These boars will be a good cross on Sensation and Pathfinder hogs. The boars are above our usual high standard. Choice $30.—Wm. J. Wirth, Duabur, Neb.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in their health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE, which consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves by local application, and the Catarrh Medicine, a Tonic which assists in improving the General Health. Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Anyone in sympathy with the purpose might be constituted and paying the annual dues of 25 cents. These dues were, in after years, raised to one dollar and again later to two dollars; this amount to cover all expenses of the club. The financial needs have been many and varied. At one time $25 was given to the Red Cross, at another $12.50 and at still another $10. Five dollars was also given to the Louisville flood sufferers.

At the time of the dedication of the Alvo consolidated school building the club presented the school with an oak library table, a substantial gift, a set of silver is presented to the first club baby and a gift also presented to the members who move away. Flowers are sent to the sick and deceased members and friends. The club has been federated for several years and regularly sends delegates to the state and district conventions. At the present time there is the full quota of thirty members, four of whom are charter members, namely: Mrs. H. A. Appelman, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. S. C. Boyles and Mrs. E. M. Stone. Mrs. Boyles has the distinction of being the only one who has been a member continuously throughout the twenty years.

Mrs. Jones of Omaha sang a group of beautiful solos. She was accompanied by Mrs. Sumner Hall of Alvo. Mrs. John Foreman, the club president, with a few remarks delivered a cordial greeting from Mrs. Penny of Fullerton, state president, who who to have been present and given an address. Mrs. Penny, owing to illness, was compelled to cancel all her engagements prior to the state convention. Mrs. Foreman spoke of the absence of Mrs. Penny being the only disappointment to mar the pleasure of the afternoon and expressed the wish for a speedy recovery. She also conveyed the greeting sent to the club ladies by Mrs. James T. Lees of Lincoln, vice president of the state federation and editor of the Club Bulletin.

A group of readings were given by Miss Champ. Miss Champ is a talented and entertaining reader and her numbers were greatly appreciated by the ladies present. An octet from the Havelock woman's club with Mrs. Luce as the reader, rendered a group of numbers which were thoroughly enjoyed.

MANLEY NEWS ITEMS

August Stander and son, Johnnie were looking after some business in Plattsmouth last Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Letta Fleischman, who is teaching school near Greenwood, was a visitor at the home of her parents for over Sunday.

Messrs. Craig and Staats, of Plattsmouth were delivering a load of furniture at the John Fleischman home, where Mr. Baker is making his home.

Since the storm of last Friday a suit for the work train which is trying to get the Missouri Pacific road in running shape again, has been laying up at Manley.

The patrol house which the country has been constructing at Manley Pleasant precinct were in the city Saturday and while here called at this office for an advertisement for their coming boar and gilt sale, which will be held at the Otto Schafer farm, nine miles north of Nehawka, on Friday, October 19th. In this sale will be found the greatest offering that they have ever made, in such bears as "Walt's King of All," "A High Sensation," "High Colonel," and "Pathfinder's Rival," "Pathfinder's Rival," "Smooth Origin Sensation," all of whom have some of the finest pigs that they have ever offered in the sale ring. The Schafer brothers were winners of 32 ribbons at the Cass county show this fall, winning both grand and junior champion boar and junior champion sow, all of which will be offered in this sale.

The Schafer brothers have been in the game long enough that they need no introduction to the breeders of this locality. They have good stock and all breeders know it. You will find their announcement elsewhere in this issue.

Mrs. Fannie Easterly of Weeping Water and Mrs. A. F. Rauth and the children were spending the day at the home of J. C. Rauth last Tuesday, and a most pleasant time was enjoyed.

Rudolph Bergman and the family were looking after some business matters at Omaha last Thursday. While they were away, Joseph Wolpert was looking after the business at the store and postoffice.

Michael O'Leary, who has been making his home for the past few months in the western portion of the state, arrived home last week and stayed for a short time at the home of his mother, Mrs. K. K. O'Leary.

Mr. Dale VanHorn, of Lincoln, who is with The Machinist, a trade journal published at the capital city, was a visitor in Manley last Thursday, looking after some business matters and consulting with his friend, Herman Hall.

Manley, with the true spirit of helpfulness went to Louisville following the storm and assisted in all ways as much as possible to get the town righted up and also to look for the missing bodies, and assisted as much as they could.

The hail was accompanied at the home of J. K. L. Breckenridge with considerable wind, making its destruction more in extent than it would have been had it not been accompanied by the gale which accompanied the storm there.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Neilhart and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Harris were visiting in Omaha last Wednesday, where they also witnessed the historical parade, given in connection with Ak-Sar-Ben and which was one of the most important features of King Ak's fall festival this year.

Thomas Christian and family and Joseph Wolpert and his two sisters, Misses Maggie and Katie were visitors at the Ak-Sar-Ben and viewing the historical parade, which is considered as being the finest parade in the history of the life of the fall festivities of the city of Omaha.

During the historical parade, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cook of Plattsmouth and Mr. Mook of College View took shelter at the home of J. C. Rauth, the folks being away from home, but they went ahead and prepared the evening meal and had it ready when the folks got home, which was delayed by their return from the fair at Weeping Water.

Mr. Crane, of the Crane, Curye & Murty Lumber company, reports damage at the lumber yard of about $500 by reason of the hail breaking up his roof and causing a damaging amount of water to get into the sheds. Many people who chanced to be out in the storm with their cars had the tops punctured badly and some entirely ruined.

At the home of Walter O'Brien, west of Manley last Thursday evening, the folks had a most enjoyable time attended by a large number of people who were celebrating the wedding of Joseph O'Brien which occurred in Omaha the day before. The gathering was in the form of a shower and a most pleasant evening was spent by the many friends who gathered to extend congratulations to the newly married couple.

At the home of Rural, Sack, east of Manley, the storm took on all the characteristics of a young cyclone and destroyed his barn and injured other of the buildings and a passing car with probably his intended force, caught a string of autos coming from the fair at Weeping Water and caused an entire halt in progress for half an hour, until it had passed and also until the waters of the creek had subsided so that travel could be resumed. As the roadway near the iron bridge, it was deep enough to swim a cow.

Spent Night at Hennings Home. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hennings offered their home as a place of refuge and kept some thirteen of the pupils of the Murdoch schools when the storm from the fair returned to work. The crowd were all girls of the ages from ten to thirteen and they were compelled to walk from where the bus stalled to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hennings, which was a considerable distance and were all wet and muddy from the rain and the place of shelter. However, the little ones, with the spirit of youth, enjoyed the occasion as though it had been a lark.

VISITING WITH FATHER

Mrs. W. J. Crosser of Bloomfield, Nebraska, was a pleasant caller at the Journal office last Saturday, while visiting for a few hours with friends in the city. Mrs. Crosser came down to Omaha a few days ago for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Lippold, and from there came on to Plattsmouth for a visit with her father, William Nickels and family, south of the city. She states that Mr. Crosser has been experiencing all kinds of ill luck for the past year, suffering an attack of pneumonia, a seige of the flu and a broken arm from cranking a Ford. This is about all a good man can stand in one year, but at that he is on the mend, with every indication of permanent recovery. Mrs. Crosser will return home the middle of next week.

WILL HOLD SALE OCTOBER 19. Otto and Philip Schafer from Mt. Pleasant precinct were in the city Saturday and while here called at this office for an advertisement for their coming boar and gilt sale, which will be held at the Otto Schafer farm, nine miles north of Nehawka, on Friday, October 19th. In this sale will be found the greatest offering that they have ever made, in such bears as "Walt's King of All," "A High Sensation," "High Colonel," and "Pathfinder's Rival," "Pathfinder's Rival," "Smooth Origin Sensation," all of whom have some of the finest pigs that they have ever offered in the sale ring. KILLED A BIG WOLF. From Thursday's Daily.—For several weeks past the residents north of this city in the range of hills that skirts the Platte bottom have been suffering from the visitation of some strange animal that has been raiding the hen roosts regularly and in fact has almost depleted the poultry stocks at the farms of Albert Pendl, John Rutherford and Frank Bashus. The experiment was tried of letting the dogs at the farm run out at night, but Mr. Rutherford reports that the strange animal ran in and out of the house, where they sought shelter.

The mystery as to the animal was cleared up this morning at an early hour when Ed Bashus shot the raider of the chicken roosts and revealed the fact that it was an exceptionally large wolf. The Bashus family had kept their remaining chickens fastened up for several days and placed a wagon in the barn yard in which Ed concealed himself and this morning just as the day was breaking, his watch was rewarded by the appearance of the large black wolf that came snaking around the hen house intent on securing a meal. Ed, who is a crack marksman, took a shot at the animal and the bullet entered straight through the heart of the wolf. The animal in its dying condition leaped high in the air and struck for some little time, measured five feet in length and was one of the largest animals of its kind seen here in a great many years.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS. From Thursday's Daily.—Do not give to any man or woman posing as Salvation Army officers or workers. It is most likely that they are frauds and they will use the money for other purposes. The Salvation Army, when it constructed its advisory board plan, saw in a way to end the fraud.

From the good will of charity, including personal and solicitations, it is a plan to permit workers and officers to give all their time to the work of religion and welfare and not half their time to it and the other half to solicitation.

If a man or woman seeks a contribution from you for the Salvation Army and have not the proper credentials, have him or her arrested. Or it might be better to wire this office when such a person makes his appearance in your community, giving his name and the office he says he represents and we will see to him. The only time the Salvation Army seeks money in a county or community is at the time of its annual budget drive when the seeking of such subscriptions is with the approval of the members of its advisory board.

There is no manner thief than the one who steals in the name of love, charity and God.

FACTS AND FIGURES. From Friday's Daily.—Australia had on June 1, 1921, only about 4.4 telephones for every 100 people, while New York City had on January 1st of that year, 15.6 telephones for every 100 of population, and now has over 18 telephones per 100 persons. There are four times as many telephones in the City of New York as in the entire Commonwealth of Australia, where the telephone system is a government monopoly.

SPECIAL SESSION IN OKLAHOMA IS FORMALLY CALLED

"To Investigate Offenses by State Officers Subject to Impeachment."—Will Not Wait.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 5.—A call for a special session of both houses of the Oklahoma legislature on October 17 to investigate "the commission of impeachable offenses by the officers of the state subject to impeachment" was issued here tonight by W. D. McBeck, state representatives from Stephens county.

The call was made under the alleged authority of a constitutional amendment approved at the polls Tuesday by citizens of the state. The summons points out that it was issued upon "written request signed by a majority of the members of the house of representatives asking that the legislature be convened pursuant to the mandate of the people."

In issuing the call, members of the house who have opposed Governor J. C. Walton, determined not to await the outcome of an injunction action instituted by the executive to prevent the state election board from certifying the returns of Tuesday's election to the secretary of state.

They proceeded on the theory that a majority of the votes cast having been in favor of the amendment, it became law without the formality of certification, which they declared was mere routine without significance in law.

They cited as precedent for their stand the action of N. C. Haskell, first governor of the state, who moved the capital to Oklahoma City from Guthrie in 1907, before the returns had been certified from an election on an initiated measure providing for the removal. Mr. Haskell on the afternoon of the election, when it became apparent that the voters favored the change, put the great seal of the state in his suitcase and brought it to Oklahoma City notifying all state officials to be on duty the next morning in the new capital. The former governor's action was sustained in the court, according to Ross Lillard, state senator.
