INSTALLING SAVINGS SYSTEM IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

Children to be Taught Thrift in the Schools For Their Financial Welfare in the Future.

From Wednesday's Daily— The Plattsmouth public schools in starting a thrift campaign are adding an important and practical aid to the education of the young people in the schools, in the teaching of the principles of saving which will prove of lasting benefit to the young people of the community in after years.

The board of education decided last August that it would have this system of savings by means of saving bank accounts placed in the school as a practical system of teaching the thrift habit to the youngsters and yesterday Mr. L. F. Polk arrived here to take personal supervision of the installing of the system. The children are given regulation pass books in which are entered their deposits as made at the weekly collection of funds at the school room, the teachers in each room making the entries of the deposits in the books and receiving the funds for deposits in the bank which are placed in envelopes bearing the name of the child making the deposit and in turn these are placed in the bank where the money is credited on the savings account of the youngster and at once starts in earning the interest for the depositor.

In this city the Plattsmouth State bank has been designated as the place of deposit of the savings account and Mr. D. C. Morgan of the bank force has been placed in charge of this section of the bank's work and will have the handling of the accounts. In this state the depositors have the added advantage of the depositors' guaranty fund and will receive on their deposits four per cent interest. Mr. Frank A. Clويد, cashier of the bank, stated to the Journal. Three schools so far have been organized with the system and in the grade schools the teachers will have supervision of the banking department but in the high school the students themselves will handle the matter of collecting the deposits and crediting them on the envelopes to be turned over to the bank. In the senior and junior classes there will be one cashier each and in the sophomore and freshmen two each.

COOLIDGE LAUDS SALVATION ARMY

Tells Delegates Its Work Shows No One Beyond Redemption—Is Booster for Cause.

Washington, Nov. 5th.—Greeting delegates to the 38th anniversary congress of the Salvation Army, President Coolidge declared in a talk from the south portico of the White House today that the success of the army had demonstrated the folly of those who believe "that men and women are all wrong." "I am deeply and sincerely interested in the work that you are doing, in what you represent, and in the hope that you hold out to humanity," the president said. "It is very easy to be discouraged; it is very easy to think that men and women are all wrong, that there is no disposition on their part to pursue the right course and do the right thing. "Your success demonstrates beyond anything else that such is not the case. I think it is a leading principle of that which you represent, that none has become so degraded, so lost to the better things of life and to the inspiration that comes from implanting in their hearts a knowledge of the better things, as to suppose that they are beyond redemption. "You are bringing the world to better things. You are holding out a great hope; demonstrating that there is in all of us, from the highest to the lowest, a hope that is never crushed out, a spirit that abides forever."

ANOTHER OLD PIONEER ANSWERS FINAL SUMMONS

Eric Fosberg, Age 83, Passes Away at Home of Daughter in Sarp County.

Another of the early pioneers of this vicinity answered the call of death last Sunday, October 28, 1933, when Eric Fosberg passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lute Sinnard in Sarp county after a short illness due to the infirmities of old age. Mr. Fosberg's wife preceded him in death in the year 1915, since which time he has lived with his children, mostly with his daughter, where he was given the best of care and attention up to the time of his passing.

He was a native of Sweden, but came to this country in the year of 1880. He followed the sea for many years and led a very adventurous life and his experiences would fill a volume were they written up and the old gentleman delighted to relate them to his grandchildren and his friends. He took up a homestead in Sarp county afterwards and was content to settle down to a rural life in his later years.

He was born May 12, 1840, and at the time of his death he was 83 years, 5 months and 16 days old. His funeral occurred from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sinnard on Tuesday afternoon and interment was in the Bell cemetery, where he was laid to rest in the family lot beside his wife. The services were conducted by Rev. R. J. Myers, pastor of the M. E. church at Louisville. Mr. Fosberg leaves the one daughter, Mrs. Sinnard, and two sons. They are Charles, the elder, at Louisville, and Manley, of Bayard, Nebraska. Ten grandchildren survive him.—Louisville Courier.

SHOPPERS IN CONFERENCE LAST WEEK

Burlington Pay Schedules are up for Revision—Readjustments Are Under Consideration.

Mechanical department officials and representatives of shop workers on the Burlington system spent a part of last week in Chicago and considered schedules of the workmen. It is understood the conference will be continued for some time, but that conditions are such that no trouble will follow. Readjustment of schedules hastily made after the strike of 1922 is necessary and it is understood that some changes in the rates of pay will be made, the revision of pay schedules like most other revisions being upward. Just what this change will be no one forecasts now, but it is said the readjustment will come about amicably and that relations between the mechanical department association and the railroad are pleasant. Reports from Burlington shops are that working conditions were never better for the company and that the workers are satisfied and not inclined to cause trouble. The shops are turning out more work and the workers are making better pay than they made before the strike if individual averages are considered. This statement about the amount of pay comes from a shop worker and not from a railroad official.—Lincoln State Journal.
