care of any depreciation in your building, but remain a most profitable investment.

Thrifty people who are seeking safe and profitable investments for their funds should find out more about suburban property. These newly established centers outside the city's heart have a very promising future. They have been platted and beautified and sold to home builders of Omaha on terms within the reach of everyone.

Investigate some of the offerings in the real estate columns of The Bee today. Buy a piece of suburban property for a home or for an investment and have a nest egg that will grow with the city year by year.
