NEBRASKA INDUSTRIAL REVIEW FOR PAST WEEK

Cities Plan Many Improvements and a General Program of Better Conditions Outlined.

From Friday's Daily— The prosperity of our country depends upon the orderly routine of agriculture, manufacturing, commerce and public service, says the Nebraska Weekly Industrial Bulletin in enumerating some of the improvements taking place over the state, and continues, "Every city, town and community can do its part by co-operating with new industries, keeping taxes within reasonable limits and preventing disturbance of sound working conditions."

Among the improvements enumerated are the following:

- List of improvements in various cities: Loup City, Theoford, Grand Island, Yancey, Council Bluffs, Beatrice, Scottsbluff, etc.

but upon the early record. The extract is as follows:

"A comparison made each month between the returns from the cows and the chickens in the two projects is interesting. It has been convenient to mail the two reports together and the co-operators get the full weight of the comparison. In March, the average hen laid 31 cents worth of eggs and the average cow produced $3.96 worth of but at above the cost of feed. Thirteen hens made 17 cents more profit than one cow in March. The returns per dollar's worth of feed fed to the hens was $4.67 and to the cow, $1.45.

In April, each hen put 39 cents into the family pocketbook while each cow contributed $3.96 above the cost of feed. The average cow made only 6 cents more clear profit than ten hens. Returns per dollar's worth of feed were $5.78 for the hens and $1.45 for the cows.

In May, the hens made 27 cents apiece and the cows $3.87 or 1 cent less than fourteen hens per cow. Returns per dollar's worth of feed in that month were $4.74 for the hens and $3.54 for the cows. The cows used cheap pastures. In June, the hens dropped to 14 cents apiece, while the cows jumped to $3.87. One month one cow made 9 cents more than sixty-two hens. The return on feed cost was $2.29 for the hens and $4.45 for the cows, per dollar's worth of feed. The hens have the advantage of a year more project work and considerable improvement for the results of last year's accounts.

FORD TO SELL A MILLION IN SIX MONTHS

Distributors of Universal Car Have a High Mark Set for Them to Shoot At.

"It is our intention to sell 1,000,000 Ford cars (exclusive of trucks and tractors) between October 1, 1923, and April 1, 1924" is the substance of a letter sent to the thousands of Ford dealers throughout the United States.

The Plattsmouth Motor company, local distributors, have received word from the factory and are notified, too, that their quota for the six months period is 175 cars.

"It is a high target to shoot at," admitted George Petring today, "but we have overshot our mark already this year and we will be able to meet the requirements just put up to us."

The reduction in prices, announced in the ad being run in the Journal at present, does not include any change in the prices of Lincoln cars, and no price reduction is contemplated, it is said.

"In Cass county since January 1," Mr. Petring said, "450 new cars were sold. Of these 343 were Fords; Dodge, 15; Star, 15; Chevrolet, 15; Overland, 13; Willys-Knight, 9 and Essex, 7. The remainder are listed as 'scrappers' by the state."

The same ratio, it is believed, will hold good in other parts of the United States.

"For some time the Ford Motor company has manufactured 7,000 cars a day. The Omaha plant alone is turning out 200 a day. In spite of this production increased immensely between now and April 1."

TRAVELS BY AIR

From Friday's Daily— The St. Louis Star of Monday evening contains an account of the arrival to attend the St. Louis air races of a party of enthusiasts from Chicago, who made the trip from that city in a Breguet plane motored with a 300 h. p. Renault engine. In the party making the trip from Chicago, were Mrs. J. G. Metzger, licensed pilot and secretary of the Illinois Aero club, Charles Dickenson, 65 years old and the president of the Illinois Aero club, George (Buck) Weaver and Henry Tiekotter, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tiekotter of this city. The article contained an illustration of the party and their plane as they appeared on the landing field.

Mr. Tiekotter just recently flew from Chicago to Omaha and paid a visit to his parents here and is becoming one of the well known bird men of the nation and is an enthusiast over the development of the air travel.

GRAND JURY WILL BE ASKED BY PETITION

PETITIONS BEING CIRCULATED THAT SEEM TO ASSURE OF BODY SOON

TO INVESTIGATE AL CHARGES

Grand Jury Would Receive Evidence and Pass on Indictment of Persons Suspected of Crime

From Saturday's Daily— The last few days petitions have been circulated over this portion of Cass county asking Judge James T. Begley, presiding judge of the second judicial district to call a grand jury for Cass county to meet this coming term and pass upon the evidence that may be submitted to it by residents of the county.

For several months there has been a very general demand for a grand jury investigation of a large number of cases covering events of the past year and while the question has largely been with the court as to whether or not the evidence at hand would be sufficient to warrant calling a jury and securing convictions at a trial in the district court, the parties who have been interested in the matter have been urging the jury as a means of clearing up cases where they felt that justice had not been meted out.

With the petition of the taxpayers reaching the large number that have been reported as signing, there is little doubt that the grand jury will be called and the matters desired sifted out by the body.

A great many of the residents of the community have the impression that the grand jury fixes the innocence or guilt of the accused parties as well as hearing the evidence, but such is not the case. The grand jury merely sits as a body, receiving what evidence is presented to them and has the right to summon any person to testify before them, whom they may believe can give any definite testimony on the cases considered or as a crime charged to have been committed. It is the opinion of the grand jury there is sufficient evidence to show probable cause that a crime has been committed, the grand jury may, if they see fit, vote an indictment charging the parties named with the crimes and holding them to the district court for trial.

The trial in the district court is that which determines the innocence or guilt of the parties charged with crimes and not the grand jury and this is where a great deal of confusion exists in the minds of the average person.

The county attorney appears as the prosecutor in the presenting of evidence to the jury as he does in the trial of the cases before the court in which a violation of law is charged.

The only difference that exists between the ordinary process of law is that the grand jury votes the indictment instead of the county attorney and have a greater power in securing the testimony of persons who may be called by them to testify.

The general dissatisfaction expressed over the settlement of many cases, and particularly those in which parties have suffered financial losses seems at the basis of the desire of calling the grand jury although that body would have power to take up any law violations that might arise.

The events were in the nature of noonday luncheons held at 1:30 and which were the most charming of their kind held in the community this fall. The decorations of the rooms were in a color scheme of yellow, the fall touch being used in the decorative plan and yellow candles adding a pleasing touch to the dining table where the ladies were seated at luncheon.

On Tuesday afternoon the ladies were entertained by a very delightful musical program contributed by a number of the talented Plattsmouth ladies including two vocal numbers by Mrs. E. H. Wescott and piano numbers by Christine Soenichsen Coughlin, Mrs. Elbert Wiles and Mrs. Roy O. Cole. There were some twenty-two at the luncheon Tuesday.

On Wednesday the ladies entertained for some fifteen of the friends and the musical program was given by Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Elbert Wiles which was very much enjoyed by all of the members of the party.

THE FAMILIES WE WILL MISS

From Saturday's Daily— When such families as Mr. and Mrs. John Schulhof, who have spent practically all their lives in this community, reared to young man and young womanhood such an excellent family as they have, it is certainly with the deepest regret that we chronicle their departure for the Pacific coast, where they will make their future home.

The entire family will now become residents of the city of Los Angeles, with the exception of John, Jr., and wife, who are now residents of Council Bluffs, where they will remain for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Schulhof and the entire family have a host of friends in the old Plattsmouth town, who will always be their well wishers for the future, and who would be only too glad to welcome them back to the town where the best part of their lives has been enjoyed. John Schulhof was a friend of ours, a friend of yours and a friend to the city and community, and a man that no city can lose without the loss being keenly felt. Success to them in their new home is our wish.

COOLIDGE NICE MAN JOHNSON DECLARES

President Passes Muster in Minnesota Senator's Eyes—Visit Causes Stir at Capital.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Magnus Johnson, new farmer and labor senator from Minnesota, conferred for twenty minutes today with President Coolidge, and his visit to the White House offices caused a stir that seldom has been equalled by the calls of an ambassador or even princes or potentates. Long before the new senator arrived, a small army of photographers encamped about the White House, and a host of newspaper men gathered in the corridors of the executive offices. Accompanied by former Representative Baer of North Dakota, George D. Brewer, his political adviser, and Miss Josephine Loftus, his secretary, Mr. Johnson arrived a few minutes before the time of his appointment and was ushered into the office of Secretary Slomp.

While waiting to see the president, Mr. Johnson talked with Mr. Slomp, who remarked that the new senator was much different in appearance from photographs which had always portrayed him with a pitchfork or some other farm implement. He was introduced by Mr. Slomp to Secretaries Work and Wallace and Senator Harrel, republican, Oklahoma.

Emerging from his conference with Mr. Coolidge, which incidentally consumed more time than the president allotted to any of the more than a dozen callers today, Senator Johnson was besieged by newspaper men with inquiries as to his impression of the president.

"The president made a very nice impression on me," he said, and then in true senatorial style warded off other questions with replies that he was not privileged to discuss a presidential conference. He admitted, however, that most of the time had been devoted to discussion of the farm situation in the northwestern states, and said he had presented a plan for alleviating the distress among the wheat growers of that section.

"Sunday, November 18, is styled 'For God and Country Day,' and ministers in all pulpits are invited by the bureau to preach at least one sermon on education.

Monday is 'American Constitution Day,' set aside for stressing obedience to the law, man's struggles for liberty, the duties of citizenship and education and the ballot. 'The Man Without a Country' is a good topic suggested for plays and essays.

Tuesday, 'Patriotism Day' is allotted to discussing the duty of voting, honor to flag of the country, the duty to the foreign born and American ideals.

Wednesday, 'School and Teacher Day,' is devoted to questions about local schools and teachers, the relation of education to civilization, and better training for rural teachers.

Thursday, 'Literacy Day,' is for devising ways and means for the eradication of illiteracy. Data showing the extent of illiteracy and its dangers to the nation and loss economically, are suggested as subjects of exhibits and essays.

Friday, 'Community Day' is given over to consideration of equal opportunity in education for every boy and girl, the needs of the community as to public libraries and community center.

Saturday, 'Physical Education Day,' is a day for the study of the value of exercise, correct posture and health habits. A 'Health Parade' of children is suggested by the bureau.
