

ALVO DEPARTMENT

John Weichel was a Lincoln visitor Tuesday.

Harley Toland has gone to Havelock to work.

Ed Casey of Lincoln was in town Monday afternoon.

The rain the past week has been a boon to the community.

Miss Sara Lefferdink spent the week end in Lincoln with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Briggs, of Plattsmouth, were in Alvo last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Wolfe visited Mr. Wolfe's parents in Ashland Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Appleman spent the week end in Lincoln with her daughter, Mrs. Farley Young.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Reitz and children of Alvo called on Mrs. J. A. Shaffer Sunday afternoon.

Miss Gladys Appleman is playing on the Orpheum circuit this winter and is now in Winnipeg, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Brownell of Lincoln visited Mrs. Brownell's cousin, Mrs. Roy Coatsman and family this week.

Mrs. Pearl Burnstead and Little Son Howard of Clay Center, Kansas, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Herbert Moore this week.

Word came to relatives here last Thursday that Schuyler Wolfe had passed away that morning about 9 o'clock at his home in Colorado.

Wm. E. Casey, of Denver, Colo., came in Tuesday evening from Omaha looking after business interests and calling on friends until Thursday, when he went back to Omaha on business.

Frank Edwards returned home Thursday morning from Falls City, where she went to visit her aged father who had been quite badly injured by a fall recently. He is mending as well as could be expected at his age.

Mrs. Nora Anderson of California, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sam Walker, at Waverly, visited from Thursday till Sunday with Mrs. A. I. Bird and family, Mrs. Hattie Martin and son, of Waverly, were also guests on Sunday.

Little Miss Alice Fairfield entertained her friends at a party at her home Monday evening in honor of her 13th birthday. Games were played and a birthday supper was served which included the customary birthday cake and was enjoyed by all.

social next Sunday night, November 12th. We have the promise of a fine musical.

Prayer meeting is still alive. Bring your Bible. Study Ephesians, chapter four.

Listen! The ladies of the Aid society are working hard getting ready for a big bazaar to be held in the church basement on Thursday, November 23rd, with a big chicken pie supper in the evening. Yum, yum! Let's go!

The pastor had a real pleasant afternoon last Sunday with the Rev. Laphorn in his men's meeting in the church known as a Brotherhood. Brother Fairfield enjoyed it equally as well and wishes Alvo had a Brotherhood too.

The lady of the parsonage has seen better days than the last few days. It is improving and will soon be up again.

Aren't we thankful for such a fine rain? Of course, some will look at the muddy side of it.

Don't forget the Parent-Teachers' association meeting to be held Wednesday, November 22nd.

Rev. and Mrs. Galloway are expected to visit the parsonage next week. Rev. Galloway is a retired minister of long standing.

Services again next Sunday. Of course you will be there.

NEWSPAPER ADS ARE FAR THE BEST

When It Comes to Real Results, the Press Can Deliver. Says Head of Gas and Coke Co.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 28.—"No form of merchandise advertising is equal to, or a substitute for, newspaper advertising. It not only helps sell the goods, but incidentally helps build good will," was the advice given today to 2,000 members of the American Gas association by John F. Weedon, superintendent of advertising of the Peoples' Gas, Light and Coke company of Lincoln.

"Newspaper space should be used continuously throughout the year," Mr. Weedon said. "Spasmodic advertising activities produce only spasmodic results. Keep everlastingly at it emphasizes a faith in your institution, your service and your goods, and does not look like a transfer to the public through the insistence and persistence of your announcements."

According to Mr. Weedon the sum total of successful copy writing is "keep all advertisements simple." "An advertising man need not be brilliant," he said. "All he needs is good horse sense, which has been defined as being chuck full of stable information. Seemingly clever headlines and witty phrases do not sell goods. Advertisements are news items. The public wants to know what—where—how much."

In speaking of good will and policy advertising, he said the expense for these two forms should not be imposed on merchandise advertising. "The account should be divided to show exactly the expenditure for goods, the advised. 'This will also help to fix a proper conception of the advertising expenditure as not an expense, but an investment that helps earn a net.'"

COUNTY COURT HAS A VERY BUSY TIME

Large Number of Persons Present to Hear Airing of Complaint Filed Against Oliver York.

From Saturday's Daily.

This morning there were a large number of interested spectators at the county court room when the hearing of the complaint against Oliver York came up for hearing before Judge Beeson.

The complaint was filed by County Attorney A. G. Cole and charged Mr. York with having used language toward Lewis Clyde, calculated to provoke an assault.

It seems from the facts disclosed that Mr. Clyde is an employe of the Burlington in the railroad shops in this city and that he had on October 22 moved his family and household goods from South Omaha to Plattsmouth and was preparing to move into the residence of Ed Cotner in the south part of the city when the incidents in which the complaint was filed, were alleged to have taken place.

The first witness of the state was Lewis Clyde, who stated on the stand that he had resided in the residence property of Ed Cotner and had moved to this city by truck with his family and accompanied by Joseph Hanasek and Herman Walters, the driver and owner of the truck. He had arrived at the Cotner place and found Ed Cotner who had called to Lee Cotner who was at the house, and witness claimed that Mr. Cotner stated that they could occupy the lower portion of the house, Oliver York had been at the house at the time and was on the east side of the house where the party had been standing and had cursed and called the members of the party vile names as well as threatening to burn them out if they moved in and cripple up their children. The witness stated they had loaded back on the truck and returned to South Omaha. On cross examination by A. L. Fidd, witness stated that this was all the conversation that he had heard.

Mrs. Lewis Clyde was the next witness and her testimony was practically the same as that of the husband with the exception that she claimed Mr. York had stated he would fix the man renting the house.

The driver of the truck, Joseph Hanasek, testified as to the language used by Mr. York and on cross examination had considerable inquiry into his past history made by Mr. Tidd relative to places he had worked.

Herman Walters, the owner of the truck, who had accompanied the Clyde family here, testified as to the curse used and also that when the trouble had started he had gone toward the truck, the witness stating that he was a man of peace and especially as it was Sunday and had taken the truck back to Omaha.

The first witness for the defense was Mr. Oliver York, the defendant, who stated that he had been in his own and adjoining the Cotner place when the parties came up with the truck and had walked over to the residence of Mr. Cotner. He testified he had not talked either to Mr. or Mrs. Clyde at any time and had not cursed them or made any statement relative to burning up their house or doing injury to their children. At the time Mr. Clyde was in the yard while the wife was standing in the road near the truck. The only remarks relative to the parties, Mr. York stated, was that he had asked Mr. Lee Cotner if "he was going to burn people's houses in, and Mr. Cotner replied that he had no right to do so. On the cross examination by County Attorney Cole, Mr. York stated that he had no interest in the property in which the strangers were to move and had merely objected to the people as they were strikebreaking. He did not think they would add to the neighborhood.

Mrs. O. L. York testified that she and her son, Gilbert, had been in the yard at their home immediately west of the Cotner place and was able to hear the conversation of the parties and heard no words uttered that were claimed by Mr. Clyde and his friends.

Gilbert York, a son of the defendant, was on the stand and also testified that he was in hearing distance of the conversation between his father and Lee Cotner and failed to hear any cursing or swearing.

Lee Cotner was the principal witness of the defense and whose testimony was given very convincingly. Mr. Cotner stated that Mr. York had not spoken to the Clyde family and his conversation had been entirely with him as to the parties moving in and there had been no cursing or swearing at the strangers on the part of Mr. York. The reason that the parties had not moved in, Mr. Cotner explained, was that he had refused to let them have the house, as they had been represented as working in a garage in the city at the time and it was not until their goods arrived here that he learned otherwise and had told them they could not have the place.

After the hearing of the evidence the court decided that there was no evidence that would warrant the court in holding the defendant and Mr. York was thereby freed of all charges as covered by the complaint.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Washington, Nov. 3.—By the president of the United States of America, a proclamation:

"In the beginning of our country the custom was established by the devout fathers of observing annually a day of thanksgiving for the bounties and protection which Divine Providence had extended throughout the year. It has come to us as the most characteristic of our national observances, and as the season approaches for its annual recurrence, it is fitting formally to direct attention to this ancient institution of our people and to call upon them to unite in its appropriate celebration.

"The year which now approaches its end has been marked, in the experience of our nation, by a complexity of trials and triumphs, of difficulties and of achievements, which we must regard as our inevitable portion in such an epoch as that through which all mankind is moving. As we survey the experience of the passing twelve-month we shall find that our estate presents very much to justify a nation-wide and most sincere testimony of gratitude for the bounty which has been bestowed upon us. This we have lived in the shadow of the hard consequences of great conflict, our country has been at peace and has been able to contribute toward the maintenance and perpetuation of peace in the world. We have seen the race of mankind make gratifying progress on the way to permanent peace, toward order and restored confidence in its high destiny.

"For the divine guidance which has enabled us in growing fraternity with other peoples, to attain so much of progress, for the bounteous yield which has come to us from the resources of our own industry, for the we owe our tribute of gratitude and with it our acknowledgement of the duty and obligation of our own people and to the unfortunate, the suffering, the distracted of other lands. Let us in all humility acknowledge how great is our debt to the providence which has generously dealt with us and give devoted assurance of unselfish purpose to play a helpful and ennobling part in human advancement. It is much to be desired that in rendering homage for the blessings which have come to us we should earnestly testify our continued and increasing aim to make our own good fortune a means of helping and serving, as best we can, the cause of all humanity.

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States of America, do designate Thursday, the thirtieth day of November, as a day of thanksgiving, supplication and devotion. I recommend that the people gather at their family altars and in their houses of worship to render thanks to God for the bounties they have enjoyed and to petition that these may be continued in the year before us.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this 2nd day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred forty-seventh.

"WARREN G. HARDING."

LOCAL NEWS

VISITING MISSOURI

From Monday's Daily.

John Richardson was a visitor in Omaha today for a few hours looking after some matters of business.

Harley Wiles was a visitor in Omaha today where he secured some supplies for his farm machinery.

George Sheldon, the Lincoln capitalist, was among the visitors in the city today for a short time visiting with Attorney John M. Leyda, his local representative.

MYNARD GETS A NIGHTTIME VISIT FROM BURGLARS

Richardson Store and Postoffice, Mo. Pac. Depot and Harness Shop of Lew Crabtree Visited.

Last night our neighboring suburb of Mynard was visited by burglars and as the result the general store of W. T. Richardson, in which the postoffice is located, as well as the Missouri Pacific depot and the harness shop of Lew Crabtree, were given a thorough going over by the night callers.

This robbery business is an old, old story with Mr. Richardson, as this is the fifth time he has had his place of business entered and, as has been the case in the past, the parties have made a clean getaway.

The entrance to the Richardson store was secured by breaking glass in the front of the store building and then opening the door. The stock was well searched, the parties evidently looking for cash, and in failing to find anything in the store proper, they descended to the cellar and also ransacked a portion of the building out without avail. A number of cheap rings, cigarettes and small articles were taken by the callers on their getaway.

At the Missouri Pacific depot the visitors, it is reported, secured a small sum in money and at the Crabtree harness shop got away with anything of value.

This is the third case of breaking and entering in the county in the past week, the Bank of Manley, the Sheldon and Opp stores at Nehawka and the three places at Mynard and the burglars seem to be getting busier early in the season and will probably be much stronger before cold weather.

In all these cases the robbers made good their escape.

VISITS OLD HOME

From Wednesday's Daily.

This morning Clare and Glen Thomas of Long Beach, California, arrived here for a short visit with their old friends in this community, where they had spent their boyhood days. The two gentlemen are driving from the coast back to the States to shake a number of cars for their firm at Long Beach. The visit was one of greatest delight to the friends of the boys and Glen, who was a lad of fourteen when leaving here, was much impressed by the changes in the city.

NEBRASKA CITY LOSES TO LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL 11

By Score of 7 to 6 Locals Win Hard Fought Battle—Line Smashes Effective in Scoring.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The local high school team yesterday afternoon won from Nebraska City high school one of the hardest fought games of the season on the enemy territory and in a contest that was filled with the greatest interest to the large crowd. The score was 7 to 6 when the final whistle blew. In the game the line smashes of the locals were very effective and in scoring their touchdown they went down the field for ninety yards using nothing but straight football, Gradoville carrying the ball over.

In speaking of the game the Nebraska City Press has the following:

The Nebraska City high school football team was defeated yesterday afternoon at Hayward Park by Plattsmouth by a score of 7 to 6 in one of the hardest fought contests ever witnessed on the field. Both teams gave fine exhibitions of work and the game was not decided until the final whistle. Plattsmouth came here with the belief that they would be able to pile up a high score on the locals but were surprised to find such a strong team. Plattsmouth recently held Fremont to a 20 to 0 score and as Fremont is a contender for state honors they were confident of piling up a big score. A large crowd attended the game, many Plattsmouth students accompanied their team here.

The game opened with Morton kicking off to Plattsmouth who started in strong with many long passes. Albers caught one of these passes and carried the ball to the danger zone of the visitors' goal. After several minutes of hard playing Albers made a touchdown by a line smash. The drop kick was incomplete. Morton kicked off again and the quarter closed with the ball close to the locals' goal. Score, Nebraska City 6, Plattsmouth 0.

In the second quarter the ball changed hands many times. Plattsmouth completed several long passes. It looked as if the visitors were going to score but Sweet made an excellent tackle and stopped the Plattsmouth men at the 20 yard line. The quarter ended with the ball in possession of the visitors.

Nebraska City kicked off in the third quarter. Excellent playing by both teams was shown in this period. Poling, Casebeer and Veneman made tackles and played the Plattsmouth boys to standstill. Plattsmouth held the ball and by a series of line smashes pushed it over for a touchdown. Mullis completed the drop kick. The quarter closed with the ball on Nebraska City's fifteen yard line. Score, Nebraska City, 6; Plattsmouth, 7.

The final period opened up with both teams determined to win, several substitutes were put into the game by the locals. Nebraska City was unable to break through the heavy line of the visitors. Near the end of the quarter Plattsmouth fumbled the ball and Albers receiving the ball dashed across the field but was stopped by two of the visitors. Near the end of the game Nebraska City failed to make their gains and the ball reverted to Plattsmouth and was soon carried to Nebraska City territory. The game ended with the ball some distance from the visitors goal.

E. J. KATES IS NAMED AS HERO

Young Man, at One Time Resident of Plattsmouth, Honored as Carnegie Hero—Gave Life.

In the list of those who were selected by the Carnegie Hero Fund commission to be honored, appears the name of Edmund J. Kates, formerly a resident of Plattsmouth, where he was in the employ of the Burlington, and whose home was at 1923 R street, University Place.

Mr. Kates gave his life at Wrightsville Beach, North Carolina, June 8, 1921, when he attempted the rescue of a companion from drowning and was himself overcome and perished in the waters of the Atlantic.

The old friends here will appreciate the honor that has been bestowed on the memory of this splendid young man who was cut down in his young manhood in the performance of the noblest and most unselfish of deeds in giving his life for his fellow man.

WILL ACT ON COMMITTEE

Postmaster D. C. Morgan of this city has been designated by Postmaster C. E. Black of Omaha as a member of the reception committee that will wait on Postmaster General Work on the occasion of his visit to this city. Mr. Morgan is one of the best known men in the state and is very appreciative of the honor bestowed on him.

CAR SHORTAGE IN U. S. LARGEST IN HISTORY

Chicago, Nov. 3.—The present car shortage is the largest in history, the Railway Age announced tonight, basing the statement on reports received by the car service division of the American Railway association on October 15, which show a net deficit of 152,034 cars. The largest previous shortage was reported on September 1, 1920, when 146,970 cars were said to be lacking.

"For the first time in its history," the Railway Age said, "the country is confronted at the very beginning of a period of business revival not only with a shortage of transportation, but with the most acute shortage that ever existed. There is only one remedy for this situation and this is the expansion of railroad facilities."

Discussing the question whether in the months immediately ahead, the car shortage will decline or increase, the Railway Age reaches the conclusion that it will increase.

LOYAL CODE CLAN DOES NIGHT WORK TO HELP RANDALL

Rally at Dept. of Public Works Offices to Lay Down Final Mail Barrage of Campaign.

In the interest of Charles H. Randall, republican nominee for governor, and of no other candidate, the rented office quarters of the state department of public works on the top floor of the Brownell block were turned into a political campaign bureau on Monday and Tuesday evenings this week and a large part of Governor McKelvie's code army was assembled there to get a large quantity of Randall literature out to Nebraska voters.

Thus did the McKelvie machine once more demonstrate the practical workings of "efficiency" and "economy" under the code system and put into effect the McKelvie idea of taking the state's business out of politics.

In behalf of the man whose election is deemed necessary by the code secretaries and bureau and division heads in order to hold their respective jobs, women employes were called upon to do "voluntary" work in addressing envelopes, folding and enclosing a circular letter bearing Randall's mimeographed "signature" and with it a printed leaflet containing his picture and an eulogistic biographical sketch.

The sending out of this "personal letter" service on multigraph machines is the final stroke of the G. O. P. gubernatorial candidate's campaign. The work done Monday and Tuesday in the public works department offices was merely the final "clean-up," although it alone required the services of many people on the state payroll.

Letter to Automobile Owners

The Randall circular letter, which is an argument against C. W. Bryan's proposal to reduce automobile license fees, is addressed to "Dear Friend." It is being sent to licensed automobile owners in Nebraska, Mr. Randall and the code officials hope that enough of his "dear friends" will vote for him to elect him.

Whether the state paid the postage has not been disclosed. The code departments are heavy purchasers of stamps the year round. Agriculture Secretary Leo Stuhr, for instance, has been buying them at the rate of three hundred dollars' worth per month.

The public works department is the one from which George K. Leonard, now assistant secretary, sent out letters some time ago to members of county boards over the state, asking them to endorse Randall and urge him to appoint Leonard to the $5,000 secretary's job.

Whether Mr. Leonard has been given any reason to expect the appointment is a matter of conjecture. Candidate Randall says he has made no promises. But Mr. Leonard has been going around the state ahead of his supporters, a fact to be pointed out under the new administration. They are working harder than anybody else for Randall's election.

It costs the state of Nebraska $4,320 per year rental for the top floor of the Brownell block, where the public works department is housed. The free use of these rooms for campaign purposes, together with the free services of a large number of code employes—to say nothing of postage, paper and electric lights—has saved Candidate Randall and his secretaries supporters a very large sum of money.—Lincoln Star.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS TO BE GIVEN AGAIN

The Civil Service Commission invites special attention to the fact that in examinations held recently in Omaha and other cities throughout the United States for computer, coast and geodetic survey, and assistant observer in meteorology, weather bureau, applicants were not secured in the number desired, and these examinations will be held again on December 6.

Persons interested in these or other examinations should apply to the secretary of the U. S. Civil Service board at the local post office for detailed information and application blanks.

FALLS CITY WOMEN FOR MOREHEAD

Neighbors of Congressional Candidate Among His Staunch Boosters

To the Voters of the First Congressional District of Nebraska:

We, the following named women, have been neighbors of and personally acquainted with Ex-Governor John H. Morehead and his family for more than a third of a century. We know him as a successful business man engaged in many different lines of business, making every undertaking a success. No family in Richardson county is more admired than the Morehead family.

Mr. Morehead has helped more deserving people than any other person in the county. He has always given to deserving enterprises, such as churches, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. He stands for the highest things in morals and last hour reports circulated in our campaign purposes should be disregarded, as they will be by the people of Richardson county who best know him.

The women voters of the First Congressional District need have no hesitancy in giving Mr. Morehead their whole-hearted support, as he is too loyal a citizen to vote contrary to his positive statement and the wishes of the majority of the people of Nebraska.

We who sign this statement are some of the earliest and most persistent workers in the W. C. T. U. cause and we appeal to the women voters of the district to give no heed to the cheap ward politicians, who forget their loyalty to their government and adopt methods to defeat a candidate.

Mr. Morehead's statement that he will be governed by the present liquor laws of Nebraska and will vote to strengthen the Volstead law rather than weaken it, will be adhered to by him. If the people are not satisfied with the present status of the liquor laws of Nebraska they can change the same by referendum vote, and that is the only method, if they make a change.

Who the Signers Are

Mrs. Hill is the widow of Major Hill, a Civil War veteran, and is active in Presbyterian church work.

Mrs. Jenne is one of the pioneer W. C. T. U. workers.

Miss Annie Hutchings is the city librarian, which position she has filled for a number of years.

Miss Mary Hutchings is an active worker in the Episcopal church.

Mrs. Jensen is an early settler and the wife of a prominent banker.

Mrs. Helmrich is active in Episcopal church work.

Mrs. Wheeler is active in church work.

Mrs. Prichard is a member of the W. C. T. U. and active in the M. E. church.

Mrs. Shaffer is a church and W. C. T. U. worker.

Mrs. Ewalt is active in the W. C. T. U. and M. E. church.

Mrs. Boose is a member of the board of education and a Presbyterian church worker.

Morehead's Home Vote

Governor Morehead has always received a strong vote in his home county. His home city and his home ward, which is the most pronounced recommendation that can be given a candidate.

In 1920, at the time of the republican landslide, he carried Richardson county by 680 majority over his republican opponent for governor, while Harding carried the county by 1,821 for president on the republican ticket.

At the last primary election in the precinct where he formerly conducted a country store he received 95 votes to 11 for his opponent, while Richardson county gave him 1,024 votes to 383 for his opponent.
