TOGETHER WITH CHRIST

God hath not appointed us to wrath but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.—Thessalonians v, 9 and 10.

It takes two to make a love affair—or a quarrel.

Shooting the ice man keeps mud out of the kitchen.

Cheap matches are all right if you happen to strike a good one.

The sharing of a joke is a great step in the history of friendship.

When you can't swat a fly, chase the little fellow until he laughs himself to death.

A candidate who lives in a glass house had better be careful with his campaign thunder.

Price tags on dresses in windows have kept more men single than any other single thing.

Solomon was the world's wisest man, and he had 700 wives. Figure it out for yourself.

Men are not always superior to animals. A horse can switch his tail to keep the flies off.

Our expert opinion is that the man who calls sweat perspiration doesn't know much about it.

Every summer, when it is so hot, we decide we want to grow up and be an ice cream maker.

A bird in the hand is not always better than an obviously plumper fowl within easy range.

Many homes have been broken up by men wanting to sit on the front porch in their bare feet.

Sad things about wearing light underwear all winter is you have no chavy to pull off for summer.

Amundsen is ready to fly to the North Pole and if it gets any hotter we will be ready to go with him.

For team work the cigarette stub and the waste basket have backed the spark and powder keg off the map.

Everybody in this vicinity with their entire family should attend the community picnic on the 4th of July.

Hurrah for the 4th of July, and the community picnic at Wiles grove. Take your family and have a good time for once.

The unsophisticated soul who said something about three moves being as bad as a fire must have figured on paying the rent each time.

Shipwrecked marines in the Pacific saved themselves by clinging to rocks, but income taxpayers in distress hadn't better try it.

We never did object to the lark being "up to meet the sun," but we'd like to know where in the thunder that rooster in our neighborhood got the idea that he's a lark.

Firecrackers are a nuisance any way you take them. The 4th of July is the day they are mostly used, and the sale and use of them before then should be prohibited.

To Poor Richard is attributed the remark that time is money. But on the exchange of some people's mental and physical exertions it wouldn't bring a German mark.

Wiles' Grove is one of the most beautiful woodlands in this section of the country. You and your wife be there and take the children, for a day of pleasure and recreation on the glorious 4th of July.

Bootleggers seem to have no trouble getting plenty of sugar and paying the price. The prohibition agents discovered a huge still the other day within a few miles of Washington and along with 500 gallons of liquor they seized 2,000 pounds of sugar. Strange as fiction, but they have only found the first lot of sugar in the still raids. Must be getting ready for another brew.

Everything is working nicely for the big picnic on the 4th. Think of nothing else just now but the community picnic.

The British saved $1,400,000 on the first installment of their American debt by buying Liberty bonds below par. The first thing we know they will have us issuing bonds to make change.

Nels Urdike, owner of the Omaha Bee, has been invited to go on the junketing tour of the Leviathan. Nels will go, of course. It's anything "to spread it on" with him among republican politicians.

Newspaper advertising has an extraordinary way of making warm friends for a business. As success in business is to a large extent dependent on public sentiment, favorable attention must be attracted to a business by newspaper advertising in order for that business to succeed. Business men who can't see any good in advertising should buy a lot in the cemetery, send for the doctor and phone for the undertaker—they'll soon be dead. What do you think about it.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kirkpatrick left on No. 5 Wednesday for an extended visit on the Pacific coast going direct to Los Angeles to spend some time there with Mrs. Kirkpatrick's son, Mr. Barrett and family.

M. E. Church Notes Sunday was to many the hottest day of the season so far. Some folks really suffered from the intense heat. And the man who stands in the pulpit was not the only sufferer.

Wouldn't it be fine if when those sweltering hot days are on us and at the hour of holy convocation we could press the button and feel a breeze cool enough to enjoy the hour of worship? Wheer is the committee on electric fans? Are you ready to report? We are ready to hear their hum and sit within their reach. I guess we will just forget our coats for next Sunday morning.

Superintendent Clemens has sent blanks to fill out for our next year's official board.

It don't seem possible that the year is so far gone that we announce a fourth quarterly conference. Well, it is so and at the close of the morning service we shall meet to choose our church officers, better known as official board.

The Bible class fell a little short in attendance last Sunday. Next Sunday school lesson is "Review." Don't forget your questions on class review for the quarter.

Miss Carrie Dye of Rosalie and a teacher in the public schools visited the parsonage folks over Sunday. She is attending the state university summer school.

The Sunday school is sure is doing fine. The attendance is good. So is the 40 minute class study interesting. Wonder who will volunteer to teach that class of boys? Superintendent Coatsman asks for a volunteer.

Next Sunday morning the pulpit will see three bottles for an object lesson. Don't miss out on this lesson or you will fail to understand some of your Bible.

Wonder if a Victrola would be O. K. to use for our Sunday night choir. You are cordially invited to all the services.

D. 1923. Only qualified voters of said district will be permitted to vote upon the question submitted at said election. By order of the District Board this 1st day of June, A. D. 1923.

Poor Lubrication Costs Millions

Are your repair bills high?

GIVE me a quart of oil" has cost automobile owners millions. It has sent tens of thousands of motors to the junk pile. Most bills for repairs and for the replacement of worn out parts and burned out bearings are evidence of poor lubrication.

With a new car, the experienced motorist may try several high grade oils. But he buys oil by name and grade, and standardizes on some favored grade. That's why his car runs quietly and smoothly and brings the highest price as a used car.

Polarine is the name of five grades of motor oils, each of unsurpassed quality. A grade to suit every make and size of gasoline motor—light, medium, heavy, special heavy and extra heavy. Polarine shows unusual resistance to injury by heat and it maintains a protective film of lubricant under all conditions. It does not wear out quickly.

Consult the Polarine Chart and use the grade of Polarine that has been proved best suited to your car. It is the surest way to keep down repair costs. Buy oil and gasoline where you see this sign.

A HAPPY OCCASION

From Monday's Daily. Father's day was a real living fact for Lloyd Lewis, one of the well known young farmers of this portion of the county, owing to the fact that a fine little son and heir was born yesterday morning at 11 o'clock to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis. The mother was formerly Miss Esther Godwin and the little one made his appearance at the home of the grandparents, whose joy is only exceeded by that of the parents.
