

Millions of Miles

Hundreds of thousands of owners have driven millions of miles in Overlands equipped with the present type rear axle. Not a single one of them has reported a broken rear axle. Service records as well as comparative tests and measurements have convinced us that the Overland has the strongest rear axle under any car sold today at or near the Overland price.

FROM OUT OF THE ETHER

Radio News Broadcasted each Saturday by Station E7AO.

Monday's the night.
Send the boys a telegram.
They will give the world a mighty fine band program.
Wouldn't you like to hear him say "Los Angeles" again?
"The World is Waiting—for the Eagles band to play."
How did you like the splendid fight service from WOA Wednesday?
There will be no changes in the printed program. By the way, how many did you mail?
Randall's orchestra always makes a hit with the radio fans. Their program last night was especially fine.
George Conis, who is ever ready to contribute in the latest of advertising Plattsmouth, will give a $10 cash prize to the one hearing our program the greatest distance from Omaha.
That's the right kind of spirit. Directly, it won't do George a penny's worth of good, but he knows that advertising the town helps and that in turn will help him—and you and me. Let's see more of this progressive spirit.
It is rumored the corn is growing so tall in Iowa that WOC's (Watch Our Corn) wave can't get out over it. Which may account for inability to pick up this splendid station here. Perhaps their wave travels only east over Illinois, where the corn doesn't grow so tall. Who knows?
Just to show us Station WOA is reaching out despite the static and mid-summer disturbances our old friend, the St. Louis director of broadcasting mailed up photographic copies of three communications picked at random from their daily mail—one from Pennsylvania, one from Louisiana and one from Mississippi.

ILLITERACY IN THE STATE SHOWN FOR EACH OF COUNTIES

Table Prepared Shows that Cass County Ranks Well in Percentage of Intelligent.

Following the example of Kentucky, where the work of redeeming adults from illiteracy began under the leadership of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, many states have been carrying on a campaign to blot out illiteracy among their people. Everywhere the results have been most gratifying.
Nebraska has not yet awakened to her duties and opportunities in this movement. Consequently she has forfeited her rank in the scale of literacy to her lowland neighbor, who has adopted a standard of one hundred per cent literacy for her citizens.
The following table gives the percentage of illiteracy for several Nebraska counties. Thurston county has the largest per cent of illiteracy (3.9). This is due in a measure to the Indian population.

OFFICERS READY TO SEIZE FILMS OF SHELBY FIGHT

Chicago, July 6.—Acting on advice that airplanes were speeding to Chicago with films of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight for showing here, federal officers were posted at the airport where the pictures were expected, ordered to confiscate them.
The United States district attorney ordered the confiscation, saying interstate transportation of such pictures was prohibited.

CELEBRATION OF FOURTH TAKES ITS USUAL TOLL

Score Killed and More Than Hundred Injured in Various Parts of the Country—Missouri Leads.

Chicago, July 5.—A score of deaths and over a hundred injuries resulted from fireworks explosions and other accidents incidental to the nation's observance of Independence day yesterday, according to reports from various sections of the country. Although efforts to prevent the usual casualties were universal, fatalities occurred in all the principal cities of the country in addition to numerous minor injuries.
Most of those killed were children. Exploding firecrackers or powder caused injuries resulting in death to Orville Cramer, Danville, Ill., and Joseph Javarone, Gloversville, N. Y., in whose pockets two giant firecrackers exploded. A flying piece of steel from an exploding barrel instantly killed Mike Auritch, St. Cloud, Minn.
In New York, Peter Vaccarello was shot and killed when a pistol in the hands of his chum exploded accidentally. Francis Gordon succumbed to heart failure when a firecracker exploded under his feet. Dominic Giordano died of lockjaw.
Three persons were killed in Chicago in holiday observances. One man was shot by an officer who mistook him for a criminal, another was shot during an altercation at a picnic and a third was drowned.
Drownings were reported at New Orleans and Aniston, Ala.
Frank Bergeron, New Orleans, died as a result of a broken neck, received in an automobile accident.
St. Louis led middle western cities in the number of injured, sixty-one persons in the state requiring hospital care for injuries, many of whom were from St. Louis.
Joseph Korepa, Cedar Rapids, Ia., died as a result of a broken neck, injured when he peered into the muzzle of a toy cannon to ascertain why a charge of powder and paper wads failed to explode. Three boys in Westville, N. J., were badly burned in an explosion of a package of powder to which they touched a match. A similar accident occurred to three boys at Beloit, Wis.
Nine of Chicago's twenty-six persons who received hospital attention yesterday were injured by stray bullets or buckshot, according to reports. Five persons riding in automobiles sustained slight injuries from stray shots and one man riding on a suburban train was wounded in the arm. A revolver cartridge, placed on a car track, exploded when the wheels struck it and the bullet wounded a man standing on the front porch of her home.
Fatalities and injuries by states, compiled from available reports were as follows:

PEACE DEPENDS ON AMERICAN YOUTH, C. E. SPEAKER SAYS

Dr. Ira Landrith Pleads For Return to "Old Fashioned" Religion—Good Will is the Aim.

Des Moines, Ia., July 6.—The unsettled world requires but one antidote for its ills, the set upon which Christian Endeavor societies are based and a return to "old fashioned religion," Dr. Ira Landrith of Chicago, extension secretary and editor of the Christian Endeavor World, declared in an address tonight before the international convention.
The welfare of the world, he said, depends on the younger generation of America. It was the duty of Christian Endeavor, he added, to give America and the world a succession of generations of right thinking young people.
Tracing the growth of Christian Endeavor since it was founded 42 years ago, Dr. Landrith declared it was opportune that the movement came into its present strength at a time "when the world's supreme need is a dependability upon bright and unselfish generations."
"Commerce, society and the state are clamoring for the ethics of Christianity, the practice of the Sermon on the Mount; in a word, a sane and universal return to what every body calls 'old fashioned religion.'"
"A hundred nostrums were tried, instead of the one real remedy for the moral ills of humanity, and there was no cure. War did its best and worst make men's hearts by battle, social medicines were tried and the pain of the heart of the world grew worse and moral paralysis began."
"And all the while there was just one need—a trained generation that thinks right, speaks right, does right and is right. God's only begotten son is the only Savior of the youth of America and the salvation of the youth of America is the only hope of the world."
"The Christian Endeavor is consecrated to just such evangelistic service as has been acknowledged the universal need."
A. J. Shurtleff of Boston told the delegates industrial peace might be achieved and the problems of the world might be solved through the application of the golden rule.
"The teachings of Jesus, when applied to human relations, will solve all disputes," he said. "It is because of the faith we have in the efficacy of this principle, that we are held enough to suggest a program of world peace based upon good will."
"Missions Open New Fields"
That the pioneering in foreign fields of American missionaries was not only spreading Christianity, but opening up new fields for commerce and broadening the influence of American ideals, was the statement of E. P. Gates, general secretary of the society.
At another convention session tonight 500 persons participated in a pageant entitled "The New Life," directed by Prof. H. Augustine Smith of Boston, and a concert was given by the 500-voice chorus.
At the afternoon session the delegates adopted a resolution declaring their opposition to 12-hour working days in industries and heard Frederick Wallace, New York, outline fields of endeavor that should be enlarged, particularly the work among the submerged peoples of Europe and Asia, and unfortunates of all classes.
The spectacular feature of the convention is set for tomorrow, when more than 10,000 persons are to join a parade intended to demonstrate the strength of the movement. Denominational conferences will occupy most of the delegates during the day.

LADIES WORKING ON TOURIST PARK IMPROVEMENT

Will Probably Result in the City Having a Real Stopping Place for Those Passing Thru.

The often discussed but little acted upon tourist park on Washington avenue may in the near future come into its own and become what was the plan of its sponsors when the project was first launched two years ago.
The ladies of Plattsmouth through their several organizations are on the job in urging improvement in the park and not only are they giving their moral support to the project, but are putting in real work and money into helping out the betterment of conditions there. The Woman's club has just installed a stove in the northwest section of the park that can be used by campers resting there, and which is one step in the direction of a better place for those who pass through our city and desire to stop over night. It has been long urged by this organization that something definite be done and they have received assurance from the city and the park board that operation and help taken the initiative in the matter.
It will be recalled that when the American Legion donated the work to grade down the unsightly obstructions in the center of the grounds, a fund was raised among the business men to pay the team and it was agreed that any remaining balance after the work was done was to be turned over to the park commission and expended by them in the improvement of this park and approximately $100 was left for this purpose.
The W. C. T. U. has voted the sum of $50 for the purpose of screening the old band stand that now reposes in the park and the park board has given promise of seeing that the stand is removed to a suitable place in the park and provided with a permanent foundation so that it will be made into a shelter for those who might be caught there in a storm or desire to stop there over night.
These improvements will certainly be appreciated by the traveling public and are a great step forward, but the ladies need the cooperation and support of the city in seeing that the park is made a real place of comfort for those who travel through here.
Mayor Johnson has some very excellent ideas as to making the park a credit to the city and if they materialize the city will have a place of which they could be proud rather than have to apologize for, as is the case at the present time.
The improvements made will be permanent and will mean that the park will be exclusively devoted to the purpose of a tourist park and not given over to attractions that might cause damage or injuries to the grounds in any way such as has been the case in the past.

MAKES SOME IMPROVEMENTS

The interior of the jewelry store of J. W. Crabill has been treated to a number of improvements that makes it much more convenient for Mr. Crabill and his efficient clerk, Jack McCarty, as well as for the customers. The partition has been moved back several feet to the rear of the room and this has made it possible for Mr. Crabill to place several new show cases in the room. The new show cases are of the latest specially designed jewelers display cases and are certainly neat and attractive in themselves and a very suitable place for displaying the fine line of goods carried by Mr. Crabill.

A FAIR YIELD OF WHEAT PROMISED

Nebraska Crop Probably Will Average 75 Per Cent of Normal—Harvest Hands Needed.

The wheat crop in Nebraska will probably average somewhere near 75 per cent of normal this year, according to the report of the agricultural extension service, with some counties going as high as 85 per cent and others as low as 40. The beginning of the harvest shows a somewhat checkered condition this year due to the excessive rains followed by stretches of dryness. However, harvest has started in a number of localities although the greater bulk of the work will probably begin the latter part of this week.
The average harvest wage offered so far is $4 a day which is about fifty cents higher than that of last year.
Calls for harvest hands to date show that there will be a demand for about 3,000 men this week. Clay county alone asks for nearly 200. Gage county will use probably 200 men. The wheat there will run about 85 per cent of normal this year. Harvest started there June 27 and is now well under way.
Work will start in the fields of Kimball county about July 20 and it is expected that there will be need for 300 to 500 men at that time.

"CLIFF DWELLERS" GATHERING

From Saturday's Daily.
The "Cliff Dwellers," as the residents in the Herold apartments on the top of the Fourth street hill have designated themselves, enjoyed a very fine time yesterday after the heat of the day had passed and during this time recalled themselves with several games of tennis on the new courts before the coming of darkness. A fine beefsteak roast furnished an agreeable feature of the gathering as well as story telling and the evening concluded with a song fest in which all of the party joined and produced some very stirring harmonies that were much enjoyed. Those taking part in the gathering were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herold, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sedgewick and son, Gerald; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sanderson and daughter, Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brady and Jenn, Mrs. Arthur Nadelhoffer and sons, Charles and G. A.; Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Moore and Joan; Mr. and Mrs. James Burdick and Miss Eleanor.

CARD OF THANKS

To those who were so kind to us in our hour of bereavement and sorrow we are taking this means of expressing our deepest appreciation of their many acts of love and sympathy and we also wish to thank those who were so generous with their beautiful flowers and the use of their cars at the time of the funeral.—Mrs. Frank Janda, Jr., and Children; Frank Janda, Sr., and wife; Charles F. Janda and Family; Fred Janda; Stuart Janda and Family; John Janda and Family; Mrs. Fred Heinrich and Family; Mrs. Mary Taylor and Family; Mrs. Victoria Jackson and Family; Mrs. Frank Trilerty and Family.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

The condition of Mrs. W. A. Swalek at the St. Joseph hospital in Omaha is reported as being very satisfactory and the patient is improving so fast from her recent operation that it is hoped that she may return home during the coming week. The cool weather of last week was very beneficial to her case and assisted in getting her on the highway to recovery.

Three-Nights-a-Week Schedule

As heretofore stated Station WOC, Davenport, is operating on summer schedule. Aside from their early evening concert for the benefit of the Red Cross, which are given nightly for the benefit of Davenport and vicinity fans, they broadcast programs only on Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday nights. The Sunday evening program includes church service at 8 and a two hour musical program by the St. Cecilia choir beginning at 9. Wednesday evening, pipe organ recital at 8 and the late musical program from 10 to 11, followed by Tourist's road report, Saturday night, dance program, 9:30 to 10:30.

Will Expedite Messages

For the benefit of long distance listeners, who wish to congratulate those appearing on Monday night's radio program, the Western Union has arranged to give extra fast service on messages filed that night. Telephone calls have proven very impractical of late for the reason that Omaha is the center of the line, and often when the long distance operator is able to get the call through the concert is over. It would look like the telephone company would install separate lines into the station for handling long distance calls exclusively. The $25 to $50 a day revenue ability to get calls through promptly would mean, however, the cost of a ten word telegram is only 35 cents, and it carries the advantage of greater accuracy than a telephone call. Undoubtedly there will be many more calls of this nature hereafter, and the night of the concert than did on the occasion of the former one, when telephone messages were greatly delayed.

Soldering is Very Important

In radio it's the small things that count and you can't expect maximum results from your set unless you construct it with the same care and precision as a jeweler assembles the mechanism of a watch. A common cause of noisy reception is lack of extreme care in soldering connections to the tips of phone jacks and which allow a small leakage between terminals. Solder, correctly used, is the radio fan's best friend. However, if not properly applied, it may cause him more hidden trouble than anything else. In using a resin core flux it is best to have the iron pretty hot. If not, the resin instead of fluxing out is apt to coat the connection and defeat the very purpose of the solder, namely to melt in an unobstructed passageway for the current. An acid core solder can be used with the iron considerably colder, but extreme care should be taken to guard against any excess acid on your wires more than the amount absolutely required to make the solder "stick." It is also important that the iron be kept well tinned to permit a smooth transfer of the solder from it to a desired connection and that it never be allowed to become red hot. If it does, dress it lightly with a file, re-tin and wipe off with a cloth to prevent any of the tinning flux working its way to your connections. A little practice will enable you to determine when your iron is "just right." Generally speaking, it is said to be when the tinned surface begins to assume a liquid state. In making a smooth joint, the principle of soldering must be understood and applied. The heated iron should be held on the desired connection until it becomes nearly as hot as the iron itself, then apply the point to your solder, securing just enough to do the job and no more. Again apply the iron to the connection and hold it there until the wire becomes as hot as the iron itself. At this time, if your iron is properly tinned a smooth transfer of the solder will take place and with a little practice you will be able to make as nice looking connections as found in any manufactured set.

EDITOR IS CONVICTED FOR ATTACK ON LEGION

"Bums, Tramps and Vagabonds" Statement May Send Arthur Lorenz to Prison a Year

Chicago, July 6.—Arthur Lorenz, former editor of the Staats Zeitung, a German language newspaper, was found guilty of criminal libel against the American Legion by a jury after only thirty minutes deliberation today.
Lorenz was indicted in connection with the publication in the newspaper of an editorial referring to the Legion members in derogatory terms. A motion for a new trial will be heard July 21.
If motion for a new trial is denied, Judge Hugo Pam will impose sentence, which may be a year in the penitentiary or a $500 fine or both.
Lorenz did not take the stand in his own defense. The editorial to which the Legion objected was printed in December, 1921, and charged that Legion members were "bums, tramps and vagabonds" and that the Legion was "bought with British gold to suppress truth."
DOINGS IN THE DISTRICT COURT
From Saturday's Daily.
An action entitled John William Simmons vs. Jacob L. Phillips et al, was filed in the district court today by John M. Leyda, attorney for the plaintiff. The suit is to quiet title to real estate in this city.
A short session of the district court will be held on Monday as Judge Begley, who is at his summer home at Carter Lake, will be here to take up what matters may come before him.

OSTEOPATH PRAISES GOLFING AS EXERCISE

New York, July 6.—If golf interferes with business, drop business is the advice given by Dr. F. P. Millard, of Toronto at the annual convention of the American Osteopathic association.
"Dropping business now and then is a good way to make the business grow and to have some fun with it besides," Dr. Millard said.
"Golf is a thoroughly osteopathic game, and no one getting on toward middle age, with a tendency to stiffness of the spine or creakiness of the joints, can fail to benefit by it. Take the swing of the clubs. Consider how it limbers up the wrist, it's marvelous. The golfer draws upon a different set of muscles from those used in tennis. The 300 yard drive of the golfer can only be made when the wrist motion is perfect."
Frank Kozak, who is here from St. Louis visiting with his wife and family for a few days, departed this morning for Omaha to spend the day and will return to St. Louis Monday and will be accompanied by a number of men from this city for work there.

THE FABLE OF "TUT"

Three thousand years ago lived an Egyptian king named Tut-Ankh-Amen. This sounded like a Sautter and the Gang at the Lenoir Golf club called him "Tut."
When "Tut" reached the Cate Eater age and got his hair plastered back Right—he died. Dying was one of the leading Egyptian indoor sports and Tut's death was a major event. They slipped him into a small tomb in the Valley of the Kings.
Three thousand years later a party of Snooters dug up Tut's tomb and all the junk buried with him.
The advertising men took charge of Tut and in a few weeks have given him a Hep which makes Charlie Chaplin's, "Doug's" and M. "Day-By-Day" Cone's look like a last year's almanac in comparison.
Dead for 3,000 years! Lost! Forgotten! Then, Bang! Advertised, and the whole world hollers for more news of Tut!
If advertising can thus put life into a Dead One—what can it do for a Live One?
For a Live Business—For YOUR business?
They could have dug up a hundred Tuts in the desert and if they had kept the good news to themselves, only a few Bald Headed Historians would have ever known it.
You can have the best merchandise in the world. But if the world does not get Hep to it—the business will sleep along peacefully.
Remember "Tut."
