MURDOCK -- -- -- NEBRASKA

Miss Elsie Hornbremer was a visitor with friends in Omaha for two days during last week.

William Morley was in town last Wednesday making some purchases of painting supplies of Max Dusterhoff.

Emil Kuehn was looking after some business matters at Lincoln last Thursday, making the trip via his auto.

Dr. A. R. Hornbeck was kept to his home and bed a number of days last week on account of an attack of tonsillitis.

Miss Elsie Deickman spent her vacation during the teachers' convention on the farm assisting with the work there.

Milo Buskirk has been busy selling corn during the past week when the weather has been so he could get at the work.

Gust Gakemeier, who has been in the south for several weeks returned home last week and says that Murdock looks pretty good to him, for every face he meets has a smile of recognition.

Farm loans made at the rate of 5%. Option to pay at any time. If you desire a farm loan see O. J. Pothast at Farmers & Merchants Bank, Murdock, Nebraska.

Clayton Craig and the family, of Wynmore, were visiting in Murdock for the week-end last Sunday and were guests at the home of Eddie Craig and family where here.

O. E. McDonald and Gust Gakemeier were visitors at Murray last Thursday afternoon, where they went to secure some sweet cider for the business place of Mr. McDonald.

Warren Richard, who was looking after some business matters in Lincoln last Thursday, was a visitor in Murdock for a short time in the evening looking after some business matters here.

Fred H. Gorder and wife of Weeping Water were visiting in Murdock last Thursday and were guests at the home of Emil Kuehn, and on their return were accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Tool for a short visit.

Miss Tuck, a friend of Miss Margaret Tool, who is attending the state university, was a guest of Miss Margaret at the home of her parents for over the week-end and both ladies enjoyed the visit very much.

The Royal Neighbors of America, of Murdock, were working on some supplies for the Louisville sufferers, which consisted of comforts, pillow cases and sheets, which they will contribute to the flood victims there.

Frank Valley was a visitor in Murdock a couple of times during the past week, coming for John Gakemeier, who was a witness in a suit which Mr. Valley has at Central City with T. H. Cromwell, and then bringing John home on Thursday morning.

Mrs. E. G. Osborne of Lincoln and two little granddaughters, Misses Betty and Gene Strangenberg, of Lincoln, spent a portion of the day in Murdock while waiting for the representative of the Journal to go to Plattsmouth, where they visited at his home for the remainder of the week.

Max Thimgan, the contractor, assisted by Henry Heineman, have been constructing a new fine chicken house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kupke, and which they will use for raising some of the finest of poultry, which is now as good a paying element as the farm has.

At the Halloween party which the members of the Royal Neighbors gave last Wednesday at the hall, both Richard Tool and Eddie Craig were successful in winning a prize for drawing a cat, and each received a chocolate bar. Now, do not get the idea that these excellent young men are "Kandy Kids."

H. P. Dehning and August Wendt from near Murdock, were selected as members of the special grand jury, which was called a short time since for the purpose of sifting out some tangled matters which the recent years have brought. The jury will convene at Plattsmouth on Tuesday, November 13th.

Miss Jessie Melvin was taken to a hospital at Lincoln last Thursday and was accompanied by her mother and brother Frank. Miss Jessie has been in very poor health for some time past and goes to the hospital hoping that she may find relief from her poor health in an operation, which was to have been performed on last Saturday, but which had not occurred at the time the representative of this paper was there.

H. P. Dehning, who has been in the western portion of the state, returned home last week and brought with him some samples of corn raised in the region near Big Springs, and which was grown by Mr. Henry H. Dehning and also on the farm of J. J. Gustin, which is farmed by Otto Brockmuller and which conservative estimates place at 60 bushels to the acre. The ears were large and well filled and look like this is surely a land for corn for the samples.

Wm. Rikil and wife, accompanied by Mrs. George Merkle, were at Lincoln last Wednesday, and were accompanied by the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rikil, Alfred, who a short time since injured one of his feet, which became affected and which they were having a specialist examine. The foot is at this time showing some improvement.

Mrs. P. A. Hartung, of Kansas City, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Neitzel, returned home with Mrs. Neitzel, who has been spending a week in Kansas City and visited in Murdock for a short time and with the beginning of this week went to Omaha, where she is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. B. McDermid, who is also a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neitzel.

Word was received last Thursday in Murdock of the death of the Rev. C. Belter, formerly pastor of the church at this place, who passed away at a hospital in Omaha on last Thursday morning. Funeral services were held in Omaha and following which Mrs. Belter accompanied the remains to California where a daughter lives and where the burial will be made. Mrs. Belter will make her home in the west in the future.

My Home for Sale
And for sale cheap. An excellent place, with a paint shop and three lots. Come and see me about it, some of you farmers wanting a place to live in town.
Come, see me and I will make you a bargain.
MAX DUSTERHOFF.

Will Hold Kensington
The members of the Royal Neighbors of America Kensington club will meet on November 15th at the home of Mrs. Harry V. McDonald, and will look after the business which shall come before them and also be prepared to take up what work of theirs itself at that time. Mrs. H. W. Tool will be assistant hostess on the occasion.

Had Hallowe'en Supper
The members of the Royal Neighbors of America, of Murdock, on last Wednesday evening, which was Hallowe'en, met at the hall and there gave a most pleasant evening with a supper for the husbands and other relatives, and at the same time provided an excellent program.

WOULD BAR SOME ALIENS FROM ENTERING THE U. S.

Former Commander Owsley of American Legion Voices Need of Restrictive Immigration.

"No man or woman should be allowed to come into this America of ours who is not spiritually, physically, and morally fitted for American citizenship," Alvin M. Owsley, former national commander of the American Legion, said Thursday evening in an address at the convention of the Nebraska State Teachers' association at St. Paul M. E. church at Lincoln.

The immigration question involves not only "who shall be your neighbor?" but also means "what girl shall marry your boy, and what man might your daughter marry?" Mr. Owsley told the teachers. He declared that a number of foreign countries are sending the worst classes of their peoples to the United States as immigrants and keeping the better classes at home.

"They come," the speaker said, "not in the spirit of pioneers as did our forefathers who founded and established this country of ours, but in the spirit of profiteers."

"There is an organization creeping over the United States for the purpose of destroying our institutions," the former commander asserted. "It works not among the older persons, but among the boys of nine and ten years. It circulates petitions among them, asking them to sign a pledge that they will not take up arms to fight for the United States for any cause. They call themselves advocates of peace, but I call them workers of iniquity."

Mr. Owsley said that in the larger cities of America there now are more foreign born men and women than there are American born. He added that this had resulted in the establishment of more than 500 foreign language newspapers since the signing of the armistice, and that about a hundred and fifty of these newspapers are advocating the destruction of the republican form of government in the United States and the establishment of a soviet form of government, communism or bolshevism.

"In the education of the masses rests the safety of American institutions. The common people must be taught to know and realize the value of the liberties and rights which they enjoy," he said. "And in the fine partnership between women and men of the United States lies the nation's salvation. The recently enacted amendment which gives women equal suffrage also gives them an equal share in the problems of our government, and I am happy to find it so."

The foreign language law, he said, has been held unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States. But this does not prevent every state in the Union from passing laws which shall make the English language the language for instruction in every public, private or parochial school, he added.

FATTY ARBUCKLE IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Providence, R. I., Nov. 1.—Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, once acclaimed the premier farceur and buffoon of the movie world, and recently a monologist on vaudeville circuits, has been sued for divorce by Mrs. Minta E. (Duffee) Arbuckle, on ground of desertion and neglect to provide.

Mrs. Arbuckle alleges the former film comedian deserted her in September, 1917. The couple was married at Long Beach, Cal., August 5, 1908, in the days when Fatty was a struggling extra on the old Mack Bennett lots. The petition gives the age of Mrs. Arbuckle as 33, while Fatty is listed as 37.

After leaving her in California in 1917, at the peak of his career, Mrs. Arbuckle states that she has had nothing in common with her husband.

NEBRASKA WOMAN BECOMES AN ALIEN, THEN U. S. CITIZEN

Born in State, Married Alien Scotchman Who Finally Beat Her to Citizenship.

Central City, Neb., Oct. 31.—In the October term of district court in session here a number of applications of persons desiring their final naturalization papers were granted. Among them was Nellie M. Welsh, of this city, who until recently had thought herself an American citizen and had accordingly voted and acted as a member of the school board, never dreaming she was an alien.

Mrs. Welsh, who was born and reared in York, Nebraska, and has never lived out of the state, was rendered an alien upon her marriage to William Welsh, who was born in Scotland. A few years ago, Mr. Welsh learned that his father, whom he had always thought a citizen of the United States, had never taken out his final papers. Mr. Welsh supposed he had automatically become a citizen, as a minor, through his father's supposed naturalization.

However, when this did not prove the case, he immediately took steps to insure his citizenship, and was granted his papers a few years ago. In the meantime the new law providing independent citizenship rights for women came into effect and thus the naturalization of Mr. Welsh did not effect his wife and she still remained a citizen of Scotland. Her final papers were granted her this week and she took the oath, formalizing her status as a citizen of the United States and is now a full fledged American citizen.

TO HEAR WALTON DEMURRER TODAY UPON 14 CHARGES

Senate Impeachment Court Rules That Seats of Members May Not be Challenged.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 1.—Hearing on a demurrer of Governor J. C. Walton to fourteen of the twenty-two articles of impeachment preferred against him by the Oklahoma house of representative was set by the senate court of impeachment late today for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the court adjourned until that time.

Charges demurred to were: The appointment of Representative Charles Baskin as district judge; the placing of the governor's chauffeur on the health department payroll; use of official power to acquire private property and credit; suspension of the writ of habeas corpus; attempted prevention of an election; refusing to permit capital punishment; unlawful issuance of health department deficiency certificates; abridgement of the freedom of the press; appointment of special state officers without authority of law; misrepresentation of campaign expenditures; abuse of pardon and parole power; collection of funds for his personal use; unlawful issuance of a deficiency certificate for a negro orphan's home and general incompetence.

Governor Walton must stand trial before the entire membership of the state senate, it was decided in the first tilt of the executive's trial today.

Counsel for the governor at a morning session announced that they would challenge the right of certain senators to sit in the court of impeachment on the grounds that they were under the influence of the Ku Klux Klan, but when the issue was raised at the opening of the afternoon session the court ruled that the seats of none of its members could be challenged.

Governor Walton's motion to quash all impeachment charges was stricken out by a vote of the senate court. Only one member of the court—senator Barker of El Reno—voted to sustain the governor.

WEEPING WATER OLD RESIDENT PASSES ON

C. T. Noel, Night Watchman at Weeping Water For Ten Years Passes to Final Reward.

Caleb Thomas Noel was born in Woodson county, Kan., March 27, 1862, and died at his home in Weeping Water, Oct. 26th, 1923.

His boyhood and early manhood was spent in Kansas.

June 23, 1882, he was married to Mary Etta Bates. To this union were born 12 children, 8 of whom are living.

In 1886 Mr. Noel, with his family, came to Cass county, and has lived in and around Weeping Water since coming to the state. For several years he lived on a farm and also worked at his trade as a shoe repairer. For ten years he was night watchman of Weeping Water. He lived at Louisville for a while and during his stay there embraced the Christian faith and united with the Methodist Episcopal church.

During the last three or four years he was almost a constant sufferer, but always patient and uncomplaining.

As the end drew near he said he was ready to go, and the night before his death quoted several passages of scripture, among which were "Where the tree falleth, there it shall be," "And broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat," "Got right with God," was his last message to the unsaved. The bereaved family has the heartfelt sympathy and prayers of the community in their hour of sorrow.

He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife; six sons, Ben, John, Ed, Tom, Orvel and Robert, and two daughters, Miss Lena and Mrs. Frank Chery, and 13 grandchildren. They were all at his bedside.

He has three sisters—Mrs. John Cooper, Mrs. Chas. Yates, and Miss Alf Shirley, and five brothers, Louis, Charles, Ed, Walter and George Holland.

The out of town relatives present were Mrs. Alf Shirley, Ed and Geo. Holland, Burlington, Kan., and Mrs. J. J. Bill of Lincoln.

The funeral was held at the Methodist church in Weeping Water Sunday at 2 p. m., Oct. 28th, conducted by the pastor, C. I. Rose, assisted by Rev. T. D. Grover, pastor of the Menomonee church.

The music was furnished by Elva Boyle, Ethel Ratnour, R. L. Hoback and Herbert Ratnour.

The pallbearers were Alva Holson, Chas. Spohn, Geo. Spohn, Bert Reed, Tracy Lydell and Pete Spangler.—Weeping Water Republican.

HIGH TARIFF ON WHEAT IS URGED AT FARM PARLEY

Head of Grain Farmers, Associated, Will Seek Action from Congress and the President.

Denver, Nov. 1.—President Coolidge and congress will be urged to place a heavier tariff on wheat imported into the United States and to establish a government board or bureau with power to purchase and merchandise the exportable surplus, George C. Jewett, general manager of the American Wheat Growers' association, said.

The announcement followed a two-day conference between representatives of the wheat growers' organization and the Lowden committee, at which plans for centralizing the control of co-operative wheat marketing was discussed.

Mr. Jewett said his association would urge that the government bureau or board be given authority to sell the wheat in the world markets, and that any loss taken on the exportable surplus would be prorated back on the entire wheat crop.

The plan was originated and agreed upon in the executive meeting of the board of trustees of the Wheat Growers' association yesterday, Mr. Jewett said. He declared he would go to Washington early this month and lay the plan before the government.

A RASH PRANK

From Saturday's Daily.—A Hallowe'en prank that proved more or less costly to Melvin Sturm in the way of damages to his new Willys Knight touring car was pulled off while he was attending a party Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stone.

The incident as reported to the Enterprise was to the effect that four boys took the car and drove it to one or two of the neighboring towns. Melvin learned of the car being gone about 11:00 o'clock and he and a group of boys at the party started out to see if they could discover any clues as to the whereabouts of the car. The boys were still driving it around town and they were caught in front of the home of Chalmers Switzer where they abandoned the car and took to their heels.

Melvin says that the radiator was only partly filled with water and that the supply of oil was low and that the boys ran the car beyond the supply of both oil and water, which caused considerable damage to the mechanism.—Nehawka Enterprise.

HAS A VERY NEAT PLACE

From Saturday's Daily.—The Posey Chilton grocery, South Sixth street, which is being conducted by Mr. Chilton, is a very neat store and is kept clean and in perfect order. ## RECEIVERSHIP FOR K. K. K. IS REFUSED

Petition of Rittenhouse Turned Down by Georgia Judge—Also Declines to Injoin Expenditures.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 1.—Judge John H. Humphries today denied the petition of David M. Rittenhouse and others for the appointment of a receiver for the Ku Klux Klan. He also denied the petition for an injunction to prevent the distribution of Klan funds until the next Klonoconvation.

The petition for receivership was denied on the ground that the evidence did not justify the appointment of a receiver and the injunction, because "there as no immediate, positive, alleged act to be enjoined."

In instructing attorneys to draw up a formal order setting forth his decision, Judge Humphries said "it seemed to be an inside fight by about 300 members against 1,500,000 other members."

Attorneys for the Rittenhouse faction announced they would appeal to the supreme court.

CALLING ON OLD FRIENDS

Forty-five years ago E. Ratnour and James Rivitte were doing carpenter work in Weeping Water. Their shop stood about where Nick Paulson's blacksmith shop now stands.

Mr. Rivitte was here for a number of years and then went to Lincoln beginning work with the B. & M. R. R. He was superintendent of the building department for years.

Within the last year he was retired from the department on a pension.

Six months ago on Friday, October 26th, Mr. and Mrs. Rivitte left Lincoln for Montreal, Canada, and took passage from there to Scotland. They toured Europe for five months, having a delightful trip. Mr. Rivitte was born in England, and naturally they spent a good deal of time in that country.

Mr. Rivitt ran down to Weeping Water to spend a few hours with his old time friends.

He said he wanted to see E. Ratnour, Dave Jones and wife, Wm. Costman and wife, Wm. Dunn, Chas. Joyce, and was fortunate enough to see the most of them, and returned home in the afternoon, feeling his visit had been a delightful one. He took dinner with Mr. E. Ratnour and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ratnour.—Weeping Water.

ANCIENT LAW STILL WORKS AS OF YORE

Prof. H. C. Filley Shows Charts Covering Large Period of Years on Farm Products Marketed.

H. C. Filley, marketing expert at the college of agriculture, has prepared a series of charts that prove conclusively that the ancient law of supply and demand is the greatest and controlling factor in the fixing of the prices of the products of Nebraska farms. He presented these at the farm bureau meeting, and explained just what they showed.

He listed these as factors in the making of a price: Supply and demand, cost of production, market strategy, monopoly, money, credit cost of transportation, commercial costs, importations and miscellaneous. He explained how each of these operates and what effect it has on price.

Principal interest centered around his charts which covered the prices of potatoes, wheat, corn and oats. These prices covered a wide range of years, running back in some cases into the eighties. Only in exceptional instances does the price not represent the relative relations of supply and demand. World supply and demand and not the price at Liverpool absolutely control world prices, that at Liverpool being merely an accurate gauge.

In forty-two years the price of wheat has averaged $1.05 on the Chicago market in the first marketing month of July and $1.14 in the highest month of May. Contrary to the general notion that the dumping of the wheat the first two or three months by farmers who must have cash to pay debts, the price there has not been broken, but the difference of less than ten cents between high and low represents only cost of storage, interest and insurance. Corn ranges from 57 to 67 cents for a similar period, but the man who stores corn stands to lose about 10 per cent in weight.

Hogs showed much the same reaction to the working of the law of supply and demand. High prices stimulated production and high production brought low prices. Hog export had made possible the keeping up of prices the first nine months of the year.
