A Very Handy Device
A. F. Sturm is always thinking how the work of the household can be saved by the women and has completed a device whereby he has lightened the labors on wash day by making a basket for the boiling of clothes which fits inside a common wash boiler and is constructed of wire which lifts out of the boiler and is dumped into the tub after the water has been allowed to drain off. It can be used for cooking fruit for canning purposes. He has a number of them at the lumberyard.

They entered into a conversation of the good qualities of the late president while the drink lasted and departed while the genial face of Wm. McKinley with his name on large letters below smiled upon them benignly.

DOINGS IN THE DISTRICT COURT
From Wednesday's Daily.
This morning an action was filed in the district court entitled Herbert C. Raney vs. Dora A. Raney in which the plaintiff would have the bonds of wedlock severed by the court and be restored to his previous condition of freedom. In his petition the plaintiff alleges that they were married in Broken Bow in 1912 and that since that time he has suffered greatly from the action of the defendant in nagging and persecution which has made it impossible for him to hold a position for any length of time. He asks that he be granted an absolute decree of divorce.

An appeal from the decision of the justice court of A. W. Neihart of Elmwood has been filed in the office of the district clerk in the case of William Dees Dernier vs. Belle Bowdish, and in which the plaintiff secured a judgment in the sum of $150 in the court at Elmwood. The defendant has not been satisfied with the lower court decision and seeks the judgment of the higher court.

GREEN LINE ON U. OF N. TEAM THIS YEAR A WORRY

Stone Wall of Last Season is Gone and Skipper Dawson Has Problem to Replace It.

Lincoln, Sept. 3.—Scanning Cornhusker football problems of 1923 from a topmost perch in the new memorial stadium, the case presents little that is difficult to diagnose. Said problems involve the line. That's it. The line! For thirty years or more Cornhusker forwards have been big, beefy and powerful. Back fields occasionally have been below standard, but it had been very infrequent, indeed, that Nebraska has not been represented by a whale of a line.

Worries of Head Coach Dawson and his lieutenants over this year's forward wall are easy of understanding. Five of last year's regular line-backers were stricken from the Husker roster by the graduation process. The two surviving vets are Berquist and Bassett, both guards. Another half-regular on the '22 squad—Thomsen, an end—is a promising prospect to fill one of the vacant positions, but Dawson, nevertheless, must rebuild his line, and thereon hinges Nebraska's hopes for a successful gridiron season in 1923.

Freshmen Look Good.
Aside from the Berquist-Bassett-Thomsen trio, the line tutors, "Indian" Schulte and Ex-Captain Day, will have a string of '22 substitutes at their command. This list includes Hendrickson, guard, Helberleben, guard; McAllister, end; Nixon, center and guard; Parker, guard and tackle; Reed, guard; Robertson, end; Sturm guard; McGlasson, tackle, and Volz, end. Then the freshmen of '22 should contribute several formidable contenders for line stations.

EARTHQUAKE DEAD REACH A HIGH NUMBER

ALMOST ALL OF TOKIO AND YOKOHAMA LAID WASTE BY FIRE AND QUAKES.

LOOTING AND FAMINE FOLLOW

President Coolidge Calls on America to Aid Sister Nation of Japan in its Awful Tragedy.

Osaka, Sept. 4.—Almost the whole of Tokio and Yokohama have been destroyed by earthquake, followed by fire, and the loss of life now is estimated at from 120,000 to 200,000, or more.

Two hundred thousand houses have been burned down in the two cities. Water mains have been broken and food supplies destroyed by the fire, so that the people are near starvation and suffering much from thirst.

It is reported, but not confirmed, that the section of Tokio where most of its foreign population resided, is not greatly damaged.

Refugees Crowd Parks

Disorder reigns thru Tokio and Yokohama. The streets, where not covered with the debris of fire and earthquake, are crowded with refugees. There is no shelter to be had, and if there were, many of them would continue to sleep in the streets, as fear of further earthquakes is widely expressed. Thousands of other refugees have gathered in Tokio's four great parks—Ueno, Hibiya, Shiba and Asakusa—and others in open places near the city.

To these people, such food as the government relief organization has been able to obtain is being distributed, as are also allowances of water. A terrible tragedy was enacted in and around the Ueno railway station in Tokio Saturday afternoon. Thousands of refugees, unable to find shelter inside the great station building, were massed in Ueno park, while inside, it is estimated 8,000 were gathered. An outbreak of fire from a break in a gas main nearby threw the entire mass into a panic which became worse when the fire attacked the station.

Bodies in Heaps
No estimate of the casualties which ensued has been made, but those viewing the place said these were "staggering in number." Bodies are piled helter-skelter around the station, men, women and children mingled indiscriminately as they fell and were trampled in the mad rush to escape from the fire. While no accurate estimate can yet be formed, it is believed the damage to property in Tokio alone will be more than 5,000,000,000 yen. It is thought the reconstruction work in the city will require at least two years, probably more.

The whole of Kawaguchi, a town near Tokio, is reported to have been destroyed, 6,000 houses having been leveled by the tremor and subsequent fire. Among the losses at Yokohama were 50,000 piculs of raw silk which burned. In Tokio 2,500,000 bushels of rice burned in the Fukagawa warehouses.

Martial Law in Effect

Martial law has been proclaimed and no one is allowed to enter the stricken districts at the capital, although thousands whose friends or relatives resided there have gathered about the city seeking entrance that they may at least find the bodies of their loved ones.

Military and naval forces have been gathered at the imperial villa at Nikko for use in controlling the situation and other forces are on duty in Tokio itself.

The air is filled with wildest rumors, including one that the new premier, Count Yamamoto, was assassinated within a few hours after formation of his cabinet. There is no confirmation of this.

"My dear," a wife said to her spouse, "I think that we should build a house; Of funds, I'm sure there is no lack— We've lived too long in this old shack. So let us plan what we shall do To doff the old and done the new."

No time, to figure, then they lost; They estimated close the cost— The kind of windows and the doors, The shingles, scantling and the floors. And then they counted up their "tin" And found that they could make her "skin."

When everything was settled pat, They both arose from where they sat— Her smiling "hub" she then embraced, And kiss on kiss were rightly placed. She whispered soft, he answered hard— "You bet your life, at TIDBALL'S yard."
