

PRESENT CABINET FOR USE IN HOLDING HISTORICAL RELICS

Local Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Make Gift to the Library.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The Plattsmouth public library has just received a gift from the Fontenelle chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, a fine cabinet that is to be devoted to the purpose of storing and preserving any articles of historical value that may be donated to the library which in the years to come will be of the greatest value to the community and care for the relics and documents that they may be handed down to future generations.

The cabinet was constructed of oak by A. B. Smith the carpenter, and is an excellent piece of work. The upper portion of the cabinet is equipped with shelves and glass doors that are also provided with locks that will assure the safety of the articles stored there and the lower part of the cabinet is equipped with plain wooden doors where documents and papers may be kept for the future.

At the present time the library will use the cabinet to store a large collection of world war trophies that they have on hand. One gift recently received that is especially treasured, being a book printed in 1742 in England which is a real curiosity to the present day American.

COOPERATIVE BUYING PLAN ENLARGED UPON

United National Clothiers Find Chain Store Plan of Purchasing is of the Greatest Benefit

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(Special to the Daily News Record)—The volume of business placed at the 19th semi-annual buying convention of the United National Clothiers at the Grand Northern Hotel last week was more than double that of a year ago, according to W. L. Mohr, treasurer and general manager, who attributes this to the improved conditions and the increased interest of the members. The attendance was not appreciably larger than at the gathering last October. Merchants from the rural communities were more confident of the outlook and those from the industrial centers reported a continuance of a good volume of employment. He estimates that about 75 per cent of the business placed last week was for spring goods and 25 per cent for immediate delivery. Sales of men's furnishings comprised about 30 per cent of the sales, and clothing 70 per cent.

Mr. Mohr estimates that fully $750,000 business was booked last week. His claim is that the total business secured in Chicago and at the Kansas City gathering during the week of Oct. 22 and at Minneapolis the week of Oct. 29, together with the orders resulting from the merchandise bulletin to be issued after the conventions will total $2,000,000. It is said that there were 50 to 60 members present at the Chicago event, and that from 170 to 200 will be the total attendance of merchants at the three conventions.

According to Mr. Mohr, the merchants present said that with seasonable weather, they anticipate better fall business than a year ago and fully as good a holiday season. He believes that the condition of the average retailer of men's apparel has shown an improvement of 10 to 15 per cent over last year. Whereas 40 to 50 per cent of the merchants were not in healthy financial condition last year, he figures that this percentage has fallen to 25 to 35 per cent.

As an example of what the U. N. C. Cooperative Chain Store System launched at this convention may accomplish, Mr. Mohr declares that by contracting to take a certain quantity annually, the members will secure garters and suspenders from a Chicago firm which have more rubber and are otherwise better in quality than some nationally advertised brands, at a lower price. The plan will be to have every member of the chain send in his order every three months so that the seller will receive the equivalent of one big order four times a year. This merchandise will bear the U. N. C. label, and will be advertised through such mediums as a distinctive sign to be shown by each store carrying the emblem of the organization and the chain store number. Mr. Mohr adds that this same arrangement has been made with a manufacturer of staple clothing, which can be held by all member stores, work and dress trousers, overalls and other items.

The above from the Daily News Record of New York City, one of the leading trade journals of the United States devoted to the clothing business, is of particular interest here as the firm of C. E. Wescott's Sons of this city are members of the chain of stores of the U. N. C. and their store is No. 33, being one of the pioneers in the line of collective purchasing on the market that means lower prices and greater values to the customer. Mr. C. E. Wescott, of the local firm, was present at both the Chicago and Kansas City gatherings of U. N. C. members.

From Wednesday's Daily—
One of the pleasant Halloween parties of the season was given by Mrs. Henry Kaufmann, Jr., in honor of her daughter, Miss Florence, and the members of the party spent several hours in the games and frolics that mark this season of the year. The party was staged in an empty house on South Tenth street and which had for the occasion been transformed into a place of ghostly settings and where shocks of corn, witches' dens and spooky surroundings made the place one filled with thrills and fun for the members of the party. The young people had a series of the Halloween games arranged for them and at which they derived much pleasure and also had some very strange dishes served to them. Candies composed of many strange articles were served that added to the fun of the evening and as favors horns were distributed to the party and the youthful crowd proceeded to tune up and give a concert that had lots of volume if not musical qualities. Apples, cakes and cider were served at an appropriate hour to the members of the party.

YOUNG MEN'S CLASS ENJOYS FINE TIME

N. J. Weston, Physical Director of the Omaha Y. M. C. A. Gives Most Splendid Talk.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last evening the members of the Young Men's Bible class of the Methodist church enjoyed a very fine time at the class rooms and one which was pleasant both from the social standpoint as well as one beneficial in the way of good wholesome instruction in the address of N. J. Weston, physical director of the Omaha Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Weston has occupied this office for the past seven years and is one of the most efficient men in that position that the organization has had and comes in intimate contact with probably as many young men as anyone in Omaha, every day in the year. Mr. Weston is a native of Australia and came to America to complete his educational work and was for several years engaged in work at Hall House, Chicago, during the regime of Jane Adams, the noted settlement worker, and seven years ago came to Omaha where he has since been located in the physical director work of the "Y."

His subject last evening was that of "The Four Square Life," taking up the four points of the Y. M. C. A. training, physical, mental, social and spiritual, and in which he touched on the influences in the lives of the young men of each of these points, which all perfectly organized and developed contribute to making the ideal manhood of the nation and which are necessary to be equally developed to assure the proper basis to the character of the man or boy.

At the close of the address the members of the party were treated to very much appreciated sandwiches and coffee served by the refreshment committee and which served to close a truly pleasant gathering for the young men.

On next Tuesday evening the class

VALUE GIVING CLOTHIER

NO. 33

Chain Store

We have been asked HOW we can sell men's suits and overcoats at

$25 $30 $35

and stand back of them with our guarantee of satisfaction. There is only one way we can do this and that is in buying them right. Then you ask how can we buy any cheaper than other clothiers, and the purpose of this ad is to tell you how. Simply this—we are part of a great buying organization as indicated at the top of this ad—the United National Clothiers Chain Store System, at present composed of 278 of the most wide awake clothiers in the middle west and growing every day. This gives us a combined buying power of over $1,000,000 each season, which means we are able to go direct to the manufacturer with volume orders, command a price minus all selling expenses and middle man's profits and deliver the goods to you at substantial savings. The high cost of merchandise today is largely in the high cost of distribution, expensive salesmen, traveling expense, overhead and double handling. By this U. N. C. system we eliminate all this and deliver the goods direct from the factory to you with just one handling. Furthermore we are standardizing our merchandise—specializing in fewer kinds and styles, thus simplifying the whole transaction and SAVING YOU REAL MONEY. That is why we can sell suits and overcoats for $25, $30 and $35 fully guaranteed and other things in proportion. Look for the U. N. C. label—it's your protection against high prices.
