administered at the Baptist church in Wabash on July 22nd, when three candidates will be received into the church.

Orville McQuinn and W. H. Marks were looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth last Saturday, they making the trip in Mr. McQuinn's auto.

The Baptist Ladies Aid society will meet in the church basement of Union to quilt a large number are asked to be present. Some important business is to be held.

Misses Nola Banning, Sarah Upton and Madge Cheney, three young ladies, were enjoying the bathing at the Murray beach last Sunday for a short time in the evening.

Frank Boggs has been spending quite a bit of time during the past few weeks looking after his insurance work in Plattsmouth and has been making a good success.

With the quiet spell in the auto lines, A. W. Propst is keeping himself on the farm pretty much looking after the stock during the hot weather and doing some little farming.

Mont Robb was a visitor at the county seat last Saturday and spent the time visiting with his many friends there as well as looking after the business which called him there.

Mr. Henry Born and wife with the children from east of Plattsmouth were spending the day Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Todd, driving down in their auto for the day.

Misses Bessie and Ina LaRue were spending last Saturday at the home of their friend, Miss Gladys Hall, of Plattsmouth, spending the day with the former teacher in the Union schools.

Mr. B. G. Watkins of northwest of town was in Union for a short time last Monday while on his way to Plattsmouth where he had some business matters to look after at the county seat.

Earl Merritt and wife and Mrs. Jennie Frans were visiting in Murray and were spending the evening last Sunday at the Murray beach, where they were visiting with their many friends for they were most all there.

Orville Hathaway was a visitor in Omaha last Sunday, driving up in his auto to visit with friends and perchance see a good ball game as we have nothing to report regarding the former ball team of Union at this time.

Nearly half of the population of Union and vicinity were enjoying the fine bathing at the Murray beach on last Sunday. During the extremely hot weather now prevailing, the fine waters of this popular resort are most invigorating.

Ellis LaRue was looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth last Monday afternoon and it looks like this excellent young man would become a citizen of the county seat from the trend of business negotiations which have been pending.

Luther J. Hall and wife with their daughter, Miss Dorothy, will spend the next few months at Duval, Washington, they having departed for there last Sunday. Mr. D. B. Lynde and wife took them to Omaha in their auto to catch the train for the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Nola Lear, of Sidney, Iowa, who formerly was a resident of Union, having managed the lumber yard here for a number of years ago, were visiting with friends in Union last Sunday and were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor.

John S. Buck of Lynn Haven, Fla., arrived in Union last week and are visiting with their friends here for a short time before going to Iowa, where they will visit at well and later spend some time at Denver. While here they are guests at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cross.

Miss Dorothy Delaney of Florida, where she has made her home for some time, arrived in Union a few days since and will spend the summer with her grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Bauers. Miss Dorothy formerly lived in Union and the spending of the summer here will be a pleasant visit for her.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Moore and family were visiting and spending the Fourth at the home of the parents of both Mr. Moore and wife. They drove over in their car and enjoyed the occasion at the homes of Mr. Moore, Nancy B. Moore, mother of Mr. Moore and J. P. Henderson and wife, parents of Mrs. Moore.

It is the way you hold your mouth or your fish pole or something which guarantees the catch. While others fished along the Weeping Water with no success, Dan Lynn threw his hook in and immediately drew out a seven pound river carp. Not so bad for one grab, but no one knows exactly just what bait he had.

The new home of Mr. Ira Clark, which he is having constructed, is going forward nicely at this time and under the deft workmanship of Messrs. Joe Queen and L. W. Crawford will soon be a real house. The gentlemen having it in charge are now putting the roof on the structure, having it up and hoisted.

S. W. Copenhaver, who has all his wheat in the shock and believes it will make 25 bushels to the acre, and his corn laid by, and with the haying done, says he thinks he will be able to get the threshing done during the week. As for the wheat, it looks pretty good to us and we believe his estimate of the yield will not be far out of the way.

A. R. Dowler was looking after some business matters in Nebraska City and like the policy of service which has been his practice brought home the timekeeper for Eugene Austin, which he had been having repaired in Nebraska City. Mr. Austin did not want to have any doubt as to when dinner time came. He is a good guesser, but wanted to be absolutely certain, so wanted the watch.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Porter were guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Taylor, where they spent the day visiting with this hospitable family. Mr. Porter tells of the good things which were furnished them to eat and the excellent music and withal the most splendid time which was provided as well.

Mr. Robert Jannus was also a guest and assisted in supplying the music. The Rev. George Wash, minister of the Methodist church, and wife, were special guests for the day at this pleasant home.

W. A. Harding, manager of the Farmers' elevator in Union, was a visitor at his home in Bethany last week end, he realizing that the movement of wheat which will soon be on in full force would preclude his absence from his work here in a short time, and thought he would take opportunity of the slack spell just now and visit with the family. While the elevator was closed during his absence, Mr. L. G. Todd had the keys and attended to the wants of all who desired anything at the elevator, or would purchase grain should anyone desire to sell.

Has Added a Sign

Ruben Stine now has a sign (not intended for poetry, but to tell the people that he is selling meat. He also has an advertisement in this issue of the paper telling the same story.

And it seems that one could not give a business which he wants the public to know of too much publicity, for it is everybody that he wants to do business with.

Closing Out Their Line

L. G. Todd & Co. are closing out their line of umbrellas, overalls and jackets at prices which cannot be met at this time. They have some bargains in shoes also, consisting of men's dress and work shoes and ladies' and children's shoes at a very low price.

Looks Like Double Wedding

And if so we will tell about it next week. Two young men, one from Union and the other from Weeping Water, in an auto departed on Wednesday of this week for Weleetke, Oklahoma, where for the past month two young ladies from Weeping Water have been visiting and one who has taught in the Union schools for the past two years, where Dame Rumor says there will be a double wedding. Well you will have to wait for the report of the very fine wedding until next week.

Died in Omaha Saturday

Mr. J. C. Miller, father of Mrs. Ralph Davis, of which mention has been made in these columns of being so sick at his home in Omaha, passed away after everything possible had been done for him in the way of medical aid and the best nursing for his case. The funeral was held on Monday morning at Hamburg, Iowa, where the family formerly lived. His daughter, Mrs. Ralph Davis and husband and Mrs. Mary A. Davis, were in attendance at the funeral at Hamburg Monday. Mrs. Ralph Davis was very attentive to the father during his illness, especially during the sick spell, going to Omaha often to nurse the patient and render what assistance she could.

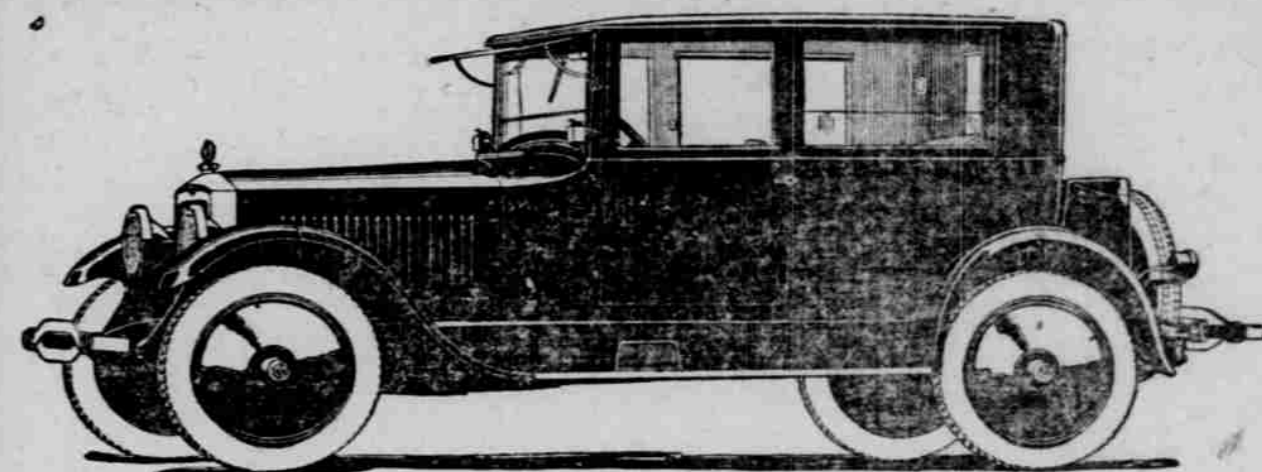

NATIONAL GUARDS GO TO ASHLAND THIS YEAR

Failure to have the National Guard encampment held here again this year will be somewhat disappointing to many who had looked forward to a return visit from the Nebraska units, but the officials were sure that the run-down range at Ashland offered better advantages than the government-maintained range here, and have spent a neat sum of money in the construction of new concrete butts there. Only a week ago, we read of the range being overflowed by the Platte river, which indicates they have not gotten entirely away from the low ground complained of here. Plattsmouth still has some interest in the encampment, as the silver trophy cup donated last year by the Legion post of this city must be won twice by any company before it becomes their property. It will be remembered the crack Union Pacific company of Omaha copped it last year and will probably be a strong contender for it this year.

Julius Pepperberg of Lincoln, accompanied by his daughters-in-law, Mrs. Roy Pepperberg of Lincoln and Mrs. Leon Pepperberg of Dallas, Texas, were here today looking over the old home town where the Pepperberg family had resided for many years.

S. S. Chase and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hilt Martin and Stuart Chase expect to leave tomorrow for Holyoke and other parts of Colorado to look after and Mr. Martin will try his hand in the harvest on the farm of Mr. Chase the wheat harvest.

SENATOR HOWELL BACK FROM ALASKA

Accompanied Party of Solons to Inspect Government Railroad—Trip Not a Junket.

United States Senator R. B. Howell has arrived back in Omaha, feeling fine and considerably tanned from his 5,000 mile trip to Alaska, where he in company with twenty-eight congressmen and six senators, inspected the Alaskan government railroad, recently completed.

President Harding plans to go there soon and officially open the road by pounding a golden spike. The trip was not a junket, all of the solons paying their own expenses.

The trip, which took about four weeks, was made by boat from Seattle, a distance of about 700 miles to Juneau, capital and largest city, situated in the extreme southeast part.

The party visited Seward, southern terminal of the road and Fairbanks, northern terminal.

On June 21—the longest day of the year—the party left Fairbanks at 1:30 a. m. in broad daylight. Ball games were played that night, starting at 11 p. m.

The future of the railroad, according to the consensus of opinion of the solons, was not very bright. Agriculture in Alaska cannot be developed greatly because of practically only three months of growing season. The timber can only be used for pulp purposes and many of the mines are exhausted. At the present time there are only eight lode mines in Alaska, Senator Howell said.

Fishing, Senator Howell said, was the main industry, and even this was threatened because of too intensive fishing by big companies.

There's plenty of coal, but it costs so much to mine it that it's impracticable to ship it to the United States.

The railroad, a portion of it bought outright and the remainder constructed, cost the government about $57,000,000.

Last year it carried only 5,000 tons of freight and operated at a loss of approximately $1,500,000.

Julius Pepperberg of Lincoln, accompanied by his daughters-in-law, Mrs. Roy Pepperberg of Lincoln and Mrs. Leon Pepperberg of Dallas, Texas, were here today looking over the old home town where the Pepperberg family had resided for many years.

S. S. Chase and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hilt Martin and Stuart Chase expect to leave tomorrow for Holyoke and other parts of Colorado to look after and Mr. Martin will try his hand in the harvest on the farm of Mr. Chase the wheat harvest.

MANUFACTURING PLANT SOLD SUBJECT TO CONFIRMATION OF COURT

To satisfy the creditors of the former Sheldon Manufacturing company, of Nehawka, the plant was sold last Friday to the highest bidder, the property going to C. B. Schriver and Co., of Omaha. The amount of this concern's bid for the holdings of the Sheldon company was $11,000.00.

The property was recently appraised at $26,000.00 and it is not certain that the court will confirm the sale at the above figure.

In any event, the future of the plant is still in doubt, as it is not certain that should the plant be disposed of to the Omaha concern they will be disposed to continue its operation in Nehawka or dismantle it and move the machinery away.

At the present time there are many unfilled orders it is said for the products of the Sheldon company and it would seem the new buyers would want to retain the advantage of the prestige that has been built up by the defunct Cass county company and keep the plant in operation, at least until their back order business is caught up.

The Sheldon company done a big business during the early years of its operation and its product became internationally known, with many of their famous barrel type concrete mixers being sent to the furthest corners of the earth. In the period of general depression following the war, however, "shelmacon" as they were listed in the international code book, got caught in the slump and was unable to continue. Finally, the stockholders, voted to go into voluntary bankruptcy and it was under these proceedings that the sale of the company's interests took place.

FORMER WHIPPING BOSS IS DENIED NEW TRIAL

Lake City, Fla., July 8.—Judge M. A. McMullen denied today the motion for a new trial for Thomas Walter Higginbotham, former whipping boss, who late Saturday was found guilty of second degree murder in connection with the death of Martin Robert of North Dakota. Judge McMullen sentenced Higginbotham to 20 years, the punishment fixed by the jury.

Higginbotham's wife accompanied him to court, where Judge McMullen asked the former whipping boss if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed on him. He replied in the negative and sentence then was passed. The case will be taken to the state supreme court, Judge McMullen said he had been advised. The $10,000 bond under which Higginbotham was released after the verdict will hold good until the higher court disposes of the case.

SPEEDERS ARE BEING GIVEN A ROUND UP

Police Checking up Auto and Truck Drivers Who Go at Too High Rate of Speed.

The members of the police force are busy the last few days in checking up the drivers of autos and trucks who are making too rapid a rate of speed on the highways and the crusade against excessive speeding is to continue, the members of the police department state, until it is materially checked and the state and city ordinances more carefully observed by the drivers.

The exceptionally easy riding stretches of paving on Chicago and Washington avenues have proven a great temptation to the speeder, as they are level stretches and here the police have found the greatest number of violations of the speed ordinance altho Third street from the shops to Main street has also proven a strong temptation to the drivers, according to the authorities.
