Going Out of Business!

Yes, that is a fact. I have traded my business property here for a farm in Merrick county, and must make a reduction of the stock here to the extent of three thousand dollars.

To do this, I must offer some exceptional bargains. All goods carried will be sold at actual cost, with the exception of the grocery stock, which must be kept up.

We have a line of hardware, work clothes, auto tires, shoes in endless variety, as well as rubber goods, and in fact all the stock which we are carrying, which includes some Reo cars and Rumley separators and tractors.

We will save you money on anything which you may desire. See us at the stand on the corner, as we are going to reduce this stock in a rush.

School Notes

Friday evening, May 11th, the Junior-Senior banquet of 1923 was given at the Union high school. The reception room was nicely decorated, the men in tuxedos and the women in evening gowns. The banquet hall especially showed evidence of much work done; the design was neat, attractive and very pretty, the senior colors also being used. One would hardly believe that the room was formerly used as a laboratory. The weather was disagreeable and the electric light service far from the best but these things seemed to interfere very little with what had been planned. All places were filled. For the first hour the entertainment was informal in the way of Victrola music and games in the reception room. Next, as the seniors, juniors and high school teachers entered the banquet hall, they were presented each with a pink rose, the senior class flower. The menu was as follows:
Grape Fruit Cocktail
Potato Baked in Half Shell
Creamed Chicken in Pastry Cases

- John Brandt, as toastmaster, presided. He is president of the junior class, and his way of calling on the different individuals to give toasts was amusing and interesting. All were ready and various ideas were brought out. The past was reviewed, the present checked and the future looked forward to.

These toasts were given: "The Building of the Ship" by Harold James; "The Captain," Cordelia Roddy; "The Voyages," Beulah Pell; "The Storms," Mildred Clark; "The Rescue," George Riecke; "The Lessons," Miss Neumann; "The Port at Last," Mr. Severyn.

This was the first banquet of its kind ever given in the school building. Everything was looked after and supervised by Miss Neumann, the sponsor of the junior class, and credit for the success of the whole affair must be given her. She had good assistants for the juniors had to work hard to carry out her plans. The Freshmen girls of the home economics class did their share of the cooking; four of the sophomore girls did the serving very nicely. Miss Robb kindly consented to help during the period of serving.

The following attended the banquet: Alma Frans, LaVon Frans, Virginia Harris, Beulah Pell, George Riecke, Cordelia Roddy, Ethel Becker, Mildred Clark, Bonnie Copenhagen, Bessie Copenhagen, Ina La-

Rue, Vera Upton, Florence Thacker, John Brandt, Kenneth Crook, Ross Dyer, Harold James, Stacey Niday, Miss Tobin, Miss Neumann, Mr. Severyn.

The occasion will no doubt be a pleasing remembrance in the school life of those who attended.

The primary room has been busy arranging work for visitors' day.

The P. T. A. meeting was held Friday evening, May 4. They had an excellent program and made $16.70 from the ice cream and cake sold. This was the last meeting of the P. T. A. will hold this year. A committee was appointed to decide what play group apparatus they would buy with the extra money which the P. T. A. has made during the year.

Tuesday, May 15, is set apart as Visitors' day. You can show your interest in the school by coming.

What? Where? Where? Senior ice cream social, Friday evening, May 18, Union high school. There will also be a program in connection with the social. Everybody come.

NEBRASKA PIONEER ANSWERS THE LAST CALL

Last Monday evening at a late hour U. S. Town, who has for the past five years made his home on the east end of "O" street road, passed away after an illness extending over some two years at the advanced age of 70 years. Some fifty years ago Mr. Town came to Nebraska and settled on a homestead of four miles north of where Maxwell now stands and there helped make Nebraska the great state it is by bringing a homestead under cultivation and reclaiming it from the plains which the country was called at that time. Mr. Town was a man not afraid of hard work and did much of it in his lifetime. This pioneer has a record which can hardly be met by a man of three score years and ten. He was engaged in the barber business in South Omaha for thirteen years and during that time and in fact all his life never took one taste of intoxicating liquor. He was kind and generous as well and while he never amassed a large fortune was well contented to work in whatever position in life fortune placed him. He leaves a wife and a number of sons to mourn his departure and has the honor and respect of all who were favored by having the good fortune to know him.

DROVE TO MALCOLM LANDED A LARGE CARP

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heil and Mr. Heil's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Heil, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Meisinger and their nieces, Misses Luella and Martha Heil, daughters of John Heil, drove to Malcolm last Sunday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. George Jung and family. Mrs. Jung was formerly Miss Carrie Heil, daughter of Wendell Heil. They had a splendid visit and as it was their first visit with the Jung family since the little son Lester arrived about four months ago, they were all glad to find the little fellow growing so nicely and report him a handsome young fellow.

While in that locality, some of the visitors took the time to drive over to call upon Mr. and Mrs. Casper Lange and family and they were heartily welcomed. Mrs. Lange was formerly Mrs. Freda Bluma and her recent marriage to Mr. Lange was a pleasant surprise to a great many of her Louisville friends. They have a beautiful modern home and Mrs. Lange was in the midst of doing some housecleaning.

They had been to Omaha recently to purchase some new furniture and they seemed to be very happy. Mrs. Lange inquired all about her friends here and they sent their best regards to all and extend an invitation to them to visit in Malcolm whenever it is possible to do so. The Louisville folks remained with Mr. Jung and family until after supper—arriving home about eight o'clock in the evening. Malcolm is about fourteen miles on the other side of Lincoln and they had a very pleasant ride.—Louisville Courier.

STILL SUFFERING

From Tuesday's Daily
Miss Donice Vroman, who was the victim of a peculiar auto accident, is still feeling rather stiff and sore as the result of her experience and her nose and lower limbs are bruised and sore to some extent. Miss Vroman was sitting in the Ford car belonging to her father in front of the Rosencrans barber shop on Fifth street Sunday when the Ford was struck by the larger car belonging to Earl Newland that had coasted down the Fifth street hill. The car of Mr. Newland had been standing in front of the Haesler home while the owner was visiting at the house for a few moments and the brakes giving away the car started down the hill and gained more or less headway by the time it reached the bottom and there being no one in the car to guide it, it ran wild and crashed into the Vroman car. Miss Vroman had attempted to get out of the way of the car when she hit coming and the force of the heavier car hitting the Ford caused her to be knocked down and pushed in front of the car several feet. The Vroman car, it is stated, is a complete wreck.
