Dr. Cohn Re-elected to Occupy Pulpit of Temple Israel

Rabbi Frederick Cohn of Temple Israel was re-elected for a term of five years at a special meeting of the congregation last Sunday. This action was taken despite the fact that Dr. Cohn's present term does not expire until March, 1915.

Dr. Cohn has occupied the pulpit at the Temple Israel for the last ten years. During those years he has been a potent figure in Omaha. His has been the respect and regard of many Omahans, irrespective of creed or race. He has been marked by his industry, sincerity, learning and ability.

The growth of the Temple Israel is one of the direct results of Dr. Cohn's work. The property and building cost $65,000. Of a mortgage of indebtedness in 1909 of $55,000, approximately $10,000 has been paid, and of that amount $2,000 was solicited and collected by Dr. Cohn during the last two and one-half years. The congregation has steadily grown in numbers under Dr. Cohn and it now has the largest membership in its history.

Dr. Cohn is an officer in the Associated Jewish Charities, the Wise Memorial hospital, the B'nai B'rith, the Toronado relief committee in 1913, and was advisor of the Douglas county juvenile court. The congregation, in re-electing Dr. Cohn, passed a resolution to attest their confidence in and their esteem of their rabbi and to acknowledge their appreciation of his services in their behalf.

Mrs. Billy Sunday Spends Short Time Looking at Omaha

Mrs. Billy Sunday, wife of the base ball revivalist, passed through Omaha yesterday afternoon and held a conference between trains with local ministers and religious workers who have been planning to have Sunday come here to "revive" this city.

She declared that her husband was really going to run a revival session in Omaha, in spite of several "postponements" that have been made. When asked why his engagement in this city had been repeatedly postponed, she avoided making an explanation.

While in Omaha Mrs. Sunday spent a few minutes at the Young Men's Christian association, where she conferred with two ministers and two other religious workers interested in the proposed Sunday revivals that may be held here. Rev. Charles W. Savidge of the People's church met her at the depot and placed his car at her disposal while in Omaha.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Negro Wanted in St. Joseph Almost Broken from City Jail.

DISCOVERED BY AN OFFICER

Had Dog Hole Through Wall and Nothing Prevented His Getaway But Blamecast Who Happened on Scene.

Len Donahue, colored, alias Howard Brown, who was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Captain Carey and Detective Dvorak, and who is wanted at St. Joseph for assaulting and seriously injuring an officer, made a desperate attempt to break jail Thursday afternoon. Donahue at first thought he had been picked up as a common vagrant, but upon later learning the true meaning of his arrest, he formulated a plan to escape.

Wrenching loose an iron brace supporting the bars about his cell, he attacked a thin brick partition separating the enclosure from the boiler room. He had made an aperture about a foot square and in a few minutes would have been in the other room and out an open window to the rear of the corridor heard the noise and entered the cell in time to prevent the negro from getting away. Donahue was taken last evening by one of the local force to St. Joseph.

Cattle Receipts Fewer. So far this year cattle receipts at the local market have been about 20,000 head less than last year. Hogs show a decrease of 225,538 head, and sheep 33,151 head more than in 1913. The price of hogs continues to decline, between 10 and 15 cents being taken off by the packers yesterday. The bulk of the sales were at $7.50 to $7.75, which is lower than several weeks back. It is predicted that the price will go lower still as the season grows older.

Registration Today. Today Deputy Election Commissioner Ostrom and his force in the city clerk's office will be busy looking after the large number of voters who have so far failed to register. The office will remain open from 7 in the morning until 8 at night. Committees of both parties are making an effort to get the backward ones out at this time, although their efforts Thursday were not very noticeable, as only a fair number from each party availed themselves of the last chance to register.

Condition of Injured Men. William Reschke and Arthur Spencer, who were both injured in the auto accident on the Q street viaduct Sunday night, is reported to be slightly better by those in attendance of their cases at the South Omaha hospital. It was thought yesterday morning that Reschke had contracted pneumonia, but the symptoms are reported to be not as alarming as at first. Both men, however, are in a very dangerous condition.

Funeral of William Iske. The funeral of William Iske was held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Union church. Burial was in the Balle cemetery. Mr. Iske was one of eight brothers, who own hundreds of acres of land in Sarpy county and are ranked among its most wealthy citizens.

Mrs. Gijohn Recovering. Mrs. Natoria Gijohn, 2007 N street, who was shot by her husband Tuesday night, is reported to be much better. The police are still looking for the husband, who disappeared immediately following the shooting. Superintendent N. M. Graham of the public schools and City Physician Shannon favor the idea of medical inspection of the pupils of each school. A number of physicians have volunteered to do the work in view of controlling contagious diseases. It is generally believed that a competent bacteriologist should be employed for this purpose.
