Nehawka, Nebraska

Charles Hall is assisting in the work at the Johnson Auto company, and which keeps growing in volume as the weeks roll by.

Frank A. Boedecker was a visitor in Omaha during the fore part of this week where he had some business matters to look after.

Dr. J. W. Thomas was a visitor at Weeping Water last week, where he was in attendance at the meeting of the Cass County Medical association.

Anton Janda of Plattsmouth, an excellent carpenter, is assisting with the work on the new home which is being constructed for J. M. Palmer. Blair Dale, who is employed in the Burlington shops at Plattsmouth, and Roy Malcolm, who is also working there, were spending last Sunday at Nehawka.

W. O. Troop and wife were at Weeping Water and Avoca on last Thursday, driving over in their auto to look after some business matters for the day.

C. W. Fleischman was a business visitor in Nebraska City last Monday morning, driving over to the Otoe county town to look after some business matters.

Fred Smith of Plattsmouth, representing the Plattsmouth Motor company, was looking after some business matters in Nehawka last Monday morning.

Uncle B. O. Tucker, who was quite sick a short time since is at this time showing very satisfactory improvement, which is pleasing news for his many friends.

Henry Wessel is needing a good farm hand at Nehawka and will pay good wages and furnish a good position for the entire summer. He wants a single man.

Forest R. Cunningham, who is making his home at Rock Bluffs, was over at Nehawka for a short time last Saturday evening, looking after some matters of business for a few hours.

Fred Rhodewald, the Ford dealer of Weeping Water was a visitor in the neighborhood north of Nehawka, where he was looking after some business matters for the day one day last week.

George Tate is kept busy at this time blasting stumps and clearing off some lands in the vicinity of Nehawka, which keeps him away from town, and so he says he does not know any news.

D. C. West, the banker of Nehawka, was met here by Capt. C. S. Aldrich, of Elmwood, and they with the auto of Mr. West went to Plattsmouth, where they had some business matters to look after.

L. W. Burbee and wife went to Lincoln last Monday, where they visited for a short time and Mrs. Burbee remained for a longer stay, while Mr. Burbee returned to look after the matters at the Nehawka schools.

H. H. Stoll who has been sick for a number of weeks is now on the way to complete recovery and is hoping soon to be able to return to his work again. We are glad as are all his numerous friends that he is again nearing his former health.

A. C. Munn is departing the latter part of the week for the south where he will be for the coming summer, and will expect to return in time this fall to assist in threshing the crop of wheat for Cass county, which we are hoping will be abundant.

The Johnson Auto company, which is running a 24 hour service, is soon to install an acetylene gas welding outfit and will be prepared to look after all work in that line. They will have an ad in these columns as soon as the machinery for the outfit arrives.

J. G. Wunderlich is rounding up the work of assessing Nehawka precinct and will be ready to turn in his books and make his final reports in a short time, and all may rest assured when the work has been concluded, that it has been accomplished in the best manner.

Mrs. John Perry of Lehigh, Canada, who has been visiting for some weeks here, a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Young, coming to attend the golden wedding of the parents, and remaining until now, departed last Monday for her home in the farther north-west.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cisney entertained in honor of the mother of Mrs. Cisney last Sunday, it being Mother's day and Mrs. W. A. Lewis being the guest of honor. There were also present for the occasion another daughter and her family, Clarence Peck and family, who now live near Ashland.

Thomas J. O'Hara departed for Chicago last Friday evening, where he goes to look after interesting some capital in the oil well project, and to have machinery shipped here as soon as he shall have completed the arrangements for starting work, which will probably require some weeks.

Misses Ermal and Charlotte Graud and Grace Strinmeyer, all teachers of the Nehawka schools instead of going to their homes for the week end, gave a picnic in the Morton park at Nebraska City to a number of their friends, and from Nehawka were among them Walter Wunderlich and family and D. C. West and wife. All attending enjoyed the occasion very much.

Last Sunday services were held in the morning at the Otterbein church north of town, where the Rev. Simpkins delivered a very effective sermon on Mother's day, and which was greatly appreciated by his auditors. Miss Mabelle Troop surprised her mother on this Mother's day by having a most appetizing dinner for her on her return from the church services. A very appreciable recognition of the day.

Mrs. Robert Troop, living north of town was a visitor in Plattsmouth last Tuesday, where she spent the day with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Guenther, who have both just passed their 90th birthday and are while pretty feeble feeling pretty well for that age. Mrs. Troop took a birthday cake for the grandparents, whose birthdays come on nearly the same date. They all enjoyed the occasion very much.

Pushing the Work Along

C. P. Richards, contractor for the erection of the new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Palmer, spent last Sunday at his home in Plattsmouth, and on his return brought with him a crew of workmen consisting of Fred Sydebotham, Oscar Howe and Charles Richards, Jr. and also added here W. S. Steele, making five in the crew, with the view of pushing the work along as rapidly as good weather and material supplies and capable workmen will allow.

A Good Ball Game

There was a good game at Nehawka last Sunday in which the home team won by sheer force of good playing, for they coupled with an aggregation of young athletes who knew baseball and knew how to play it. Notwithstanding this fact the home boys, who play baseball and play it to win, were able to wrest victory from the visitors to the tune of 9 to 5 as the finals showed.

New Minister at Work

The newly installed minister of the Methodist church, R. J. Simmons, who has filled the position vacated by the Rev. Johnson, arrived last week and is at work at the charge in a way which bids fair to bring success to the church here. The Rev. Simmons has been visiting in his old home in England for a number of months and but recently returned to the states, taking up his work again. Rev. Simmons was before going to England located with the Methodist church at Lattimer, Iowa, where he made a success of the ministry.

School Notes

The seniors have sent for the class gift. The seniors went to Nebraska City Tuesday afternoon to get their pictures taken.

The third and fourth grade children who were growing tomato plants at school took them home Monday night.

Mr. Thomas Fulton gave an interesting talk to the agriculture boys Monday on shoeing horses and the care of their feet.

The seventh and eighth grades made some very novel and interesting posters for the community school program which will take place next Friday evening at the auditorium. The agriculture students are planning to go to Omaha Wednesday to visit the stockyards and packing houses. This is in connection with the course in animal husbandry.

Miss Scott conducted the eighth grade examinations last Thursday and Friday. Owing to the fact that coal was being put into the building she held them in the physics room in the high school.

Mr. Burby has received the ribbons won at the contest last week and they will be on display at one of the stores. Harold Dodson was high man for the school, winning a first, second and third ribbon, the first and second on poultry and the third on judging Holsteins. Marion Stone tied for sixth place in Holsteins but in breaking the tie procedure ninth. He also procured sixth in horses while the team as a whole placed eighth in dairy judging and thirteenth in the general livestock contest. The agriculture class sent up a dozen each of white and brown eggs. The white eggs took first and sweepstakes while the brown eggs took second.

THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS OF SERVICE FOR HIM

As Treasurer of Blue Lodge of Masons at Weeping Water is the Record of E. Ratnour.

On Monday night, Mr. E. Ratnour was elected treasurer of the Blue Lodge Masons at Weeping Water, and he now starts on his 38th year of service for the lodge of his choice. By his election it is demonstrated that the lodge appreciates his faithful performance of his duties as one of the principal officers of the lodge.

Mr. Ratnour came to Weeping Water in June, 1870, and his first contract of building was the stone church on the lot where the public library now stands. When he came here there were four log houses and during the first summer he lived here he employed eleven men to help in building other houses in the village along the Weeping Water river. He told the writer that he had seen deer on what is now the main street, and he says they looked as fine as the deers that now stroll along Main street. Perhaps Mr. Ratnour is the only remaining charter member of this lodge, and we hope he will be with us many years.

At the meeting Monday night other officers elected were: Dr. M. U. Thomas, W. M.; Samuel Maker, S. W.; C. E. Butler, J. W., and E. B. Taylor, secretary.

After the degree work and election of a bunch of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake was served to the large number in attendance.—Weeping Water Republican.

CASS CO. FARM BUREAU NOTES

Corn Variety Tests

Ray Norris says, of the eight samples of yellow seed corn planted on his place. "That is fine looking seed corn." The following farmers furnished the samples: Chas. Cook and R. C. Todd, Plattsmouth; Pollard Bros., Chas. Heebner and Ed Schomaker, Nehawka; Howard Boyles, Weeping Water; Cecil Jacobsen, Eagle, and Henry Merierjurgan, Murdock. At corn husking time a meeting will be held and the results observed. White corn. The varieties of white corn were planted on the H. L. Livingston farm. There were twelve samples furnished by Wm. Umland, Eden Snoko and R. C. Wenzel, Eagle; Henry Merierjurgan, Murdock; Alex Jones, South Bend; Chas. Cook, Plattsmouth; A. J. Deitrich, Louisville; Walter Little, T. A. Wiles and Eugene Colbert, Weeping Water; Mr. St. John, Nehawka.

Yield Contest

Be sure to enter this contest as the first prize is worth working for. Cost blank will be furnished you upon request. Watch for full information on this.

Corn Club

A corn club will be organized this week. If you are interested, call us. These members will be eligible for the five acre contest.

Fairview Club Meets

The Fairview club, of near Elmwood, met at the home of Mrs. W. H. Mendenhall and spent the day drafting patterns of waist with set in sleeve and cutting out summer dresses. All the ladies were pleased with the patterns and will use them in making their summer dresses. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Melvin Miller, June 18.

South Ashland Club Holds Meeting

Sixteen women met at the home of Mrs. Fred Goodfellow Tuesday, May 8. Sixteen dress patterns were drafted and every woman went home feeling that the afternoon was well spent. The next meeting will be a soap making demonstration at the home of Mrs. Jay Roberts.

Liberty Club

The Ladies of Liberty precinct met at the home of Mrs. Ivan Balfour Wednesday, May 9, and spent the afternoon drafting waist patterns with set in sleeves and planning summer dresses.

Fruit and Vegetable Budget

The ladies of Oxford club met at the home of Mrs. Otto Schafer and spent the afternoon discussing the fruit and vegetable budget. The score cards for daily food habits were filled out by every lady. The amount of fruits and vegetables which each family should use in one month was also taken up. The use of fruits and vegetables in the diet was another interesting subject.

WORK DONE ON THE LINES WEST

Burlington Railroad's Annual Report Summarizes Larger Jobs Started Last Year.

The annual report of the Burlington for 1922 summarizes the larger improvement undertakings on the system last year and from this summary is shown the undertakings and their costs (or amounts spent during the year) for that period on the lines west:

Denver shops (to cost $2-20,000)	$332,329
Mitchell depot	25,037
Hardin (Mont.) depot	22,252
Power plant Alliance	26,430

CARNIVAL PLEASURES IN SPITE OF THE BAD WEATHER

Last Evening the Lachman Shows Operate Under Difficulties But Please a Large Number.

Last evening, as the rain ceased and the indications for continued good weather was evident, the Lachman Exposition Shows opened up on the grounds at the Washington avenue park and while the grounds were extremely muddy a crowd of a good size braved the inconveniences to go out and look over the aggregation of attractions that are carried by this company.

The one thing that impressed the visitor at the grounds was the fact that the management of the Lachman shows made a strong point of keeping their attractions clean and free from graft of all kinds and the lack of offensive shows that might be objected to by the discriminating, such as are often found on the grounds of many traveling organizations.

The shows are all first class and while they have been laboring under the greatest of difficulty since their arrival here they will be in a position this evening to give a real performance of all of the shows and have the grounds in proper shape for the public as the work of getting the grounds in shape will be pushed hard all day.

One of the chief attractions at the carnival is the colored minstrel show and the company of colored singers and dancers give a very pleasing evening of entertainment which is perfectly clean and refined in every way and which anyone may attend without fear. The band and orchestra are both composed of excellent musicians and the dancers of the show the best that a person will find in any show on the road.

Other good attractions appearing on the grounds are "The Radio Girl," "Over the Waves," a mechanical joy producing attraction; "Blooeey," where are gathered the wonders of the world in the way of reptile and human. Another of the real features of the carnival is "Luther," the strange man who from his childhood in the mountains of North Carolina has never walked and uses his peculiarly formed legs and feet with the ease of hands in eating or writing.

The riding devices are numerous and filled with plenty of thrills as there is the reliable merry-go-round, the joy of the little folks; the whip, one of the next exhilarators, as well as the auto swing, something new in the carnival line and which was very popular last night with the young people. The company also carries a first class Ferris wheel which was in operation last night.

The shows will open this evening at 7:30 and the management announces that a fee of 10 cents will be charged at the gate which admits to the five big acts given in the open including the dog and pony show for the little folks and the sensational dive from an eighty foot tower as well as Captain Hugh in his death-defying leap for life through the flames.

ASSESS BANKS OF THE STATE IN FULL

National and State Banks Must Pay Taxes for 1923 on Full Value of Capital and Surplus.

Lincoln, May 15.—National and state banks in Nebraska must pay taxes for 1923 on the full value of their capital stock and surplus, as found by assessors. Instructions to this effect have been sent out by State Commissioner Smith in a circular letter to all county assessors. The situation which developed some months ago, as a result of the state supreme court decision holding that banks were entitled to have their capital and surplus taxed as intangible property at one-fourth the regular rate, has since been secured by an act of congress that takes away the effect of the famous "Richmond decision."

While the intangible tax law was not repealed by the state legislature, it does not apply to banks any longer. Tax Commissioner Smith points out. The new congressional enactment draws a distinction between moneys and credits held by individuals, which are classified as intangible, and the business of banks, trust companies and investment companies.
