This is a beautiful eratic song from the opera Jocelyn. If it were not for this delightful number the opera would now be quite forgotten. It was first produced in Brussels only as far back as 1888.

Godard (1849-1895) was born in Paris. He was first a violinist and played in public at the age of nine. He wrote eight operas.

23—Hungarian Dance No. 5
Brahms became interested in Hungarian music through the friend Reményi, the Hungarian violinist, and to him he has dedicated all of his Hungarian melodies. The Czardas consists of two movements, the Friska or fast movement and the Landler or slow movement.

Brahms (1833-1897) lived in Vienna most of his life. His greatest works were written for piano and he composed several good songs.

24—This is a very famous violin number. In style it sounds very much like Mendelssohn, who was a friend of Hof.

Hof (1822-1882) was born in Zurich and altho the son of an organist he was largely self taught. He was a great piano teacher and was for a time an assistant of Liszt.

U. S. SENATE TO INVADE EUROPE

Many Solons Preparing to Take a Trip Abroad When Present Congress Closes March 4

Washington, Feb. 20.—The United States senate is going to invade Europe this summer.

Having fought the battle of Europe on the floor of the senate for nine years—ever since the European war began—many a member of the senate is planning to make the Atlantic personal tour of observation during the congressional recess.

They will study a first hand economic, political and financial conditions. Heading the invaders will be Senator William E. Borah, republican, Idaho. Borah plans to climate a trip through England and the Scandinavian countries by a dash into Russia. There he hopes to gain new fuel for his three-year fight for recognition of soviet Russia.

Senator Frank Johnson, republican, Rhode Island, Johnson and "inconciliable," also plans a trip as soon as congress adjourns. Johnson intends to visit England, France and probably Germany. A similar trip is planned by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, and Senator Gerry, Democrat, Rhode Island. Johnson and Borah are members of the senate foreign relations committee. It has much to say on ratification of American treaties with foreign powers.

A revival of the old league of nations fight may be in the offing as a result of a trip contemplated by Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, the closest friend of former President Wilson now in the senate. Swanson will be the ranking democratic member of the foreign relations committee in the next congress. He would become chairman if the democrats were in control. There is reason to believe he will make observations for Mr. Wilson on his tour.

Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democratic leader, also plans to join the invasion. Underwood was a member of the American commission which framed the Washington conference treaties. His itinerary has not been arranged as yet.

Will Visit Near East
Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, another "inconciliable" will cross the seas to study conditions in the Near East and in that hot bed of war, the Balkan states, where he served in the diplomatic corps during the Taft administration.

Senator McKinley, republican, of Illinois, will lead another overseas delegation to the inter-parliamentary union's annual convention in Copenhagen. His associates have not been named, but they will include four more senators.

A dozen others plan personal tours to acquire the "personal touch" of European affairs. Their return next autumn probably will be the signal for the re-opening of European "battles" of the senate floor.

Refrigerator piles provoke profanity but probably won't remove them. Don't's Ointment is recommended for itching, bleeding or protruding piles. See at any drug store.

FARM BLOC AND MELLON DISAGREE

CAPPER BILL FAVORED BY SECRETARY MELLON

Washington, Feb. 20.—Pending rural credit legislation occasioned a head-on collision between the treasury and the farm bloc, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, responding to a request from Chairman McFadden, republican, Pennsylvania, of the house banking and currency committee, unapologetically condemned as financially unsound the Leamoot-Anderson bill proposing to establish an independent agricultural regional system. He approved the Capper bill to liberalize and extend the credit facilities of the federal reserve system for the benefit of agriculture and proposed the incorporation therein of some minor features of the Leamoot-Anderson bill.

"The farm bloc strongly favors the Leamoot-Anderson as well as the Capper bill and proposes to go to the mat with Mr. Mellon in the committee and in the house. The committee is scheduled to report the Capper bill within 48 hours and if it fails to endorse the Leamoot-Anderson bill also, the farm bloc will seek a right to force the latter measure through the house.

Meyer Framed Bill
Secretary Mellon's views coincide with those of Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation, who framed the Capper bill. The position of Secretary Mellon, however, does not accord with that of other influential members of the administration. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, an agricultural part in the drafting of the Leamoot bill and the essential features of the measure have been approved by Secretary of Commerce Hoover. The Leamoot bill also was endorsed in substance in President Harding's annual message to congress in December.

The house today passed the Strong bill, making administrative changes in the federal farm loan act by a vote of 196 to 61, after eliminating the provision authorizing appointment of agents to make loans where farm loan associations were organized or functioning properly.

"It seems to me," said Mr. Mellon, of the Leamoot-Anderson bill, "that a careful study of the measure leads necessarily to the conclusion that its financial provisions as now drawn are unsound and dangerous and that its administrative features are unworkable."
