THE FRUIT OF EVIL

In the day that thy walls are to be built, in that day shall the decree be far removed.

Every branch of our air service breaks records except congress.

Here you are, poky folks: Deliberation saves more times than it wastes.

July is the month in which we begin taking a cold bath all the year around.

A large crowd attended the celebration yesterday. Everybody had a good time.

If a lot of us thought twice before we spoke we would forget what we wanted to say.

Thousands of doctors are completing their study of anatomy at the bathing beaches.

About the only way to keep the ants out of your picnic lunch is to let the cow get it.

Booze is not a 1924 issue, according to a party leader. No, not yet; it is a 1923 issue now.

It strikes us that Paydown, Mo., would be a good place in which to start a cash business.

One of the oldest bicycle plants went broke at Toledo, Ohio. Two can't spoon on a bicycle.

It is estimated that Bryan says more than two women, three barbers and a good phonograph.

Don't get worried when you see a boy driving his car with one hand, and the other arm somewhere else.

There are some men in this country who think alcohol unfit for beverage purposes is unfit for anything.

A bachelor is a man who thinks a Sunday when the home team is out of town the longest day he ever saw.

Now the coal industry seeks a dictator. No one should apply for that job who holds eighteen holes a day sacred.

The Leviathan had smooth sailing in connection with that joy ride, but we just don't believe that the G. O. P. will.

As we understand it, the Leviathan thinks nothing of twenty-eight knots an hour while plowing thru $60,000.

The man with whom President Harding will spend his Alaskan vacation is named Bone. It's that dry up there.

"Pussyfoot" Johnson has gone to Arabia to talk prohibition to the Arabs. He probably hopes to dry up the desert.

Lloyd George says peace is perched upon an ammunition dump. He ought to know how come the ammunition there.

The president says that transportation is a national problem, but the three-mile zone makes it an international one.

A prominent doctor says 98 percent of the people overeat. The other 2 percent we reckon are people connected with country newspapers.

The next session of the advertising men of the world will be held in London. The American delegates are already practicing up on how to pronounce "bawth."

Never has scientific play in major league baseball been at such a low ebb. The punch seems to be more in demand than the subtle, crafty maneuver. Base stealing, the sacrifice game, the squeeze, the bunt and run have all been sacrificed in favor of the crashing tactics and the game has suffered. Before long the customers in the seats will demand a return to the scientific game. Shut outs are as scarce as eggs of the great auk.

One of the strangest things in this world is how many times a girl can powder her nose without getting dust in her lungs.

Much credit is due the management of the community picnic for the magnificent manner in which everybody was entertained. How could it have been otherwise with such a hustler at the head of the committee as Cliff Wescott.

YOUR VACATION

Take a vacation, no matter how hard it may be to find time for one this summer. Change is absolutely necessary to rest the nerve centers.

This excellent advice comes from Health Commissioner Mahoney of Boston.

Most of us are suffering, in varying degrees, from "nerves," a malady created by the hustle and rush of tenacity as we become more "civilized," whatever that means.

We of the cities are keyed up highly. We work under great nervous pressure, speeded up to the last ounce of energy. And we get the clock wound so tightly that we remain keyed up, when away from work.

We rush about the streets as if going to a fire. We gulp our meals. We sit down at home after dinner and immediately become restless—begin drumming our fingers, wanting to "start something."

Maybe we go to a theatre or movie. Impatient to get past the people in line ahead of us. So restless that we can't keep our seats until the final curtain drops or the picture ends. That's why musical shows come to an abrupt ending. They have to. No one would be left in the house if the show ended peacefully and artistically.

All this is "nerves." Its imprint is on our strained faces, in our keyed up walking or auto driving, in our general impatience.

When a person has a nervous breakdown, the first thing a physician recommends is "a change." The best kind of a change is a complete one. So Mahoney is right. The city man should vacation in the country. The farmer and small town resident should vacation in the city.

Contrast is a nerve restorative. It is informative, broadens our vision, restores our balance, gives us the proper perspective. What does your most good on a vacation is the "change," rather than the air or rest or recreation. And, the more complete the change the more recuperative.

The brain worker, for the same reasons will do best by spending his holidays where he'll have physical labor to do—preferably camping chores. And the man who works with his muscles a rest and exercising his brain, reading, thinking.

A good rule, is Mahoney's and it can be applied in everyday life as well as during vacations. By complete "change"—doing the opposite to your routine—you can get at least an hour's vacation every day.

MORE ABOUT LOVE

When a horse falls in a ditch we pull him out but when you see a young man falling in love we abandon him to his fate. Which leads us to the opinion that human beings are more inhuman toward each other than they are to dumb brutes.

The reason why we abandon a young man to his fate when we see him falling in love is because all the world loves a lover and we want him to take the fateful plunge. We believe that when he shall have taken the plunge, when he shall have fallen precipitately and declivitously and completely into the honeyed depths it will be good for him. He will rise again and rise higher than before.

He will rise to show perceptions of duty, to new vistas of content stretching to faraway horizons like ribbon roads in Arcady. The young man falling in love should not be restrained. Cyndics who tell him that love is but a fitful fever, a transient emotion dispelled by possession of that which inspires pursuit, are not only enemies of love and all its sweet connotations, but enemies who would have him believing girlhood is calculating and manhood but expressed selfishness. What if there were no young men falling in love? What if all the young women were but lovely effigies of insincerity? What if the rouge that sometimes enhances their beauty were accepted as a smudge eyes as deception's signal lights? What a wretched world it would be without love and confidence and appreciation of things lovely and lives of good repute!

The community picnic was a grand success in every particular, so much so it guarantees another celebration of the same kind next year.

It looks as if the proposed consolidation of the railroads might be an attempt to make us pay the freight and carry the goods, too.

The man who can come nearest really sound advice is likely to be the one that won't offer you any at all.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Plattsmouth Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Plattsmouth citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the blacksmiths of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders of any form or kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Plattsmouth citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

Wm. Hassler, proprietor blacksmith shop, corner Fifth and Oak streets, says: "I know the straining work that I have had to do most of my life with blacksmiths is what caused my back to weaken. Many times I have been down shoeing a horse when a sharp stitch would take me through my kidneys and hurt severely. My back was stiff and lame at times. I started to use Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon corrected the trouble and made my back strong again. About two boxes of Doan's bought at Weyrich & Hadraba's drug store was all that I had to use. I can work every day now and give Doan's the credit for my good condition. I always keep Doan's on hand and take them occasionally to keep my kidneys well and they never fail."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hassler had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved.

That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.

PLEASANT FAMILY REUNION SUNDAY Numerous Birthdays Grouped About this Date Made it Seem Like Birthday Celebration.

A very pleasant family reunion occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stander in the country west of Manley last Sunday when all the members of Mr. Stander's family were present, including his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stander of Omaha.

Mr. Stander had been down here at the farm helping his son John to point all the buildings on the farm and his wife and daughters arrived on the bus last Friday evening as a surprise to him on his 68th birthday anniversary and as a further surprise it was planned to have all the other children present at the big dinner on Sunday. There were six birthdays occurring near this time and they were all bunched into one big celebration.

Those present besides the father and mother were their two daughters, Misses Lena and Lillian, who live at home; Mrs. Julius Bickert of Denver; Mrs. Joe Lilly of Dubuque; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hocker; Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Brien; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stander and Mr. and Mrs. John Stander and their families who live in this vicinity. Besides the eight children, there were thirteen grandchildren and of these nine are boys and the proud grandparents say they have a full baseball team now.

It was the first time they had all been together since the children began to leave the old home and it was a joyful occasion for all and Mrs. John Stander surely has great credit for planning and executing such a pleasant affair.—Louisville Courier.

Lunch sets, plates, paper napkins, cups, and in fact everything for the summer picnic party can be found at the Bates Book and Stationery store, 5th and Main street.
