Union Man Gets Promotion
Herman L. Swanson, who has been the agent for the Missouri Pacific railway at Union for the past few years, has been offered the position at Falls City as one of the dispatchers and is working there at this time. This selection for the position is one which shows wisdom on the part of the railroad company for one would have to look for a long time to secure a man more reliable and one who would look after the business any better than Mr. Swanson. Mr. E. McCowen, who has been the man on the second track, has been given the office at Union while Mr. Simmons will take the place of Mr. McCowen and A. G. McAllister from the western portion of the state, will fill the position formerly filled by Mr. Simmons.

They all tell of a glorious good time in the west where the weather is cool and invigorating. They say the crops were good just where they were visiting, but other places the outlook was not so favorable.

Will Celebrate in Park
The Old Settlers' picnic will be held this year in the picnic park the same as formerly. It was thought that the town would be the best place, but at a meeting of the com-

HONORS MEMORY OF PRESIDENT HARDING

Rev. H. G. McClusky of First Presbyterian Church, Pays Tribute to the Fallen Leader.

From Monday's Daily
Yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church Rev. H. G. McClusky paid a very pleasing tribute to the memory of the late Warren G. Harding, president of the United States, who was stricken down in the midst of his tour of the country last week.

The pastor in his morning service told briefly of the services to the nation of the departed chief and his work for the welfare of the country at this most critical time of our country's history and which has carried us through two years of the most strenuous times in the history of the republic.

The following few words in commemoration of our beloved president were read, followed by a prayer, and the hymn, "For All the Saints Who from Their Labors Rest," sung by the congregation:

"Our nation has suffered a great loss in the death of President Harding: 'Tis true another man steps to the throttle perhaps as good, possibly better, but in this uncertainty exists, and in this uncertainty we hesitate until we can again feel confident. President Harding is the first to die in office from natural death. All political differences cease at a time like this. Sympathy is felt by all. The loss is personal. As one said, 'I feel like I had lost a close friend or relative.'

"To President Harding was given the hardest tasks ever given a president. Naturally the nation was in dire crisis following the world war. It brought President Wilson to the breaking point to conduct the war and the task of restoring order had been a heavy one for President Harding. Personally I have come to admire President Harding. I knew practically nothing of him before his election, but have watched him closely since then.

"I firmly believe the conference he called for disarmament is one of the world's greatest constructive acts in history. His world court is another of his large world outlook peaceful policies.

"Mr. Harding was a man among men. His religious life may not have been as lofty as that of McKinley, and yet he did not hesitate to make it chief and foremost in his administration. Though he had been a moderate drinker, he became under prohibition an absolute abstainer. Though he had been a more or less indifferent church man, he became very diligent in church attendance and placed God and Christian faith first. He loved men and humanity. He was gentle, yet resolute; he was open, yet deep. He was gracious and reverential.

"He belonged to the nation more than any other man and his death comes as a blow first to his wife and second to each and every loyal American citizen.

"We pray for God's blessing on Mrs. Harding, on our government, on our new president, Mr. Coolidge, and on our people, and may we be humble in our bereavement as we bow to the will of God."

The services were attended by a large congregation who had gathered to worship and to render their tribute to the departed president.

CANDIDATE WHO WAS IN JAIL IS LEADING

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 7.—Theodore G. Bilbo, former governor of Mississippi, who announced while in jail at Oxford this spring serving a sentence of ten days for contempt of federal court that he would be a candidate for governor in today's democratic primary, forged ahead of Senett Conner, the runner-up to H. L. Whitfield, when 125 precincts out of 1,483 in the state had been tabulated tonight at 11:15. At that hour the totals were: Whitfield, 8,665; Bilbo 5,109; Conner 5,102; Franklin 2,142; Bell, 1,019.

RETURN FROM CANADA

From Monday's Daily
Mr. and Mrs. John Ledgeway of this city have been enjoying a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker of Rosehill, Kansas, who stopped here on their return home from Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker have been visiting at the home of their son, C. H. Baker and wife at Glendon, Alberta, and they decided that they would stop here to visit the Ledgeway home.

Mrs. C. H. Baker, their daughter-in-law, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ledgeway.

This was their first visit to this portion of Nebraska and the visitors were delighted with the wonderful country that comprises this section, the beautiful hills and the very fertile farming country that lies to the south and west of the city, and which is vastly different from their home in Kansas.

In speaking of Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Baker state that there will be a very fine wheat crop this year on the two sections of land that their son is farming and like this country, the farmers are suffering from the low price of wheat that is prevailing.

Alberta and the twilight lingers until after 10 o'clock at night and which causes their growing seasons to be longer than in this country although they have winter much sooner.

AT EAGLES CONVENTION

From Monday's Daily
William Barclay and wife who are at Denver to enjoy a short outing and also to take in the national convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, write to friends of their very pleasant trip there, they going by auto to the mountain city. The travelers found the roads in very good shape on their way westward and en route across Nebraska and Colorado met with many attractive spots.

Mr. Barclay is the representative of the state aerie of the Eagles at the meeting of the grand aerie and will make a very able representative as he has had experience at a number of other gatherings of this nature in the past few years.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

There are periods in our individual and business lives when we have to call for HELP and CO-OPERATION and that period has come to me.

I have decided to incorporate my business under a State Charter. In order to do this, I must close all my outstanding bills and start anew. And it is now that I announce to my friends that I will certainly appreciate their immediate assistance in this matter and ask them to call at the store and arrange a full settlement of their old accounts in order that I may fulfill the requirements to obtain a State Charter.

This announcement does not mean that we will not grant credit under the new firm, but it is simply to arrange a settlement of the old and start a new.

Assuring you all that the same service and accommodations will be granted in the future that has been in the past, I am

Very Truly Yours,

H. M. SOENNICHSEN

and delivered a car to an acquaintance, Gilbert Glaessel of Fort Crook, shortly after the noon hour and the car was in the best of running order as later circumstances will show. As Mr. Bell was returning home on the 4:30 Burlington train he purchased a late edition of an Omaha paper and was rather surprised to see on the first page the name of his customer of the early afternoon who had been fined $10 for speeding. With a Ford it does not take long to learn all about the joys of auto driving and the customer of Mr. Bell was sure a speedy worker.
