

MANY ATTRACTIVE WINDOW DISPLAYS FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Committee Selected by American Legion Visits Stores and Awards Prizes Offered.

From Wednesday's Daily—The business houses of the city this year placed some very handsomely decorated windows in their stores in honor of Armistice day which certainly reflected the greatest credit upon the city and on the progressive business men of the community and from the various windows seen the spirit of the day was brought forth in the most striking manner.

The Legion selected a committee to give the awards of the two prizes, $5 for the first prize window and $3 for the second prize and as the committee the Legion requested a number of the disinterested residents of the community to make the inspection and give out the rewards and yesterday afternoon Father W. S. Leete, Mrs. John F. Gorder, Mrs. A. H. Duxbury, Rev. H. G. McClusky and Hon. R. B. Windham made their inspection and awarded the first prize to the window of Weyrich & Hatraba, representing the hall of fame of the nation's honored service men, and the second prize to the Bates Book and Stationery store which represented "Flander's Field."

There were many other windows that were given honorable mention as works of art, including Bestor & Swatek, with a soldier just from the trenches, the Mautz Drug Co., with a collection of trophies of the war, the Thierolf clothing store with a window filled with memories of the day and especially to the one who were here when the home folks celebrated the coming of peace, the C. E. Wescott's Sons clothing store with its window of well arranged decorations of the day, the Popular Variety store, the H. M. Soemnichsen store, B. A. McElwain, the Journal, the Palace Shining Parlor, and a number of the other stores that had brightened their windows with emblems of the day.

HAWKEYE BEAUTY AWAKENS KINDNESS IN CHIEF'S HEART

Two of our young ladies who are strong for horseback traveling, took a jaunt Sunday and crossed the Missouri into our sister town of Plattsmouth. The streets of that city evidently excited the steeds the young ladies were riding and the result was that they sped up to such an extent as to arouse the notice of the chief of police. While the young ladies were exceeding the speed limits, they were not speedy enough to escape the slyver of the chief. Then came an interview that was for a time ominous, but the kind hearted officer and his susceptibility to Iowa beauty caused him to relent and the young ladies returned home hoping no one would learn of the incident.—Glenwood Tribune.

PLUMBERS GIVE TESTIMONY IN THE HEATING CASE

Salesman is Witness in Case of Pomerene vs. Plattsmouth School District Number 1.

Walter M. Manning of Columbus, salesman for a Kansas City plumbing and heating supply house, was the first witness Tuesday in the second trial of the case of Pomerene vs. Plattsmouth school district No. 1. He told of inspecting the heating plant installed by Louis W. Pomerene, at the request of the architects, and finding it according to specifications, except that more radiators had been installed than were called for.

It took two hours to start circulation, he said, partly because the boiler was too small and partly because the janitor had removed the float from the leader trap, so it was impossible to create a vacuum and get the air out of the radiators. The architects objected to his report, he said, and he destroyed it, after saying he wanted nothing more to do with the job.

A. J. Weyant, who had worked for Mr. Pomerene fifteen years, but not when the Plattsmouth job was done, in 1917 and 1918, told of accompanying Mr. Manning and G. A. Berlinghof, architect, on an inspection of the job, and finding everything according to specifications except the boiler. Percy L. Crouse of Bethany, who installed the system for Pomerene, except the boiler, said he tested the operation on a warm day, and the radiators heated, although there was no boiler pressure.—Lincoln State Journal.

In the first trial of this case the city of Plattsmouth secured a verdict against the company that had installed the heating plant in the new high school but the defendants appealed the case to the federal circuit court of appeals where it was sent back for retrial.

LEGION CARNIVAL OPENS WITH VERY PLEASING CROWD

Fully 600 Paid Admission Saturday Night—Eaton and Nesbit, of Omaha, Here Tonight.

From Monday's Daily—The American Legion's indoor Victory carnival opened Saturday night, with a very pleasing attendance considering that business men and their employees were tied-down at their places of business looking after the unusually heavy volume of trade, and could not be present.

The holding of the carnival in the former roller rink building has permitted of ample room, which was greatly needed at the former Legion carnival three years ago.

The entertainment feature Saturday night was Lucien Laibe, Union's boy singer, who was repeatedly encored in his rendition of the popular songs of the day, and ended only when he rendered the great favorite, "Yes, We Have No Bananas."

Tonight the special entertainment will be provided by Joe Eaton, Omaha ball player, and Travis Nesbit, pianist, who has earned his title to the "King of Jazz" sobriquet. They are known far and near for their splendid radio entertainments in the past, and will be here tonight in person to "do their stuff." Their offering should be worth several times the dime admission charged to the carnival.

In addition tonight will also be Business Men's night, and it is hoped to have a large and representative gathering of the business men of the city present to enjoy the revelry of the occasion.

Some added attractions at the Country Store will assure every winner receiving more than his money's worth. There are many big prizes there to be drawn, it so happening that some of the big articles were copied last evening night, and to compensate for this the boys will have some added attractions at this juvenile Monte Carlo.

Another of the worth-while attractions is the luncheon service supplied by the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary. They have a special dining room set up and many there were who dropped in Saturday night for a cup of coffee and a bite to eat. A large radio receiving set has been installed in this room and the patrons may listen in on music from the far points of the earth, as they enjoy their meals.

The doors will open at 7 tonight, and in view of this being a legal holiday, it is expected one of the largest crowds of the four days will be present.

MAKE ATTEMPT TO ENTER WURL STORE

Officer Frank Detlef Finds Window Raised in Rear of Store at an Early Hour Today.

From Wednesday's Daily—The tour of Officer Frank Detlef thru the alleys in the business district early this morning evidently disturbed some party or parties that were endeavoring to force an entrance into the E. A. Wurl store.

Mr. Detlef had been thru the alley about 1 o'clock and at that time there was apparently nothing out of the way in the appearance of the rear portion of the store but later near 2 o'clock when the officer again made a trip through the alley he was rather startled to find that the screen on one of the rear windows had been out and the window raised. Mr. Detlef made a search of the locality but found no one lurking there and also called Mr. E. A. Wurl, the owner of the store, to the scene to look over the supposed burglary. The two gentlemen made an inspection of the interior of the store and found nothing to indicate that there had been burglars in the building. The place where the window was found open is used as a lavatory and was locked with a heavy door closing it out from the main part of the store and this probably prevented the parties from gaining entrance to the store itself or they were frightened away by the approach of Mr. Detlef before they had accomplished entrance to the building.

MINISTERS PLEAD FOR WORLD PEACE

Churches of the City Have Services in Keeping With the Spirit of Armistice Day.

The pulpits of the city yesterday rang with a plea for world peace and the fulfillment of the message of Armistice day that it should mark the end of war and civilization progress on after shaking off the terror and suffering of war and nations as well as individuals learn the lessons of sacrifice and service in the causes of peace as they had in the time of war. At each of the churches there were special services that marked this line of thought and the pleas were made for the better appreciation of the brotherhood of man.

At the First Presbyterian church, Rev. H. G. McClusky had a very inspiring sermon devoted to peace in which he paid tribute to the sacrifices of the American soldiers and sailors in subduing the spirit of militarism rampant in the old world at the time that our country had entered the conflict and the spirit which was expressed by the returning soldiers that this be the last war of the world and that from the conflict would arise an appreciation of the necessity for world peace.

The message of the day was given by Rev. Frank Emory Pfoutz at the First Methodist church in a very able discourse on the need for peace and a better understanding among the nations. At the Epworth League hour in the evening Attorney A. H. Duxbury gave a very pleasing talk on "The New World Citizenship."

At the St. Luke's Episcopal church the members of the congregation were given two very fine addresses, the first by District Judge James T. Begley, who, in his remarks, covered the sacrifices that American citizenship had made to bring peace to the world and the need for the unity of nations in outlawing war on this earth. The rector of the church, Father W. S. Leete, gave a very strong sermon on "Heavenly Citizenship" in which he urged proper living of mankind in order that they might be prepared to enter on the life in the kingdom of heaven as worthy citizens.

The Christian church services were also in keeping with the message of peace and at both the Sunday school and morning worship hour there were large attendances. The sermon of Rev. Walter R. Robb was very inspiring and devoted to the need of world peace.

Abandonment of Forts on Rio Grande River Also Urged by Methodist Church Heads at N. Y.

New York, Nov. 13.—American recognition of the existing regime in Russia and abandonment by this country of the line of fortresses which separate it from Mexico was advocated in Brooklyn today by two members of the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church here to attend the semi-annual conference of the board.

Although sessions of the board were held behind closed doors, Bishop Nuelson, who made a lengthy study of conditions in Russia prior to coming here, made it plain to newspaper men that he favored the recognition of the Russian soviet government by the United States.

HALE AND HEARTY AT 87

From Wednesday's Daily—There are few persons who, seeing our old friends, Jesse R. McVey, would surmise that he is now going on the eighty-eighth lap of his life's journey but such is the case as Uncle Jesse, as he is so well known, celebrated on Saturday the passing of his eighty-seventh anniversary. Mr. McVey was born in Shelby county, Ohio, and grew to manhood there and from that state entered the Union army and served during the Civil war at the close of which, as did many of his veteran comrades, he turned westward and in 1872 came to Cass county, Nebraska, where he has since made his home and has been one of the well known and active farmers of this section and is now enjoying his declining years in a well deserved rest among the old time friends.
