

Famous Manufacturer Lauds Tanlac Highly

Fred E. Jordan, proprietor of the Jordan Statuary Co., 1408 Williams street, Omaha, manufacturing the famous "Kewpie" dolls, is another among the thousands of people throughout the west, to highly praise Tanlac the treatment that has been so beneficial to him.

"I was suffering with severe aching pains," says Mr. Jordan, "and wondered how I would make the grade with my heavy work. Cutting pains hurt my back when I would bend over. I was so weak mornings that I couldn't speed myself up, and was all played-out at quitting time. Nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches and biliousness along with indigestion, upset my entire system.

"Tanlac soon made me feel so fine and strong I could work overtime and never feel it. I eat and sleep perfectly now, and don't know what nervousness it. I haven't an ache or pain and am as active as an acrobat. Tanlac is a grand medicine."

YOUTH ADMITS THEFT OF BECKER CAR IN OMAHA

Robert Brinker and His Pal Apprehended by Lincoln Police, but Latter Makes Escape.

From Saturday's Daily.

Robert Brinker, an Omaha youth, admitted to police Friday morning that he stole a Hudson touring car at Krug park in Omaha Thursday night. Young Brinker was arrested at 3:10 p. m. Friday at Seventeenth and C streets after he and his companion, Montrose, twenty-one, engaged in a brief struggle with Detectives Rymer and White.

Montrose succeeded in making his getaway.

The detectives drove past the Hudson car at Sixteenth and N streets and one of the occupants of the latter car asked them the best way to Kansas City. The sleuths became suspicious of the inquisitive pair and started to pursue them.

After driving a half block, they were crowded into the curb. Brinker reached for his revolver, but before he could draw it, Detective Rymer had whipped an automatic into the driver's face. Montrose, the other occupant of the stolen car, lost no time in making a getaway. Detective White started to chase him down an alley, but stumbled and fell. He sustained a wrenched arm and a cut leg. His injuries are not considered serious. Dr. W. H. Slattery was summoned to dress the wounds.

Montrose is five feet six inches in height and has a dark complexion.

The Hudson touring car, which Robert A. Brinker admitted stealing from Krug park in Omaha Thursday night, is owned by H. E. Becker, of Plattsmouth, according to a communication received here Friday by police. Mr. Brinker will be returned to Omaha some time Friday. He claims his home is in Dayton, Ohio, and that he and his companion were headed towards Kansas City when apprehended by Detectives Rymer and White.

After a short scuffle Detective Rymer forced a .44 calibre revolver from young Brinker's hands. Detective White is recovering from the injuries received when he fell in an alley while he was chasing Montrose, a companion of Brinker's. Police have obtained no trace of the missing man. They have a fair description of him, however.

Mr. Brinker signed a statement before Captain of Detectives Anderson Friday morning, telling of joining Montrose in taking the auto. It was stolen at 10 p. m. Thursday. Brinker said he was once in a workhouse at Bowling Green, Ky., for bumping on a train. He was arrested at Louisville for loitering. He said that he wanted to get to Kansas City in the auto in order to be treated for disease from which he claims to be suffering.—State-Journal.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. SARAH BOOTH

Resident of This City for Past Thirty Years Answers the Final Summons Last Evening

From Saturday's Daily.

Last evening at 5:40 at the Nebraska Masonic Home in this city occurred the death of Mrs. Sarah Jane Booth, aged seventy-seven years, and who has for the past thirty years been a resident of Plattsmouth.

Sarah Jane Booth was a native of Missouri, having been born there on June 18, 1846, and was married there to Erastus H. Booth, the family coming to Plattsmouth some thirty years ago, where Mr. Booth entered the employ of the Burlington in the shops here and continued there until his failing health and death some fifteen years ago. After the death of the husband, Mrs. Booth gradually began failing in health and on January 22, 1912, was admitted to the Nebraska Masonic home in this city, her husband having been a member of Plattsmouth lodge No. 6, A. F. & A. M. during his lifetime.

For the past three months Mrs. Booth has been compelled to remain confined to her bed and from that time has failed very rapidly until death came to her relief.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the St. Luke's Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a member of many years' standing, and the impressive funeral ritual was read by the Rev. W. S. Leete, rector of the church, the choir of the church singing a number of the old hymns. Dr. John H. Graham, of Lincoln, a nephew, was in attendance at the service, being one of the nephews of the deceased lady. The interment was in Oak Hill cemetery.

NOTED GEOLOGISTS VISIT LOUISVILLE

Yale and Nebraska University Professors Investigate Deposits and Stratas Near Here.

Dr. Condra and Professor Bengtson of the University of Nebraska were in Louisville Sunday on a tour of inspection and exploration of local quarries, pits and outcroppings. They brought with them as their guest, Dr. Dunbar of Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, who was greatly pleased and impressed with the important geological formations revealed along the Platte river here.

Dr. Dunbar said that all America had much to learn from Nebraska, and that some of the most important archaeological and geological specimens had been unearthed in this state. Dr. Dunbar was originally a member of the faculty of the University of Kansas, but in recent years has been connected with Yale University.

Dr. Condra and Professor Bengtson have been here often with classes from the university and conducting explorations. Louisville and vicinity is always of great interest to scientific men because of the variety of specimens found in and about the sandstone, quarries and ravines in the hills near the river.

The three geologists were guests for dinner at the Hotel Drake and enjoyed shaking hands with friends made here on their previous visits.—Louisville Courier.

The Plattsmouth team has proven themselves very popular in Afton and has played some of the best baseball of the season there against the Iowa players. The team carried as their hurlers, Walt Connors, Herbert Swanson and Joe McCarthy, which make a formidable array for the Afton batters to go up against.

PERU NORMAL ROW IS REVIVED; CHARGES FILED

Farmers Union Legislative Committee Files Charges and Information With Governor.

The attack upon Col. T. J. Majors, of Peru, member of the state normal board and president of that body, took a new form Wednesday when five members of the executive committee called upon Governor Bryan and filed charges and information with the governor. The original complaint was made by a delegation comprised principally of democratic members of the legislature from southeastern counties of the state in the district in which the Peru normal school is situated. That delegation filed written information but further information was awaited by the governor.

The information filed Wednesday completes the case of those who desire the governor to remove Colonel Majors from the board. It was filed by J. O. Shroyer of Humboldt, democrat and member of the original delegation; James Auten of Albion, democratic member of the legislature and a member of the original delegation; Charles McLeod of Stanton, formerly a member of the republican state committee; H. C. Elwood of Creighton, once connected with the non-partisan league and now said to be a democrat; J. P. Stolz of Milford, elected in 1907 as a republican member of the legislature. Mr. Elwood and Mr. McLeod were members of the recent constitutional convention.

This delegation let it be known that it represents 25,000 members of the farmers union. Governor Bryan received the committee behind closed doors. He said Mr. McLeod stated that the committee is made up of three democrats and two republicans but that they represent an organization that is non-partisan and he desired the governor to understand there is no politics in the matter of the complaint.

The committee filed information relative to affairs of the Peru normal school," said Governor Bryan. Some members of the normal board have been out of the state. It is my intention to confer with members of the board and go over the matter

BACK FROM DENMARK

From Friday's Daily.

Peter Olsen returned on Thursday of last week from a visit of three months in his old home at Lilledinge, Denmark, and other points where he has relatives. He has five sisters and three brothers over there. His brothers, Andrew, Ole and himself, are the only members of his immediate family in America.

He visited a cemetery where a nephew was buried, a brother of Frank and Hans Anderson, who used to live here, but now reside in South Dakota.

The nephew entered from South Dakota in the world war, and when he was killed, the body was sent to his old home to his parents.

The parents built a chapel in the country and the casket decorated with the American flag, rests where it can be seen from the outside, which is a comfort to the family.

Mr. Olsen had a delightful trip over, but had three stormy days on the return trip.—Weeping Water Republican.

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well-fed, but thin, spare men, who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, causing indigestion or constipation and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets to move his bowels and invigorate his stomach. When this is done, there is no reason why the average man should not live to a ripe old age. Weyrich & Hadraba.

The team will lose the services of several of last year's players including Frank Gradoville, Harold Renner, Glen Henry, John Wurga and Harold Mullis, who graduated last year, and Jesse Renner, who is to attend the Lincoln high school this year.

- Some Domesticity Exposed! -

"My dear," a wife said to her spouse,
"I think that we should build a house;
Of funds, I'm sure there is no lack—
We've lived too long in this old shack.
So let us plan what we shall do
To doff the old and done the new."

No time, to figure, then they lost;
They estimated close the cost—
The kind of windows and the doors,
The shingles, scantling and the floors.
And then they counted up their "tin"
And found that they could make her "skin."

When everything was settled pat,
They both arose from where they sat—
Her smiling "hub" she then embraced,
And kiss on kiss were rightly placed.
She whispered soft, he answered hard—
"You bet your life, at TIDBALL's yard."
