Celebrate 31st Anniversary

Without consulting the genial postmaster, Mrs. Hoback and Uncle Henry M. Pollard made preparation for the proper celebration of the birthday of Mr. Croxer Hoback, which occurred on last Friday. Mr. Hoback had intended to listen in on his radio to some jazz music, when he was disturbed by the arrival of some twenty-five of his gentlemen friends who arrived to help him celebrate the event in an appropriate manner. The evening was very pleasantly spent in listening to the radio and with games and social conversation. A magnificent feed was prepared by Mrs. Hoback, of whom the guests say there is no equal when it comes to culinary skill.

Had a Pie Social

The members of the Daughters of Rebekah, who are good cooks and do not forget it, held a pie social last week and they surely produced some excellent pies, which were eagerly sought by those of the order of the "Great American Pie Eaters" and in this some got a little more pie than was really intended on account of it being so good and some are not wanting pie for some time to come.

PREPARES HUSKERS FOR NEXT CONTEST

Work in Secret Behind Locked Gates in First Practice—Dawson Says Rockne Has Army.

Lincoln, Nov. 15.—Nebraska began its last week of preparation for Notre Dame behind locked gates, Monday evening.

When Head Coach Dawson ruled everybody out, there were no exceptions—sport writers, fans with written permission to attend secret practices and all the rest were excluded. Coach Dawson got back Monday from South Bend, where he saw Notre Dame measure Purdue, 34 to 7, Saturday.

"Rockne hasn't a football team. He has an army. He sent in six teams and they all looked sweet. But I still believe we can beat them," Coach Dawson said. To say that Coach Dawson was merely impressed by the showing of Notre Dame, judging by his demeanor when he began telling about them, would be like describing Niagara Falls as cute and the Grand Canyon as neat.

And a special dispatch from South Bend intimates that Coach Rockne was not at all pleased with the showing of the Irish against Purdue. He thinks he erred in permitting them to take things easy the week before the Purdue game.

Reading between the lines, it might be assumed that this week will be a fairly busy one for the Irish. And, realizing the gigantic task before the Cornhuskers, Coach Dawson will undoubtedly redouble his efforts to take things easy the week before the big test Saturday.

There is considerable talk about a wet field working to the advantage of the Huskers in that it might slow down the impeccable Irish. Be that as it may, if Captain Wellen can win the toss and the Huskers are able to stave off the visitors until they get to the Notre Dame players, like all others, are only human in spite of the paean of praise which has been sung for them, the length and breadth of the land, then will come that confidence which may surprise a great many of the so-called wiseacres.

The Saturday game is attracting one of the greatest crowds in the history of the grid sport on Nebraska. There are still tickets left, but judging from the rate they are going, there will be none left for sale Saturday.

Walter Eckersall of Chicago will referee the game with H. G. Hodges, Dartmouth umpire; B. L. McCreary, Oklahoma field judge; and Jay Wyatt, Missouri, head linesman.

VOTERS IN ALBERTA FAVOR LIQUOR SALE

Calgary, Nov. 5.—Defeat of prohibition in Alberta was certain tonight. Thirty per cent of the country polls by 9 o'clock had polled up a majority of nearly 8,000 for government control and sale of liquor and early returns from the cities showed a decided "wet."

Tabulation of returns from 834 polls out of 2,284 showed a 14,000 majority for government control and sale of liquors.

Sixty polls in Calgary showed the moderation clause leading by approximately 3,000. The moderation clause also led in Edmonton, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat on early returns.

The ballot on which voters expressed their views on liquor legislation contained four alternative propositions. The number of votes for each proposition, compiled from reports in the country districts follows:

- A—Continuance of existing prohibition legislation, 26,444.
- B—Sale of beer in licensed hotels and restaurants, 2,024.
- C—Sale of beer in the government vendors for consumption on private premises only, 1,505.
- D—Sale of liquors thru government vendors on the permit system; beer to be consumed on licensed premises, 40,803.

Listeners in on CFCN, the powerful Calgary radio station, last night received even more complete news of the election than contained in the foregoing press dispatch. At about midnight "The Voice from the Plains" stated that the majority polled in favor of the moderation or "wet" clause over the province, exceeded 30,000, with scattering precincts to hear from.

REPUBLIC OF GER-MANY FACES GENERAL BREAKDOWN

Ebert and Stresemann Appeal to Nation and Warn its Enemies—Have Faith in the People.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Armistice week finds the 5-year-old German republic in the throes of a nationwide political, economic and social crisis, the outcome of which may be determined through such minor factors as the rising or falling prices for bread, potatoes and coal. It may also terminate in the sudden proclamation of a national dictatorship, the demand for which is gaining perceptible momentum among all classes of the people, who apparently are willing to barter their present political liberties for even a hazy prospect of amelioration of their social condition. Germany tonight outwardly suggests a loosely federated pseudo-republic, without such elementary prerequisites as a national currency or a safely anchored constitutional government supported by a representative parliament.

Into this situation President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann tonight proceed to appeal to the nation in which they affirm their determination to defend the republic and its constitution against all attacks from within, and summon the citizens to come to their aid. In part the proclamation says:

"In this very serious time Germany is threatened with internal convulsions. Certain sections of the community, although numerically strong, are relying on the distress of the people to attempt to exercise illegal pressure on the government and to throw the torch of internecine warfare among the people."

"After declaring the government's determination to repel such attempts the proclamation continues: "The maintenance of the unity of the Reich and law and order in the interior are necessary prerequisites for overcoming the present distress resulting from unemployment, serious economic conditions and unparalleled political pressure."

In the way of warning the proclamation says:

"Those nations and leading persons who are aware of Germany's intolerable distress and who desire to help Germany should not despair of the German people. The German government possesses the necessary strength to deal with any push and protect the constitution of the Reich. "The Reichswehr and police, loyal to their oath, will do their duty. The government firmly believes that, if against its will it is forced to fight, the whole German people will stand behind it in defense of order and the freedom of the German Reich."

SAYS VETS' BUREAU SOLD NEEDED SUPPLIES BELOW COST

At Same Time Replacing Hospital Necessities with Inferior Goods at Full Market Price.

Washington, Nov. 5.—An amazing story of how millions of dollars' worth of hospital stores, badly needed for the treatment of disabled soldiers, were removed from the Parryville, Md., supply depot and sold for a small fraction of their value was related today before the senate committee investigating the veterans' bureau.

At the very time the bureau was selling these supplies at approximately 20 per cent of their invoice value, it was buying the same kind of goods at full market value. While it was shipping new bed sheets through one door of the depot to a Boston concern for approximately 16 cents each, it was bringing in through another, purchased from a New York company for $1.93 each, according to the testimony.

The detailed story of the transaction was told principally by N. B. Hendrix, chief storekeeper of Parryville. The decision to sell part of the Parryville stores as surplus was made by the bureau planning board on November 10, 1922. Within a week the contract for the sale had been let to the Thompson-Kelly Co., of Boston, and the goods were beginning to move out of the depot.

Some idea of the magnitude of the deal was furnished by the statement that 150 freight carloads of sheets, towels, blankets, gauze and other materials were hauled away.

Lieutenant Charles R. O'Leary, chief of the bureau supply division during the transaction, insisted that the sheets were "reclaimed" and were unfit for use in veterans' hospitals. He also questioned the accuracy of statements that the bureau was buying sheets at the same time it was selling them.

Thereupon General O'Ryan produced documents to show that while the sale was being made the bureau bought thousands of sheets for the Parryville depot and called Hendrix, the storekeeper, to the stand to testify that the sheets sold, with few exceptions, were new and unused.

Among the goods sold to the Thompson-Kelly company, Hendrix testified, were 98,995 suits of winter pajamas, made by Red Cross workers throughout the country. These were of unusually fine quality, it was stated, and yet they brought the government only 30 cents per suit.

Winter pajamas are now badly needed by the bureau. The public health service protested vigorously against the sale of some of the stores, according to Hendrix, but their protest went unheeded.

ANOTHER FLOOD LOSS

Among those who lost their possessions in the flood, we find Jesse McGrew of Valley. He had loaned his Ford to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Leard to come down to attend the funeral of Mrs. Leard's mother, Mrs. Susie McCarver, who died the day before the flood from burns received the same days. This car was swept away by the rushing waters, but it was later found in such a bad condition that it is doubtful if it can be put in good running order again. Mr. and Mrs. Leard and their two little sons were drowned, but their bodies were recovered the next day.—Louisville Courier.

CANADA HOPES TO AID 500,000 BRITISH 'VETS'

Maj. J. E. Speranza of Imperial Veterans Association Plans to Give Land to 500,000 Britons.

Montreal, Quebec, Nov. 5.—Comprehensive plans to bring to Canada, and place on the land, 500,000 selected ex-service men of Great Britain are being put before the Canadian government by Maj. J. E. Speranza of the Imperial Veterans' association, who has been making a tour of the dominion with a view to ascertaining the possibilities for settlement.

To carry out successfully the scheme which he has in mind the co-operation of the British and Canadian governments would be required. The former would have to bear the transportation expenses of the men after they had been passed upon by a competent committee of selection, he said.

The dominion government, as their share of the burden would assume the responsibility of establishing the men after they got here and carrying on among the newcomers the same efficient work that has been accomplished by the soldier settlement board in placing Canadian veterans on the land.

What is really needed in Canada is a national immigration policy, Maj. Speranza asserted.

The British immigrant who comes to Canadian shores is bewildered by the rival claims of the different provinces, he said. He is told by one group that Alberta is the best of the provinces; by another he is assured that his success as a homesteader in Saskatchewan is certain. The provincial agents in the old country, in their anxiety to secure more citizens, are each busy inducing settlers to come to their own section of the dominion; regardless of their ability to meet the difficulties of pioneering life in some districts.

They are responsible for the crushing disillusionment which follows the discovery that the bright and rosy picture, which led the immigrant to his home, is a mere mirage and throw in his lot with citizens of another country, was not a reflection of actual conditions. This policy is all wrong, in the major's opinion.

SOUDER FIGHTS THE SPECIAL ATTORNEY

Objects to Shuman Handling Prosecution Against Him for Misuse of County Funds.

North Platte, Neb., Nov. 6.—Arguments for and against the employment of William E. Shuman as special prosecutor for the state in the case against Samuel M. Souder, former county treasurer, who is under indictment on nearly one hundred and fifty charges in connection with the alleged misuse of county funds, will be aired before Judge John L. Tewell in district court Wednesday.

Attorneys for Souder, in his objections, charge that Shuman has represented the county in civil matters out of which criminal charges have resulted and that he is biased and prejudiced. They say that he has made defamatory statements against Souder and that he would not be fair. Shuman has announced that he will show that he has no personal relations in the matter and that Mr. Souder and he always have been close friends.

Arguments on the plea in abatement, demurrer, continuance and change of venue will be presented as soon as the Shuman motion is disposed of. Attorneys for the prosecution indicated Tuesday night that arguments on all these motions may be concluded by Wednesday night. If such is the case, lawyers will have nearly a week before starting the work of selecting jurors. The prospective jurors called, were excused until next Tuesday morning by the court.

Testimony of witnesses and presentation of evidence in the Souder forgery case may be started next Wednesday.

WALTON TAKES CASE TO FEDERAL COURTS

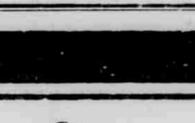

Governor of Oklahoma Trying to Invoke Government Intervention to Prevent His Removal.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 6.—Governor Walton took his case to the federal courts today in an effort to invoke government intervention in the series of tangled events which has marked the political life of Oklahoma for the last several months. The outcome of the action is expected to depend on the question of whether the impeachment proceedings against the executive will be disposed of in the near future, or whether they will drag thru the slow processes of law to a final decision by the United States supreme court. If the latter condition obtains, observers say tonight, many unexpected complications in the situation may come that would be unprecedented.

The governor sprang his latest spectacular move by applying in United States district court at Lawton for a writ of supersedeas charging that the state legislature participated in a conspiracy with the Ku Klux Klan to remove him from office. Hearing on the action was set for tomorrow afternoon after Judge Cotterall had refused to consider the action in order to permit proper notification of all parties.

The petition asks the court to hear the executive's charges that he is unable to obtain a fair trial before the court of senate impeachment and if his charges are sustained to issue a permanent injunction against the legislature preventing it from proceeding with his trial.
