GERMANS REPULSE A FLANK ATTACK

Official Report from Berlin Tells of Defeat of Movement by the Allies' Left.

SITUATION IN CENTER IS SAME

French Dislodged from Their Positions South of Roye—Night Attacks East of Meuse Are Repulsed.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—(Via Amsterdam and London.)—The following official statement was given out at army headquarters this evening of October 3.

"The right wing of the German army in France has repulsed renewed efforts on the part of the French to outflank it. To the south of Roye the French have been dislodged from their positions. The situation on the center of the battle front remains unchanged.

"German troops advancing in the Algonne region have won substantial advances in a southerly direction. The east of the river Meuse French troops from Toul undertook energetic night attacks, but were repulsed.

"Before Antwerp, Fort Wavre-St. Catherine and the redoubt Borvevel with their intermediate works were assaulted yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Fort Waelhem has been invested.

"The western and important outer emplacement of the Termande fortifications is in our possession.

"In the eastern areas of the war an advance of Russian forces across the Niemen river against the Germans in the province of Suwalk seems imminent.

General Von Der Horst Killed. Major General Freiherr Von Der Horst, the commander of the Twentieth Infantry brigade, was killed while leading his troops on September 23, according to an official announcement made tonight. He had previously received the Iron cross for his work in the field.

Today's casualty list contains about 800 names and includes a mention of the wounding of Prince Joachim, the youngest son of the emperor, at Schatzels, East Prussia.

The Associated Press correspondent learned at Metz from the adjutant of Prince Oscar, the fifth son of the emperor, that the prince on September 24 led his regiment at Verdun in a most desperate battle. The French, including Turot sharpshooters in trees, picked off the officers, of whom so many were lost that some companies were led by sergeants during the hottest part of the fighting.

Prince Oscar Collapses. Prince Oscar headed the column and shouting at the top of his voice, led the charge which finally was successful. He got so excited that he collapsed after the victory with acute heart cramp brought on partly by several days' exertion prior to this fighting.

The physicians ordered him to Metz, where the news of a fithe bestowal of the decoration of the Iron cross of the first class reached him. He jumped from his bed when he heard it, shouting, "I am well again." No crosses were available at the time, so General Von Stantz took his, given him in 1870, and presented it to the prince, who is now rapidly recovering.

The garrison commanders everywhere are taking measures for the suppression of stories to the effect that the Catholic clergy participated in cruelties against German soldiers in Belgium, which, it is officially asserted, are untrue. The highest Catholic officials protested against the assertion which came in letters from the front. Persons repeating the stories will be severely punished.

General meetings have been called to begin a campaign against the consumption in Germany of Scotch whisky and French liquors.

Japanese Mine Sweeper is Sunk Near Kiao Chow

TOKIO, Oct. 3.—An official announcement states that another Japanese mine sweeping boat at Kiao Chow has been sunk after striking a mine. The casualties are given as four killed and nine wounded. The mine dragger was known as the Kayo Maru and was sunk in Laoshan bay.

The German forts and ships, it is also announced, are constantly shelling the Japanese army, which is slowly preparing for the big assault on Tsing-Tau, the German stronghold.

A German aeroplane from Tsing-Tau has made two unsuccessful attempts to attack Japanese warships. Japanese aeroplanes went in pursuit of the German air craft and were subjected to bomb fire.

A captive balloon, which has been seen above Tsing-Tau, has been hauled down. It is believed to have been damaged.

Kaiser's Warning to Greece is Unheeded

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A dispatch to the Express from Rome states that it is reported there that Emperor William of Germany has sent a telegram to the king of Greece warning him that if Greece enters into a war against Turkey Germany will not guarantee the future existence of Greece.

King Constantine replied, the dispatch says, that if any of the Balkan states took up arms on either side Greece would declare for the triple entente.

GERMAN OFFICERS SHOW HEROISM

They Enter French Lines and Blow Up Railroad Grade After Swimming Meuse.

THEY CUT UNDERGROUND WIRE

Tentative Receive Decoration of Iron Cross for Their Exploit of Daring and Perseverance.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—(Via The Hague and London.)—A daring deed of two German officers attached to the Twenty-fourth regiment resulted in the destruction of a railroad line on which the French were transporting ammunition and reinforcements greatly needed by them to resist the Germans, according to details made public today.

The two officers penetrated the French lines by swimming across the Meuse and making their way through swamps and over canals. They passed the French outposts and finally reached the railroad embankment, which they blew up with dynamite. After this they cut an underground telegraph wire and then returned in safety to their own lines. The following details are given by a lieutenant who was one of the participants in the daring enterprise:

Blowing Hurricane.

"The night of — the wind was blowing a hurricane. Part of the German line was familiar to us, particularly the near side of the Meuse and the location of some of the French outposts, but nothing was known of the other side of the river, except the location of the railroad that had been marked for destruction. The first part of the journey was comparatively easy. Going forward quietly, we soon came to the canal on the left bank of the Meuse, which was closely guarded. Finally we arrived at a bridge. Here we killed the French guard, making no noise about it. After this we descended into a bog along the river and going further we crossed several canals by swimming. Our teeth chattering with the cold we finally reached the banks of the Meuse, which was here about fifty-five yards wide. We managed to swim the river. On the other side another difficulty awaited us. There was a swamp at this point and we could find no place to land. We floated down stream until finally we were fortunate enough to get a footing. Then we climbed out.

In Mud Above Kneez.

"We plowed ahead in mud often above our knees, exercising the greatest caution. It was the hardest kind of going. Finally we reached the spot selected for destruction. We laid our mine and set and lighted the time fuses, which we had carried up to this time tied in our hair. We were waiting for the explosion, but in the meantime we were still in danger of detection by French troops not far away.

"The fuse worked and the explosion came on time. At once French cavalry patrol dashed up and began firing into the swamp where we were hiding. This swamp was now a good ally. We eluded pursuit and got away.

"Later we came to a village and at the point of our revolvers we requisitioned a horse and wagon. Then began a wild ride back to our lines.

The two officers have received the decoration of the Iron cross for their exploit. Another lieutenant and a corporal who started on this trip evidently lost their lives by drowning.

GERMAN BAR ARTISTS AND WRITERS FROM FRONT

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A Copenhagen dispatch to the Central News says that the German general staff has announced that no correspondent, painter or photographer will be allowed in the future at the German front.

FIRST DAYS OF 1914 AK-SAR-BEN BEST IN HISTORY

make merry at his festival. Rooms, garages, restaurants and all other needed accommodations have been provided in abundance, with a free information bureau near the entrance of the King's highway, for the convenience of the throng of visitors.

Children Come in Thousands. Thousands of school kiddies, only half as old as the kingdom of Quivera, with several hundred of the best pioneers who peopled the fertile prairies of the realm several decades before the house of Ak-Sar-Ben became its rulers, mingled with other thousands of Omaha and visiting subjects of the king on his Plaza of Pleasure yesterday. Again the attendance records of previous years were shattered, and again did everybody say that this fall's festival is the best ever.

The Plaza was literally alive with happy children, and in the midst of them were the old and gray pioneers, both the special guests of the knights of Ak-Sar-Ben for the day. All had the time of their lives. The weather proved to be on the side of the king again, for the threaten of a storm of the morning soon gave away before the glow of a typical October sun, with just enough of occasional cloudiness to keep the mercury from mounting too high.

Ten balloons, confetti, whistles, Ak-Sar-Ben colors and the highly respected badges of the Territorial Pioneers' association put additional color into the already gay and bright vests of happiness on the highway. Everywhere the children and pioneers were specially welcomed and cared for by the Plaza patrol, the carnival officials and show attaches.

Tiny Ladies Club in Gay Colors.

An instance of how completely the whole organization surrendered to the young and old visitors, shows that all must have had a good time. Two little lassies, beautifully clad in Ak-Sar-Ben colored paper dresses, were met with open arms by Carnival Police Chief Anton Vanous, escorted through the gate without charge, and presented with passes to all the attractions.

In the evening, the merry crowd increased until Samson and the knights wished there had been more room for the festivities. But as the grounds had already been enlarged to the maximum, and some of the show fronts had been moved back to accommodate the throngs, it was impossible to make more space. In which King Ak-Sar-Ben subjects might disport themselves.

The advantage of the special emergency hospital on the carnival grounds has already been demonstrated. Miss Mamie Harris was suffering great pain from a piece of confetti in her eye, but it was quickly relieved by Dr. Jesse D. Wilson, carnival physician, and Miss Sena Peterson, the training nurse at the first-aid booth.

Sunday Day of Quiet.

All will be quiet on the grove's today, for it is Sunday, the day of rest for carnival people as well as other folks. Only necessary work will be done, and if any possibility of improving the Plaza presents itself, it will be tended to before the main week of festivities begins.

Lincoln Beachey, whose wonderful accomplishments in the realm of the air have given him world-wide fame, will arrive in Omaha Monday morning from Brockton, Mass., where he started the Yankees with new feats of skill and daring in his big biplane. His first flight will occur at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with a second flight at 4:30, and other flights at those hours on Tuesday and Wednesday.

With a final dress rehearsal Monday evening plans for the wonderful free fraternal and electrical parades will be completed. All floatmen and horsemen will gather at the Den promptly at 8 o'clock, when they will receive their last instructions and suggestions from Artificer Gus Rene.

Wednesday evening is the date of the electrical parade, which promises to be the most gorgeous and magnificent ever devised to herald the entry of the king into his city of Cibola. The fraternal parade will be held Thursday afternoon. On Friday evening the coronation of Ak-Sar-Ben XX and his queen will take place at the Den, followed by the beautiful ball in their honor.

Carnegie Company Cancels Wage Scale

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—Notices were posted in the Works of the Carnegie Steel company, in the Pittsburgh district today that the company desired to terminate the wage agreement, which has been in effect fifteen years. A. C. Dinkley, president of the Carnegie company, which is a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, said last night that the company desired to prepare for a probable readjustment of the wage scale. He said there had been a depression in the steel business on account of the European war and that the company would be better able to deal with its perplexities if not restricted by the present agreement.

It was estimated by Mr. Dinkley that any change in the wage scale would be for a short period and dependent wholly on business conditions.

A WAY TO SAVE TEETH

The wise old saw, "never pull a tooth until all else fails," is getting stronger and more dogmatic among the profession and the laity every day. There is good reason for this. One tooth out means more coming out unless you are quick to take action likely to arrest the trouble. Most of the tooth trouble comes from microbes or germs that live in the mouth in sheltered places. You don't realize these germs are doing their deadly work until it is too late. Some fine morning the glass shows you a receding gum, or you feel your tooth is loosening or you notice a big black spot on the enamel. It is well for you if in your sensitiveness you notice the trouble in time, for science says you can save your teeth.

The old saying that your teeth stop aching as soon as you get your courage up to a dentist is strong upon us—indeed, hundreds and hundreds of teeth could have been saved if the right little precaution been taken in time. When the gums recede from the tooth, are swollen and tender and ulcerated, don't wait until they pass away from the enamel. When your teeth become loose and rock to and fro and you use your tongue to keep this rocking up, you can surely prevent further annoyance if you will but go to your druggist and get just four ounces of fluid organ (no more will be needed) and put a teaspoonful into the mouth morning, noon and night, and keep the mouth a few minutes. Don't use water for a little time. Your gums will be cleaned of microbes and the bacteria will disappear over night. You will be free of the distress of pyorrhea and its attendant discomforts, as it dissolves the infestments from the teeth. Bleeding of the gums will stop, the crevices and lurking places for germs will be washed clean and free, a healthy tissue will begin to form, the teeth firm and strong in the gums and altogether you will be free of mouth and tooth troubles. Don't use your tongue to rock the teeth to get out the infections, as these little microbes that eat away the enamel of the teeth and render them yellow, subject to decay will disappear entirely. Yellow teeth become white, the black on the enamel comes off, and your teeth are as white and as strong as ever.—Advertisement.
